PREFACE

When people talk about what age they accepted Jesus as their personal savior, I could never tell anyone my salvation experience. I always seemed to know who Jesus and God were. I remember at about age four or five having Jesus appear to me. Being prone to motion sickness, I was laying in backseat of car as we drove to town. Looking out the window at the sky, Jesus appeared in the clouds, stared at me for a moment, then disappeared. Telling my family members in the car what I had just seen, they just dismissed it as a child's imagination, but sixty years later, I still vividly remember the vision and exact location of the event. Otherwise, my youthful years were uneventful.

My parents were divorced when I was a baby, so I never remember them living together, but spent my school year with mom and summer break with dad. Born into an inter-denominational family, it was Catholicism during school year with mom and Baptist church in summer with dad. At age fifteen, I went to live with my dad and step mom and three half sisters in a small town where my dad had grown up -Luling, Texas. I always considered Luling my home even though spending the first fifteen years of my life growing up in Houston and San Antonio, Texas. I considered myself a country boy. My dad's mom, bachelor brother, Aunt Ann and Uncle Mel, and grandma also lived in town. It was easy to bounce around from one relative to the next for the best meal- all within walking distance. Camping and fishing and hunting were my fondest memories growing up. My dad being a hardcore fisherman, we spent most summers camping on local rivers-sometimes two and three weeks at a time. However, the time of my youth soon ended as I went off to college, got married, and started a family.

My wife and I started attending her parents' church, Presbyterian as my wife becoming a Catholic as required by my church did not seem appropriate. Later we joined the Baptist church, receiving water immersion baptism. Both of our previous baptisms were by sprinkling- the Catholic and Presbyterian method. So, we covered all the bases. In the following years, we attended many different denominations- Methodist, non-denominational, Bible churches- finally settling on evangelical churches for next ten years. Neither of us ever seemed to be fulfilled in any church. Over the years we attended some of the largest and fastest growing churches in America. To name a few- Church on the Rock in Rockwall, Texas, Benny Hinn's church in Florida, and John Hagee's Cornerstone in San Antonio. Still we felt something was missing.

It was the small-town church in Conroe, Texas that I received the baptism in the Holy Spirit. This church was very low key, not pushing the gifts of the Holy spirit. One day during a weekly morning prayer group meeting, I was praying along with the pastor and a small group of about six. My memory was the pastor was praying for putting on the full armor of God. Suddenly, I felt like an electrical charge had entered the top of my head preceding down through my body which shook me to my core! I began speaking in tongues beginning a new experience in my walk with my Lord Jesus. After this experience, I really started to grow in my faith.

With a job transfer, we moved to Virginia and attended a Church of Christ, choosing this church because it had a 1- 12 grade school. It was important that our two daughters attend a Christian school. Our whole family became very active in the church. (If the doors were open- we were there.) My wife played saxophone in band and my daughters were involved in many of the plays performed by the church for the local community. I was president of the Parent Teachers Association. For the next three years, everything seemed fine but the church, like many others we had attended, started to decline with financial problems and division. The church decline was primarily brought on by poor decisions by pastor to build a new church building. (It was much to large and expensive for our rural church membership to financially manage.)

My job again required me to move back to Texas where we attended John Hagee's Cornerstone Church in San Antonio. Needless to say my experiences in different churches was vast. It was about this time, that my life started to fall apart. Some would call it a midlife crisis since I was now in my forties, but it was really a spiritual crisis- " for we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places." Ephesians 6:12. The best I can explain was it was intense demonic oppression trying to prevent me fulfilling my God appointed task. I had written a book about what I felt was wrong with the church. However, I ended up throwing the book away. Now I look back and see it was not time for such an undertaking- but the seed had been planted. Thus began a fifteen year journey into the wilderness, culminating in me forsaking my Christian roots. I fell away from God, got divorced, and lived a sin filled life.

After fifteen years wandering in the wilderness, I started to return to God. My quest began as to the cause for me loosing my way. Looking back, all my religious experiences had not prepared me to deal with life and sin as a Christian. Thinking back, it brought me to ask how many other Christians were leading an unfulfilled life. They are wandering in the wilderness just going through the motions of life and spiritual teachings. On the outside, they say all the right biblical platitudes, performing their Christian duties, but deep inside their questioning their lives. They are saying, there must be more to a victorious life in Christ that the Bible promises. At worst, Christians become complacent-satisfied with the milk of the scriptures- but not moving onto the meat. They stop growing because they see no power (miracles) in their lives and the world.

Having always been an avid student of prophecy and a nerd of trivial facts, people would compare me to Cliff on T.V. show Cheers. (Remember the guy who sat at the bar and always had some trivial fact to give on any subject)- that was me. I began to ask the question, what was out of order in my life? Then the answer hit me that I did not know how to be Christ centered with a personal relationship with my savior. Questions I always had started to become clear. Questions like, What is meant in Ephesians 6:18, "Praying always with all prayers and supplication in the Spirit...." (Matt 22:37), "Thou shall love the Lord thy God with all your heart and with all they soul, and with all thy mind". Implying how do I love God more than my children? (Matt. 5:44) "But I say unto you, love your enemies, bless them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you."

I intensively began studying contemporary books and articles written by noted authors on Christian life, but more than this, my studies included economics, politics, world history, and current events then relating to biblical prophecy. Soon a clearer picture began to weld up in me. My past life experiences allowed me to see a great failure in America, especially in its churches. My spirit began to move me toward my purpose in life as promised by God that we each have a goal to achieve. Each of us was known before we were even formed in our other mother's womb with our purpose preordained by God. I knew God would use all my trials, failures, and sins as a learning experience. As gold refined in fire to remove the impurities, my life was ready to begin the journey that I was created.

My initial reaction was like Moses, finding excuses why it was impossible to do His will. Get someone else better qualified was my response. Doubt and fear plagued me. What if I failed, or worst, I was not really in His will. By this time I had retired and moved back to my hometown. Six months after my move home, I decided to attend a church near where I lived, really not knowing its ideology or denomination. Honestly the first time I attended, my apprehension had me praying the whole service as to whether I should attend this church.. My fear was it would be another failed religious experience. However, I found the people and pastor warm and inviting. I decided after fifteen years of almost no church attendance, it was time for Christian fellowship. After all, the Bible instructs us not to forsake gathering of the brethren.

After a few months, the extent of my involvement was primarily working in the food bank which the church primarily ran for the town. Then I started thinking about quitting the church after the pastor made statements which I totally did not agree with. God had other plans for me and leaving the church was not in His itinerary. It was during a Wednesday night service, that a guest speaker was invited to give the sermon. His name was Dr. Bobby Hill, founder and international director of Vanguard Ministries. He acts as a mentor or father to develop church pastors and leadership here and abroad. I must admit he was unknown to me. After church I had to use the Internet to learn about him. As he completed his sermon, Dr Hill asked me to come to the podium. Needless to say I was apprehensive. He began saying to me,

“God has given me a word for you, he began, “The Lord has begun to show you walking in fullness of His power....Keep your eyes on Me. Go to scriptures daily. The best is still to come. I will build you up. You are a new person and all is new. I will prove my faithfulness to you. Trust in Me...I will use you in remarkable ways. I [Dr. Hill] see bank vaults of heaven opening to you as distribution point of these provisions.”

For the next few weeks, I contemplated Dr. Hill's words. I already basically knew what God was requiring of me, but I was racked with doubt. The Bible says God will confirm His word through another witness. A few weeks later another pastor Scott Windrum was visiting the church and gave the Wednesday night sermon. Again I did not know him, but like Dr. Hill, he gave words of encouragement to a few people. Then he walked down the aisle and stopped in front of me. He began by saying God had a word for me. Windrum began saying,

“God has called you by His own grace and glory. Your purpose has yet to be totally fulfilled. Because what God put in your heart was not something you dreamed up on your own, but was from the Holy Spirit. Your significance is not from you but what I have made you to be. I have given you grace to go forward and to do and no dream is too big to see fulfilled. You are at the perfect place, age, and time to rise up, even as Caleb said to Joshua, “give me my mountain.” I see people have died off, but it is still your mountain for you to go forward with all you have in you. Put your hand to the plow and don’t give up like (King) David did not give up. Do it with all your might and I will be with you and help you and you will be amazed, you will have your youth renewed like the eagle. You will be able to do things you haven’t been able to do for years because you are in the will of God. You are a blessing. You are a blessing! You will have finances to do what you need to do. Other people will release it when you start to move because you can not do what you need to do by yourself. You don’t have all that, but people will start releasing it when you start doing what you need to do because you are not afraid. You’re a good man.”

Thus this book is my best attempt, with the Holy Spirit’s guidance and God’s promise, to reveal what He has put on my heart.

INTRODUCTION

AMERICA AND CHURCH MUST WAKE UP

Time is running out for this great nation of the United States. Our country is at a biblical Jonah moment. As Jonah was sent by God to warn Nineveh of its impending judgment, many "watchmen on the wall" are warning America. However, few Americans are even remotely aware that our nation is nearing judgment. Like the Roman Empire, our citizens have become "fat and lazy" in our abundance and materialism, Roman Marcus Cicero probably explained it most eloquently with these words:

"Do not blame Caesar, blame the people of Rome who have rejoiced in their loss of freedom who hail him when he speaks in the Forum of more security, more living fatty at the expense of the industrious."

Our forefathers were smart enough to counter this ignorance with words like these spoken by Samuel Adams:

"If we love wealth greater than liberty, the tranquility of servitude greater than the animating contest for freedom, go home from us in peace. We seek not your counsel, nor your arms. Crouch down and lick the hand that feeds you. May your chains set lightly upon you, and may posterity forget that ye were our countrymen."

If we as a nation are honest with ourselves, our future looks bleak. Are we able to look our children in the eye and promise them a future better or even equal to our own? I think not and why? College graduates cannot find good paying jobs because our leaders choose to send them overseas for cheap labor. These graduates must try to pay back over $1 trillion in student loans on low paying service jobs. More working Americans are receiving government payments than are working. The unemployment rate is not the low figure the government regurgitates through its corporate mainstream media- but is 23% to 25%. The national debt including unfunded liabilities is over $200 trillion. Rather than bog down this introduction in troubling facts, let it just suffice to say, "May God have mercy on our children and grandchildren."

So, how did the country get to this critical point in history? I will list and expound the problems and causes. I want to take this opportunity at this time to say it is not my goal to make you feel better. If remaining in a real world where everything is coming up roses, then return to watching your favorite sitcoms or sports program. If you're an average Christian, just go to your seeker friendly church where the pastor is more than glad to tickle your ears with soothing words. He will tell you everything is fine, your living in the best time in history; God just wants to bless you and make you comfortable, God will never judge America because it is an exceptional country.

Now, those of us living, in reality, know:

1. Our corporate, political, social, and economic institutions are corrupt and run by psychopathic godless criminals.

2. Mainstream media is a propaganda arm of the U.S. government and used by our criminal elite to misinform and brainwash the population. Truth is hard to find when everything is a lie and a cover-up.

3. We are one of the poorest industrial nations per capital because of the extreme disparity in wealth distribution. The middle class is being wiped out. Inflation-adjusted wages have been declining for at least the last three decades. Home ownership is at a 50 year low, and pensions are soon to be non-existent. The U.S. is rapidly becoming a third world country. Hundreds of trillions are stolen by the corporate, political, and banking-wall street criminals. [Note: recently the news has revealed $21 trillion is missing and unaccountable over the last 20 years.] The important points to consider are:

1. The U.S. is, in reality, a corporation. Deed and Company is an arm of the bankers who own all the mortgages, homes, car titles, and land deeds as collateral for our national debts. (In fact, the IRS is a corporation.)

2. The educational system has been taken over now by leftist/socialists/ communists, all controlled by the Illuminati banking and corporate cabal.

3. The U.S. has the most massive debt in the history of the world.

4. Our forefathers names are disparaged and their history removed. Our culture is decimated by immigration (legal and illegal).

5. We're slowly being killed by the Luciferian worshiping elitists who are using GMOs (genetically modified foods), geoengineering of our skies and biosphere, vaccines, various microwave technologies, directed energy weapons, and radio wave technologies on us.

6. America by plan is no longer a Christian nation as established by our ancestors, while Christianity is removed from our government, schools, public arena, and media- except when it is ridiculing Christians.

7. We're invaded by rogue elements seeking our destruction. One of the primary invaders is the Islamic death cult.

8. American churches, for the most part, are inept and powerless- populated by pastors seeking to protect their business of religion.

9. Most Christians no longer believe the word of God is Holy Spirit inspired but rather was written by fallible men. (Just a thought, if this were the case, then how can it be determined what is real and what is only man's opinion? The Bible, in this case, should just be another book- probably listed as fiction.)

10. American Christians are under a delusion. " because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie: That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness."
11. We all live in a spy nation with no privacy or secrets that are not available to the government and corporate entities.
12. Prophecy is no longer taught or considered relevant in most churches.
13. Secrets (hidden technologies, ancient civilizations, the truth of past and present giants in the world, and many more revelations are withheld from the public.
14. The U.S. is bankrupt and soon to default.
15. Globalists and international bankers are rapidly orchestrating World War III.
16. Governments can control populations minds (even read thoughts) through new technologies. (MK-ultra is one method)
17. There is a plan to reduce U.S. population and world by 95%. (Google 'Georgia guide stone'). It lays out the goal of reducing the people of earth to 500 million- thus eliminating 6.5 billion people.
18. A goal is being pushed to establish one world government, religion, and economic system. (This purpose plays directly into the beast system prophesied in Book of Revelations to occur in the end-times. This system will allow the rise and control of the world by a world dictator- the Antichrist.)

This list is far from exhaustive; however, this book will elaborate on most of these points. The intent is to awaken the populace. Let me now take the time to express my mindset. First, as you have surmised, I am a born-again Christian. I will not apologize or backtrack in my belief that GOD DOES EXIST! He sent his Son Jesus to make the ultimate sacrifice. Anyone believing in his heart that Jesus died, was buried, and rose from the dead, will be saved. The Bible makes it clear that ... Salvation is found in no one else, for there is not another name under heaven given to mankind by which we must be saved."

Time could be fast expiring before the seven-year tribulation period spoken of in the Book of Revelation shall begin. There is no longer time for political correctness or to worry about hurt feelings, if America is to be saved. My goal is to enlighten, educate, and maybe scare enough readers into turning off the T.V. and stop playing video games to research of what I speak. Before the words "fear mongering" begins to be thrown around, sometimes it is necessary to get someone's attention first, then they may listen. God's greatest sign of love is often to send omens and signs- even judgment- to arouse people from their slumber. Even in Jesus' time the people, but more importantly the elite and learned men, could not see the truth that the Messiah they were waiting to arrive, was standing in front of them. It says, "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge..." (Hosea 4:16)

This book was kept short, to be an easy read. The purpose is to allow any reader to get a quick synopsis of the primary points and to use the references listed at the end of this book to research and prove the frightening reality our nation faces. My deepest desire is that those reading this book will have their eyes and ears opened to see the truth. Thus they will understand what is coming to America and in reality, the world, and will be able to be saved and protected from what is happening.

"For God did not give us a spirit of fear, but of power and Love and with a sound mind." 2 Timothy 1:7.

CHAPTER I

PROPHECY OF OUR TIMES

I wrestled over how to start this book. After much pondering and prayer, I believe prophecy is a good starting point. Prophecy addresses every issue affecting our lives. It is vital in answering many of our questions. Mike Bennett in Life Hope and Truth says, "...part of the mission God gives His people involves getting a message out to the world. That message is of warning, a call to repentance and of hope and good news." Bennett gives an example of Jonah and the whale who was given instructions by God to go to Nineveh, a great city of the Assyria Empire. In Jonah 1:2 God told Jonah, "Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry out against it, for their wickedness has come up to Me." Since God is righteousness and holy and just, He judges the wicked, but first He warns. God is not willing that any should perish, but all come to repentance."

In these times we live, God's people need encouragement and prophecies are often used to warn, to save humankind from sin and death- not to seek revenge or angry retribution. God only wants men to return to Him and know His love. Most churches in American give little or no time to discussing prophecy. The reasons for the avoidance are many. Dr. John Ankerberg, a well known Christian television figure, says, "...many feel it is too complicated, and pastors do not want to split congregations or make anyone feel uneasy. Since 27% of Bible (according to Ankerberg) is prophecy and half have already come true- meaning half have not been fulfilled."

Prophecy can also be used to show God's existence since only He knows the end from the beginning. "Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none like me. Declaring the end from the beginning and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure." (Isaiah 46: 9- 10). Furthermore, it says in Mark 13:23, "But take ye heed: I have told you everything ahead of time." So likewise ye, when you see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand." (Luke 21:31).

Jesus further said, "I am telling you now before it comes, that when it is come to pass, ye may believe I am He [Messiah] John 13:19. So prophetic statements in the Bible according to Ankerberg are:

1. To prove God exists.
2. To prove Jesus is God.
3. To warn those who are without Christ.
4. To comfort those who have believed in Christ.

The comfort to believers spoken of in prophecy is found in Rev. 3:10. "...because you have obeyed my command to endure; I will keep you safe during the time of testing which is coming to the whole world to test those living on earth..."

With all the reasons to study prophecy, a strange condition exists at present, the deliberate refusal on the part of religious and political leaders to consult and consider the prophetic scriptures. Yes, in the past there were those who misrepresented prophecy; set dates that did not come true. However, this past false prophetic use of scripture is no excuse not to study God's warning to humankind.

Bible.org on "The Importance of Prophecy " says, "... there is opposition, both aggressive and passive, to study and to teach of prophecy ...This attitude is not without justification In spite of all the fanatics and foolish and false teachers, no legitimate reason can be offered for anyone refusing to study the prophetic scriptures." Some of the reasons to study prophecy are to - first know the mind of God for He has promised that surely He will not do anything before telling his prophets. Secondly, prophecy is of comfort and hope. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith suggests that there are three different attitudes one may take toward the future. The first is indifference, the second is fear, and the third is hope.

I will begin prophecy discussion with hope- hope that God means prophecy as a blessing. The Book of Revelation promises a special blessing to those who read it and keep the things that are written there by God. Only God knows the future, and it can be used to prove the existence of our Creator. Take for example the prophecy in the book of Daniel that predicted over 400 yrs before it came to pass, the exact day Jesus would ride the donkey unto the walls of Jerusalem proclaiming himself as the Messiah explained by Dr. Jack Van Impe. "Know therefore and understand, that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem unto the Messiah the Prince shall be seven weeks, and threescore and two weeks: the street shall be built again, and the wall, even in troubled times." (Daniel 9:24-25). In 445 B.C., an order was given by Persian King Artaxerxes in his twentieth year of reign to rebuild Jerusalem and Israel.

Famed television evangelist and author Jack Van Impe relates in his Prophecy Bible (pg 1490 and 1491) saying, "Jesus Christ.....who will be cut off after seven weeks and sixty-two weeks, for a total of sixty-nine weeks or 483 years(Jewish year is 360 days). From the date, Nehemiah said, "You may go ahead and rebuild your wall and Jerusalem" (March 14, 445 B.C.) to the day that

Jesus Christ rode into Jerusalem on the foal of a donkey (April 6, 32 A.D.), exactly 173,880 days had passed. Now, do you believe that prophecy is right on? If the Jews had only studied their Old Testament prophecy, they would have known that Jesus was their Messiah. “ Then is there any question that the remainder of the prophecies in the Book of Daniel will be fulfilled?” It is further surmised that all biblical prophecy will be fulfilled! [Note: Some experts are so stunned by the accuracy of Daniel, they have resorted to claiming that this prophecy was written after the event- this despite the proof otherwise.]

Now, let's move forward to future prophecies that are to be fulfilled and relevant to our current times. Revelation 12 has been much in the news on alternative news of late. The chapter speaks of a great sign predicted in Rev. 12:1-6. As follows:

V12:1 And there appeared a great wonder in heaven, a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet and on her head a crown of twelve stars.

V12:2 And she being with child cried, travailing at birth and pained to be delivered.

V12:3 And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his head.

V12:4 And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born.

V12:5 And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

V12:6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where: she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

These verses are talking about the configuration of constellations Leo and Virgo. Steven Sowell in the ebook titled, “Our Heavenly Celestial Birth” says, “The Great Sign will occur at 10:30 am PDT USA.....Stellarium does not show the entire constellation which would include all the elements of the sign is only above the horizon in Jerusalem between 11 am -4 pm on September 23, 2017. This sign is unique in the history of man.... occurring once in 5932 years... last time was in 3915 B.C., roughly the time of Adam and Eve.” (This time frame comes from the Jewish chronology set forth by the Old Testament.) Sowell further says, “Jupiter due to its retrograde motion will spend 9 1/2 months within the womb of Virgo. This time length corresponds to the gestation period of an average late-term baby.... Jupiter exists Virgo representing birth. The moon will be at the feet and the sun at the head of Virgo with twelve stars made up of 9 stars of Leo plus the aligned planets of Mercury, Venus, and Mars. Jack Van Impe, in his Prophecy Bible, explains that this unique configuration is a synopsis of the ages, from Genesis and Creation to birth of Jesus, to fall of Lucifer, the return and protection of Israel to the Holy Land, and lastly the Second Coming of Jesus.

Many biblical pundits have interpreted this sign as the foretelling of the rapture and removal of Christians from earth before the Tribulations of Revelations begins. I feel it is a sign that the End Times are swiftly approaching as well presented in the rest of this book.

Another sign that I believe backs my contention that End Times are rapidly approaching is the Four Blood Moons which occurred in 2014 and 2015. A blood moon just denotes a full lunar eclipse that makes the moon appear red (light refraction.) The importance is the dates of occurrence. Following is a list of dates of four lunar eclipses starting in 2014- known as a tetrad:

FIRST	SECOND	THIRD	FORTH
April 15, 2014	Oct. 8, 2014	April 4, 2015	Sept. 28,2015

Since blood moons and tetrads are not rare, the significance of this particular tetrad was the dates they fall- all on Jewish feast days. Genesis 1:14, "And God said, let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven to divide the day from the night, and let them be for SIGNS, and for seasons and days and years." Concerning the feasts, Leviticus 23:14 says, "These are the feasts of the Lord, even holy convocations, which thee shall proclaim in their season." Moses established the feasts and based them on the Jewish lunar calendar. The feasts consist of four spring and three fall days. The Lord initiated these feasts as a revelation of His eternal plan for man's redemption. Their importance will be revealed later in this chapter. The feasts are:

SPRING FEASTS

PASSOVER - Begins the 14th day of the first month (Nissan 15). It signifies Jews deliverance from the Angel of Death during the tenth plague in Egypt, Exodus 12:5 when the blood of a lamb was swiped over the door posts of each Jewish home. (It also represents Christ blood at the crucifixion.)

UNLEAVENED BREAD- Leviticus 23:6. Unleavened bread feast started during the time the Jews were leaving Egypt. It is now celebrated seven days after Passover. (Christians recognize this represents Jesus' burial.)

FIRST FRUITS- Leviticus 23:11. Observed on the morning after the Sabbath which acknowledges to Jews the fertility of the land He gave the Israelites when they left Egypt. (To Christians it represents that Jesus was the first fruit of His resurrection into eternal life with God in heaven.)

PENTECOST- Leviticus 23:16. Celebrated to mark the end of summer harvest. (Christians know this as the day tongues of fire rested on the apostle's heads representing receiving of the Holy Ghost- the promised helper spoken of by Jesus.)

FALL FEASTS

TRUMPETS- Leviticus 25:8-10. Called Jews to stop harvesting and go to worship to commemorate the end of the agricultural and festival year. The time to enter the sacred season to reckon for their sins on the Day of Atonement. (Christians associate this with Jesus' second coming.)

ATONEMENT- Leviticus 23:27. On the 10th day of the seventh month, it provides a day for confession by Jews. (Since Christians do not need atonement for sins. Jesus has already offered it forever by His shed blood.)

TABERNACLES- Leviticus 23:34. Fifteenth day of the seventh month representing the fact that God provided shelter for the Israelites in the wilderness after leaving Egypt. (For Christians it recognizes that God will establish His tabernacle in Jerusalem starting at Christ second coming and marking the beginning of the Millennial Kingdom.)

The reason for listing the feasts days is to show that significantly the blood moons all fell on the feasts days of Passover and Tabernacles. April 15, 2014, and April 4, 2015, eclipses fell on the feast of Passover. Oct. 8, 2014, and Sept. 28, 2015, eclipses fell on the feast of Tabernacles. The occurrence of four consecutive blood moons occurring on Jewish feasts day has only happened ten times since 1 A.D. and just three times since 1492, which were:

1. Tetrads of 1493- 1494
2. Tetrads of 1949- 1950
3. Tetrads of 1967- 1968
4. Tetrads of 2014- 2015

These Tetrads had significance for the Jewish nation. (Jewish sages have written that lunar eclipses warn of events that will affect Israel.) The first listed tetrad was during the beginning of the Spanish Inquisition that began in 1492, also significantly was the year Christopher Columbus discovered the New World. Pastor Irvin Baxter in his book “Sign of the Blood Moons”, stated that many believe Columbus was a secret Jew. If so it would have only been prudent for him to keep it as a secret since Jews were being forced to convert to Catholicism or face death.

In the book by Simon Weisenthals titled “Sails of Hope,” he argues Columbus’ voyage was a desire to find a safe place for Jews expelled from Spain. Columbus’ voyage was not funded by Queen Isabella, but rather by Jews who converted to Catholicism during the inquisition to avoid death. Louis de Santangel and Gabriel Sanchez advanced an interest-free loan of 17,000 ducats from their own pockets to help pay for the voyage. Also, Jewish statesman and Rabbi Don Isaac Abrabanel donated. These Jewish donors were hoping to find a haven for the Jews. Columbus intended to sail to Asia to find gold and to finance a crusade to take back Jerusalem and rebuild the Jewish Holy Temple. Columbus did not find the West Indies but the New World that is now home to over six million Jews, almost as many as currently live in Israel. (Note: Columbus’ good intentions do not excuse his treatment of the native cultures he encountered.)

During the 1949- 1950 tetrad period, Israel was reborn for the first time in almost 2000 years on May 14, 1948. Then during the 1967- 1968 tetrad, Israel fought the six-day war on June 7, 1967, and won back Judea and Samaria and more importantly Jerusalem. Israel was now in an undivided homeland with Jerusalem as their capital for the first time since 70 A.D.

After the last blood moon tetrad in 2014- 2015, many scoffed and ridiculed the fact that nothing had happened. The truth is that nothing has to occur during the tetrad. It can happen before or after. However, something significant did happen just before President Obama left office in January 2017. The U.N. Security Resolution 2334 reaffirmed that Israeli settlements have no legal validity and constitute a flagrant violation of international law. It makes Israel a pariah state and increases antisemitism and negates agreements established since 1967 War, especially in Judea and Sumeria and East Jerusalem. The resolution lays the groundwork for the dividing of Israel and formation of a Palestinian State. God has warned any nation dividing His land [Israel] will itself be divided. President Obama was responsible for secretly orchestrating the passage of the resolution. Since the adoption of the resolution on Dec. 23, 2016, the U.S. has become itself, highly divided politically, socially, and racially with talk of civil war and states like California threatening to leave the Union. What if the U.N. tries to force Israel to forfeit the West Bank and East Jerusalem to become the capital of a Palestinian State and Israel refuses? Will the prophecy of Psalm 83 be fulfilled? It reads:

“Keep not thou silence, O God: hold not thy peace, and not be still, O God. For lo, thine enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee have lifted up their head. They have taken crafty counsel against thy people and consulted Thy hidden ones, that name of Israel may no more be in remembrance.”

Some of the countries mentioned to come against Israel are Edom (Jordan), Moab (east of Jordan), Gebal, Ammon, Amelak, Philistines- Tyre area of Syria, Assur, Selah (Syria), Lebanon which is the countries circling Israel east of the Jordan River.

Another significant event (omen) was the recent solar eclipse on August 21, 2017. This was the first coast to coast eclipse since 1776 . The eclipse was also the first ever total solar eclipse with a path of totality exclusively inside the United States and not crossing any other nation. Interestingly, in seven years another total solar eclipse will occur across the U.S. coming in the opposite direction, making an X across the country. This event will happen on April 8, 2024, and cross path of 2017 eclipse at Carbondale, Ill. Gary Ray of www.unsealed.org, says the eclipse may mean that 2017 marks the beginning of the Tribulation Period mentioned in Book of Revelations. Others like Pastor Paul Begley of Coming Apocalypse radio show also believes it is a prophetic sign. Mark Beltz, author of the 2016 book God’s Day Timer said, “.... the fact that the eclipse path fell exclusively on the U.S. could mean it’s a sign of judgment from God.

Historically, Jewish sages have said lunar eclipses are signs for Israel, and solar eclipses are a sign for the nations. An example is the total solar eclipse that fell on Nineveh in the Assyrian Empire just before Jonah was sent by God to warn them of judgment. This eclipse had prepared them to listen to Jonah as the Ninevites took it as an omen. Could this eclipse in August 2017 have been a harbinger of coming judgment on America? Just a few days after the eclipse, hurricane Harvey devastated Southeast Texas dumping over 50 inches of rain. It has been estimated to be more costly than Hurricane Katrina. A few weeks later, Hurricane Irma hit Florida, then Hurricane Maria hit Puerto Rico, both causing massive damage. As I am writing this chapter, Hurricane Nate is striking Louisiana and Mississippi. Coincidence?

Scott Clarke of ERF ministries believes the eclipse is connected to Sept. 23, 2017, the astronomical alignment of Virgo and Leo previously discussed in this chapter. Many biblical and non-biblical scholars disparage using any astrological signs to tell the future. This cautionary approach is probably correct, but scripture says God does use signs and prophecy as warnings. Some examples of God using signs as warning and prediction are throughout the Bible. Rabbi Judah Ben Samuel, a Jewish prophet who lived from 1150 to Feb. 1217 in Germany, gave a prophecy concerning three future events affecting Jerusalem. His prophecy was for the period 1517 to 1967 and fulfilled. It was translated and summarized from the original German (March 2008 in Israel Today magazine, page 18), the prophecy says:

“When the Ottomans conquer Jerusalem, they will rule over Jerusalem for eight jubilees [A Jubilee is 50 years, $8 \times 50 = 400$ years]. After that, Jerusalem will become a no-man’s land for one Jubilee, and then in the ninth Jubilee it will once again come back into the possession of the Jewish nation- which would signify the beginning of the Messianic end time.”

This prophecy was fulfilled beginning in 1517 when the Ottoman Empire captures Jerusalem, exactly 400 years later, In 1917, the British capture Jerusalem in WW I and administer Palestine under a U.N. mandate. On May 15, 1948, the British order terminated and the State of Israel established. In 1967, during the Six Day War, Israel took possession of Jerusalem and made it their capital. So from 1917 to 1967, the 50 years or one Jubilee, prophecy was fulfilled that Israel would be a no-mans-land, as foretold by Rabbi Samuel.

Another remarkable prophecy that came true is found in the Bible foretelling the return of Jews to Israel. The Jews are unique in world history. No nation has ever been destroyed and its people scattered to four corners of the earth and later restored. The Scriptures say:

"...and ye shall have remained in the land, and shall corrupt yourselves and make a graven image, or the likeness of anything, and shall do evil in the sight of the Lord your God.....And the Lord shall scatter you amongst the nations, and you shall be left few in numbers among the heathen...." (Deut.4:25-26)

"...and I will bring you out from the people, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered...." (Ezekiel 20:34).

"In that day the Lord will reach out his hand a second time to reclaim the remnant that is left of this people..... he will assemble the scattered people of Judah from the four quarters of the earth." (Isaiah 11:11- 12)

As evidence of the scattering and then regathering, the following is the history of the Jews:

1460 BC.- Exodus from Egypt

727 BC.- Assyrians conquer Naphtali and the Israelite tribes east of the Jordan River beginning the scattering of the Jewish people.

722 BC.-Assyrians conquer the northern Kingdom of Israel.

586 BC.-Babylon conquered Israel and took the Jews captive and destroyed the Temple.

539 BC.-Persia defeated Babylon and later allowed the Jews to return to Israel and to rebuild the wall and Temple.

70 AD.-Romans destroy Jerusalem during First Jewish Revolt and tore down the second Temple.

135 AD.-Bar Kochba Revolt when Jews rebelled again and Romans destroyed Israel and drove the Jews out of the Holy Land

Never in world history has a nation and people been utterly destroyed and scattered as the Jews. They lost their country and language, but as scriptures foretold, they were resurrected as a nation in 1947 as God had promised.

"I will bring your children from the east and gather you from the west. I will say to the north, 'Give them Up' and to the south, 'Do not hold them back".Bring my sons from afar and daughters from the ends of the earth..." (Isaiah 43:5-6).

As promised, God began to bring His people back to the promised and again. According to www.differentspirit.org, the return started in 1888 :

1888- Start of the first Aliyah- meaning going up. Jews from eastern Europe began to move to the promised land.

1895- The Dreyfus Affair in France, a scandal involving Jewish officer in the French army brought out antisemitism in Europe stirring Theodor Herzl to promote the cause of a Jewish State.

1939-1945- World War II-and The Holocaust. After six million Jews perished in the Nazi death camps, survivors head to the Holy Land.

1948- the State of Israel was declared.

1948-1952- Mass migration of Jews to Israel commences.

1970- Start of immigration of Jews from USSR.

Thus the unheard of return of the nation of Israel was proven correct by the Bible and Word of God. As a side note, the establishment of Israel and return of Jews to their homeland has a profound implication. Scripture prophecy says that the generation that sees these events would be the generation that saw the return of Christ in His Second Coming.

Now might be a good time to answer the question, is the Bible true and accurate? According to www.differentspirit.org, it says:

"The sixty-six books of the Bible were written in diverse places, over 1000 years by diverse authors- from kings to priest to a farmer and fishermen. It covers hundreds of themes and controversial subjects, such as heaven and hell, sickness, death, God and the Devil, and yet there are no contradictions. Instead, there is harmony in the writings of both testaments.”

Furthermore, many scoffers say it is man written and has been changed over time to adapt to prevailing philosophies, ideas, and carnal ideas of the culture. Yet, Western civilization does not have any problem accepting Socrates' (470-399 BC) philosophy as the main source of Western thought. Socrates left no writings of his own, except that recorded by his students, including Plato. Could they not have corrupted Socrates' thoughts and adulterated his philosophical teachings to configure to their own thoughts?

The Dead Sea Scrolls discovered in 1949-1956 in caves near Qumran in the Mideast have been used to collaborate the validity of the Old Testament. Printed Bibles have been in use for about 500 years, before that time copies were hand-written. No original texts were preserved. The question is asked, how can we know errors did not occur in copying. The scrolls can be positively dated as 1000 years older than previously used manuscripts and yet the texts show no deviation. Of the 39 books of the Hebrew Bible, except for the Book of Esther, used by the Jews and Christians today, all are the same as that quoted by Jesus.

Tackling the question about God's judgments. Many people, including many pastors in America today will say, "God is love" and will not judge America as we live in the age of grace, but He is also righteous. Can natural disasters be God's judgment for a nation's sins? Yes, it can! As God judged Israel for its idolatry and immorality, the same can happen to America.

"When I shut up the heavens so that there are no rain or command locusts to devour the land or send a plague, or if I send pestilence among my people. If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land." (2 Chronicles 7:13-14)

This warning from God does not have an expiration time. God being righteous has and will send judgment to force His people to return to Him when they have become lost in their sins. So can the U.S. be put under God's judgment? I believe there is no doubt if you believe in His righteous and love. America is no longer a God-fearing nation but secular. I am not saying that there are not Christians in America, but rather asking are we the lukewarm Church of Laodicea Jesus talked about in the Book of Revelation given to the Apostle John. Sin is everywhere with 60-70 million abortions, deceit, and corruption in our corporations and government. Even presidents lie like Obama concerning The Affordable Care Act said, "If you like your doctor, you can still use him." NOT! Even the name of the Act is a lie. It is not even affordable for most Americans. Congress lies, ordinary people lie, and immorality is rampant with 50% of marriages ending in divorce. (Scriptures say God hates divorce- pretty strong words spoken by Him.)

Billy Graham said, "If God doesn't bring judgment upon America, He will have to apologize to Sodom and Gomorrah." When a nation loses its conscience, God can choose to turn His back on that nation. Is there any question that this nation has rejected God? Christians have even allowed God's removal from schools, government, public arena, and it can be said, "even from many churches." Chrislam is now proposed by denominations in America where Islam and Christianity join. How can this even be reasonable? Islam does not believe in the Virgin birth; that God has a son; or in the Trinity. This apostasy will prevent a Christian from performing his greatest duty which is witnessing to unbelievers that Jesus is a person's only hope of salvation from sin. Even Pope Francis says all major religions are the same path to the same God. Even telling Catholics not to seek a personal relationship with Jesus. Instead, they are told only to seek priestly counsel and church teachings. Francis even went as far as referring that Christian fundamentalism as a "sickness" even no different than Islamic jihad. (Note: Fundamentalism believes in a strict interpretation of the Bible.) I was raised as a Catholic, attended parochial school, and was an altar boy. So I believe I have the right to express my views of Catholicism. More will be said in another chapter. My only question for Pope Francis is, "Are you preparing the world for the New One World Order to include a One World Religion?"

"I believe God can use judgment, either directly like by storms or earthquakes, or He can use indirect judgment by removing His hand of protection. Dr. Roger Barrier in an article at www.crosswalk.com under the title "Does God send Natural Disasters As Judgment" said:

"God's judgment on America is to allow the internal turmoil that will destroy our country from the inside. The breakdown of the social fabric of any nation soon results in anarchy and civil war. Leaders lie to us regularly' Dr. Barrier further says, "The Book of Revelation has three cycles of disasters that occur just before the Lord Jesus returns to set up His earthly kingdom. Regarding the first cycle, it's man producing disasters that are not natural; they result from man and his behaviors- like the nuclear reactor meltdowns at Chernobyl and Japan's [Fukushima]. The second cycle is what Satan does to a man, and the third is God's judgment upon mankind".

In a video at www.prophecynewswatch.com, the host recently talked about divine judgment. The show, concerning God's judgment asked, "Can we say Hurricane Harvey was sent by God"? They downplayed it as a sign of judgment- neither saying it was or wasn't. The commentators gave an example of Katrina saying, "That was the week of the Gay Pride Southern Decadence Festival in New Orleans." [It was canceled due to the storm.] Also mentioned that Katrina could have been a judgment for pressuring Israel to get out of Gaza, forcing resettlement of thousands of Jews, and giving away God's land. God says in His word, "I will divide those who divide by land."

The program went on to ask the question, "Are we prepared to look into the eyes of those who lost loved ones during the storm and flooding and tell them their loved ones were struck down in the act of divine judgment. [I am sure there were believers present.] My question would be, then you mean God can not judge any city, state, or nation if there is even one righteous person present? Or perhaps all the believers had left, and only unbelievers perished. It is recorded that 100s of thousands of Jews were killed by the Romans in 70 AD when they invaded Israel and destroyed the city and temple. Assuming all the adults were sinners and deserving of judgment, then surely the children were innocent and Jerusalem should have been spared for their sake.

During the coming prophesied tribulations foretold in Revelations, over half the worlds population will be killed, including children. In the book of Job, God says, "My ways are higher than your ways....". So do we humans have the knowledge to question God's actions? The Creator of the universe is working on a master plan drawn up before the creation of our world. Being that man's life is as fleeting as the morning mist- gone with the sunrise, can we question God's decisions? In His universal divine plan, does God not have much more to consider since our earthly sojourn is short and all will die. Is He not more concerned about our eternal souls? While we are at it, let's just question how unfair God must be to allow the millions of Christian martyrs throughout the last two millennium. And we have to ask how God could have sent His Son to die for us. Couldn't He have had a better way?

All these questions are implying that God's options should be limited, but that brings up the question, "Then if God is limited, how can he be omnipotent?" Scripture tells us to trust and have faith in our Father, even if we walk through the valley of the shadow of death. He created and redeemed us even knowing that man would fail and sin. But He already had a plan to save us through his son Jesus. So, what gives any man or woman the right to question God's actions- even judgment! The judgment does not please God, just like it does not please us to punish our children. It makes God sad. I cannot say if I read it in the Bible, but I remember a line that says God became so exasperated with man's disobedience that He lamented saying, "What else can I do?"

Judgment is always a last resort for it is stated, "He is long-suffering and slow to anger." However, would God be just if he let a nation or people to continue in sin allowing the loss of their souls? But not only the lost of their souls, but also their children and future generations raised on immorality and learned disobedience and rejection of God entirely. No, God is just and righteous, and until man can accept in faith this truth, there will be no pleasing God. Scripture says that no one can genuinely please God without faith. We must reach the point in our lives, where like Abraham, we are even willing to sacrifice everything- home, family, riches- and also accept His divine judgment.

CHAPTER II

IS AMERICA A CHRISTIAN NATION?

The question, "Is America a Christian nation?", according to presidents Clinton and Obama they have said, NO! Chapter I revealed the importance of prophecy in the warning of coming events to befall the U.S. and indeed the world. However, this book is primarily concerned with America, and we will not be able to "Make America Great Again" unless as a nation we repent, and heed God's warning of impending judgment and return to God. Since our nation has been blessed more than any other country. It is important to discuss why it was so. Our greatness as a nation began with our founding as a Christian nation, a "shining city on a hill." The United States was established to be an example to the world how the Judea-Christian principles led to our greatness.

Our original national identity started with the pilgrims' colony established at Plymouth Rock. William Bradford and May Flower pilgrims settled in Massachusetts in 1620 and not by accident. Initially bound for Virginia, to live north of Jamestown, but lost at sea, they happened upon the land later known as Plymouth Rock. Deciding to establish the colony where they had landed, but the pilgrims had to reconcile the fact that they were not within the jurisdiction of Virginia Company. Having no charter, they had to make their own laws. [The hand of the Almighty was already at work. Providently, the idea of democracy was established since self-rule was based on majority rule laid-out in Mayflower Pact.]

According to the "Dictionary of American History" (copyright 2003 by Gale Group), the primary reason for pilgrims flight to New World was freedom of worship. American History says, "though theologically very similar to the Puritans who later founded the Massachusetts Bay Colony, the Pilgrims believed that the Church of England could not be reformed." Deciding to seek religious freedom they moved to Holland but feared their children would grow up in a morally degenerate atmosphere. They also worried the Catholic church would conquer Holland and bring horrors of Spanish Inquisition.

Upon the pilgrims' arrival at Cape Cod they found that due to contagion, the local Indian tribe was weakened. Thus they were not threatened by the locals, and the Indians had already cleared the land. Perhaps it was no coincidence, but providential they were lost at sea, landed in a relatively safe area, with the ground already cleared.

Jumping forward to the time of the Revolutionary War asking, "What was the intent of our constitutional founding fathers? It is currently in vogue to proclaim America has never been a Christian nation, however, this supposition is not upheld. Current anti-Christian writers will take one quote from a founding father and will try to use it to prove their false ideology. Case in point, Jeff Schweitzer, scientist and former White House Senior Policy Analyst; and Dr. in neurophysiology, wrote in an article for Huffington Post titled "Founding Fathers: We Are Not A Christian Nation". Quoting John Adams, "The government of the U.S. is not, in any sense founded on the Christian religion". He further says, "... As we witness yet again the brutal and bloody consequences of religious intolerance in the form of ISIS, we have a majority of Republican pining for a Christian America". Thus he equates Christians to excesses of Islam. Leading one to ask, "When was the last time you heard of a Christian religion calling for murder; beheading of infidels; imposing another rule of law upon a country as Muslims demand Sharia law to supersede our Constitution and Bill of Rights?"

Schweitzer states that Jefferson, in his writings in Virginia concerning religious freedom, that the intent was "meant to comprehend, within the mantle of its protection, the Jew and the Gentile, the Christian and the Mohammeden, the hindoo and infidel of every denomination." Schweitzer further opined that the facts of history prove our secular origins. He states Jefferson's expressed intent was to make sure no state religion be established similar to the Church of England. Schweitzer says the word God was never used in any of the founding documents, but is this true? NO!

Mark David Hall, Ph.D. an author of eight books including "Selected Reading on Religious Liberty and Church-State Relations in the American Founding" and "Forgotten Founders on Religion and Public Life," easily refutes Schweitzer's article. Hall begins by considering four popular answers given in the query, "Did America Have a Christian Founding?" Hall states:

1. Religious liberty is a right and protected.
2. The nation should not create an established church.
3. States should have them [churches] only if they encourage and assist Christianity.
4. Religion belongs in the public square.

The U.S. did not have a Christian founding in the sense of creating a theocracy. Hall claims the U.S. founding was deeply affected by Christian moral truths, and its goal was to create a regime that was amicable to Christians, and practitioners of other religions.

Modern historians often contend that the founding fathers were not religious or were deists. (Deists believe God does not interfere in the affairs of men and nations.) But is this supposition correct? Let the facts prove the truth. First, in 1776, every European American, with the exception of Jews, identified themselves as Christian. Ninety-eight percent of colonists were Protestant and the remaining Roman Catholic. So it can be assumed that Christianity was the primary source of America's new ideology affecting the thinking and influence of our founding documents.

As previously mentioned at the start of this chapter, early colonial laws such as Mayflower Pact, Fundamental Orders of Connecticut, and Massachusetts Body of Liberties were filled with language that incorporated biblical tests. Pennsylvania 1681 charter began by making it clear that God has ordained government. Article 30 of the charter even lists "offenses against God that could be punished including swearing, cursing, lying, drunkenness, incest, sodomy, cards, dice -to name a few. At least nine colonies had established churches and all required offices holders to be Christian.

Churches were also involved in fermenting the American revolution. The Calvinists were profoundly influenced by John Locke's book "Two Treatises of Government" which supported the idea that magistrates must resist unjust rulers. Between 55% and 75% of white citizens associated themselves with Calvinism and quoting Mark Hall, "The influence of the Reformed political tradition in the Founding era manifested in a variety of ways, but mainly noteworthy is the almost unanimous support of the Calvinist clergy. "

Schweitzer, as previously stated, said that God was never used in founding documents. However, Hall said, "Jefferson was not an orthodox Christian but even he believed in a vague, distant deity, and when his fellow delegates revised and approved the Declaration of Independence, virtually all of them understood "Nature's God, Creator, and Providence to refer to the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob."

One often hears the atheists and leftist socialists point out the " Wall of Separation of church and state" spoken by Jefferson. In fact, the average American if asked about this line, believes it is in the Bill of Rights. The fact is that in actuality, this line comes from a letter Jefferson wrote to Danbury Baptist (in1802). [It must be noted that this metaphor was only used once in Jefferson's life.]

Mark Hall co-authored four books that reviewed 26 different founders and found little evidence that they were as a group deist, who desired the separation of church and state. The evidence was given that much, much more proves the founding fathers were mostly Christian, and their beliefs influenced the Constitution and establishment of America. Barry Alan Shain in his study "The Myth of American Individualism: The Protestant Origins of American Political Thought" found the Bible cited far more often than any other book, article, or pamphlet by founders. So the evidence upholds the supposition of the establishment of America on Christianity.

Following the establishment of the U.S., our leaders' examples abundantly prove the intent of founders to follow Christian principles. Using George Washington as an example, on April 30, 1789, in Washington's inaugural address to nation he says,

"....it would be peculiarly improper to omit in this first official Act, my fervent supplications to that Almighty Being who rules over the Universe.... that his benediction may consecrate to the liberties and happiness of the People of the United States.... In tendering this homage to the Great Author of every public and private good.... Since we ought to be no less persuaded that the propitious smiles of Heaven, can never be expected on a nation that disregards the eternal rules of order and right, which Heaven itself has ordained:....."

After the inaugural address in 1789, Washington went to St. Paul Cathedral in New York City to dedicate the nation to God. Washington prayed daily, especially at Valley Forge during the Revolutionary War and kept a prayer diary. On October 3, 1789, Washington proclaimed a national day of Thanksgiving prayer stating,

"...Whereas it is the duty of all Nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey his will, to be grateful for his benefits, and humbly to Implore his protection and favor....."

Now, how do our liberal communistic left and historical revisionist view Washington? Americans United for Separation of Church and State (AU) in a piece written by Simon Brown on May 9, 2014, stated, " Washington never mentioned God or Jesus in the inaugural address. He did say Almighty Being, Great Author, and Invisible hand."AU obfuscates the fact Washington was referring to God. In his proclamation for a national Thanksgiving Prayer, Washington used Almighty God.

HOW COLONIAL CHURCHES AIDED IN AMERICAN REVOLUTION

In the book "Religion and Founding of the American Republic" it shows the importance of religion informing, supporting, and sustaining the Revolutionary War. The book illustrates the high level of religious energy in colonies after 1700, as religion was in ascension rather than in decline instead, in many parts of the colonies, there was a state of feverish growth. An estimated 75- 80% of the population attended church. The Great Awakening swept the English-speaking world, and the colonies of 1730's and 1740's were embracing evangelicalism. One recent scholar opined religion turned colonial resistance into a righteous cause and ministers did the work of secular radicalism in aiding revolutionary spirit.

Material compiled by "Political Sermons and the American Founding" Era 1730- 1805 2 volumes, forward by Ellis Sandoz (2nd edition, Indianapolis Liberty Fund, 1998 Vol. 1) using reprinted non-annotated editions of complete political sermons. Sandoz says, "Religion gave birth to America." Alexis de Tocqueville, a French diplomat, scientist political, and historian was best known for his works, "Democracy in America". He observed long ago that on the eve of revolution, in his last-ditch attempt to stave off impending catastrophe, Edmund Burk (British parliament) reminded House of Commons of the inseparable alliance between liberty and religion among Englishman in America. Mercy Otis Warren noted in her 1805 history of American Revolution "it must be acknowledged that the religious and moral character of Americans yet stands on a higher grade of excellence and purity, than that of most other nations."

Sandoz notes that "the spiritual life of America began with a decade of the sermon of celebrated Benjamin Colman in Boston in 1730. The Great Awakening in 1739- 1742 began the religious revival that swept the colonies. Although many religious leaders were responsible for the revival, no more preeminent an 'awakener' throughout this whole period was English evangelist George Whitefield who visited colonies in 1738 followed by six more preaching tours until his death in 1770." Whitefield had spurred the awakening with words like, "Various are the pleas and arguments which men of corrupt minds frequently urge against yielding to the just and holy commands of God."

Many pastors were intimately involved in the Revolution. In the article, "Have American Christians Forgotten About the Pastors Who Helped Win Our Independence" by Chuck Baldwin says, "April 19, 1775, should be regarded as important a date as July 4th, 1776. The importance was it dated the "shot heard around the world" and was the day war for independence began. Pastor Jonas Clark alerted male congregants at Church of Lexington that British were coming to arrest Samuel Adams and John Hancock. These men took refuge in Pastor Clark's church where 75-80 church members stood with their muskets against 800 British troops which opened fire on them. The colonists returned fire with first shots of the Revolutionary War, thus saving lives of Adams and Hancock. Baldwin stated that Clark and his men are as important to the story of American independence as any of our Founding Fathers. These facts are lost to the majority of historians. It was an attempt at gun confiscation that started the war. [Note: relevance to our current call by leftists/communists for gun confiscation.]

Observing America's pastors today one would think that preachers such as James Caldwell (Presbyterian), John Peter Muhlenberg (Lutheran), Joab Houghton (Baptist) and Jonas Clark never existed. Without these type of men, the United States would never have materialized. Caldwell was called "The Rebel and High Priest or fighting chaplain." The British hated him so much, they murdered his wife, Hannah, in her own home.

Baldwin relates, concerning these men, that they were only a few of the men who participated in the fight for independence. He further states, "There were Episcopalian ministers such as Dr. Samuel Provost of New York, Dr. John Croes of New Jersey, and Robert Smith of South Carolina; Presbyterian members such as Adam Boyd of N. Carolina, and James Armstrong of Maryland, along with others, also took part." So many Baptists preachers were involved that President Washington wrote a personal letter to the Baptists saying, "I recollect with satisfaction that religious societies of which you are a member have been, through America, uniformly and almost unanimously, the firm friends to civil liberty, and the preserving promoters of our glorious Revolution." Baldwin further says, "The courageous preaching and example of colonial America's patriot-pastors provided the colonists with the inspiration and resolved to resist the tyranny of the Crown and to win America's freedom and independence."

A question begs to be answered, what has happened to America's fighting spirit in the present day? One would have to surmise that for the most part, the American pulpits are so afraid to offend or make the congregation uncomfortable that they have become the primary reason why the U.S. is in rapid decline into bondage. Churches today are more committed to mammon and church revenue and growth. Most pulpits refuse to speak about current events impacting our culture. Quoting the great evangelist George Whitefield, "More heathen morality, and not Jesus Christ, is preached in most of our churches." Chapter III will deal with the failure of the American churches.

CHAPTER III

FAILURE OF THE PRESENT-DAY CHURCH

In the previous chapter, it was documented how vital colonial churches were in helping to establish this nation and its democracy and freedoms. America now finds itself becoming a police state where privacy is almost non-existent. Government and corporate corruption and criminality are rampant. This country is no longer a democracy, a Christian nation, or financially viable. Much of the blame for this failure to uphold our founding principles can lay at the feet of the American pulpits. The United States is no longer united; blue against red states; black against white; fascism/communism; constitution haters against patriots; poor against wealthy; creationists against evolutionist; and atheists against Christians.

The American Empire is following the steps of so many past empires like the Roman Empire. This nation was created, flourished, and is now in decline because it turned its back on the principles that made it great. Whether America can be saved is hanging in the balance. Abraham Lincoln said, "A house divided can not stand," referencing scripture, when Jesus said, "Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand." (Matt. 12:25)

The evidence shows that America was founded on sound moral values with Godly principles infused into its founding documents. However, America now finds itself at a crossroads where all Americans must decide whether this nation is returned to its founding principles or resign it to the dustbin of history, like so many other empires. Since it was established that this country owes its existence to God's laws and moral imperatives, our churches must lead the way and return to our forefathers legacy. It is imperative that principles that made this country great be resurrected in our national spirit- a spirit of Christianity.

In the preface of this book, I gave a brief history of my religious pilgrimage through the American church. I believe this experience gave me a unique perspective on the failure of our churches. One often questions why our lives impose on us many trials and tribulations. Scripture admonishes that God refines us in the fire of adversity to purify us to serve His purposes. He removes all the carnal desires and moves us to the state where our only desire is to please Him. Only then can we begin to move in unselfish acts, to perform our best to improve the welfare of our family, city, church, state, and country. It is amazing how God can use sinful men to accomplish His great cosmic plan. Using King David as an example, chosen as a young man and through adversity, he became the most significant King of Israel, and it was through David's lineage that God became incarnate on earth with the birth of Emanuel (literally means God with us).

My early Christian life began in the Baptist and Catholic churches, but Catholicism was my most formative indoctrination. I remember attending mass and partaking of the rituals of Holy Eucharist, confession, and praying the rosary and reading the little missal that I used at parochial school and during church. For the non-catholic, a missal was like a mini-bible with the accepted doctrine and prayers the church wanted me to follow. In later years, the realization became clear why I had never seen a Catholic Bible. I realized the church only wanted me to follow the instruction and teachings of the priest. Recently I read that Pope Francis admonished Catholics not to seek a personal relationship with Jesus Christ, but rather support church teachings. The pope even equated evangelical Christians to terrorists. This one example shows what most religious organizations are guilty, namely control. Most religions take a few handpicked verses and build their theology. An example of this was one of my aunts, whose church did not believe there should be music in the church. This supposition came from one verse taken out of context in the Bible. This theology ignored all the Old and New Testaments verses where music was an essential part of worship. It always perplexes me that by taking a few scriptural verses, it was possible to develop a false theology.

Just what constitutes a church, whether Baptist, Catholic, or any other denomination. From my perspective, a church is an organization of rules, by-laws, dogmas, and articles of faith. The most significant question is who rules over these organizations? It is the hierarchy- pastors, priest, bishops, elders, etc., in another word, carnal men and women who rule by carnal interpretation. Jesus said to Peter that upon this rock (Jesus) I will build my church, but the apostles were instructed to wait until Pentecost when they were baptized with the Holy Spirit. The American churches are weak and powerless because they fail to follow the leading of the Spirit of God which instructs a Christian in truth and righteousness. Enough said for now, but more shall be spoken about this in the last chapter of this book.

Jesus never condemned a sinner who came to him. The only persons Christ condemned were the Pharisees and religious leaders, who are much like our modern day churches. The Jews built their own religious rules and laws, e.g. the Talmud , rather than maintaining the five books of Moses that established the law. Sinful men could not be trusted to their carnal desires, thoughts, and acts. America's founding fathers understood humankind's fallen nature and fallibility. This realization led our forebears to establish this nation on godly principles, the Constitution, and Bill of Rights. Jesus said He came to open each believer's direct access to the Father. No longer did a person need to stand outside the Holy of Holy where God dwells in the Temple. Jesus provided direct access to the Father, but it was the Holy Spirit that teaches us the will of the Father.

The modern American church has many religious particularities endemic to our country. Indeed our religions are very different than our forebears would recognize. From my perspective, having attended some of the mega-churches that epitomize what I see as an apostasy of our times. It seems appropriate to detail some of these religious organizations, as I like to call them- businesses. Larry Lea pastored one church I attended, Church on the Rock, in Rockwall, Texas. It was at that time, one of the fastest growing churches in the nation, with 11,000 members. Before starting his church, Lea had attended Dallas Baptist seminary where he met his first wife, Melba. He became youth pastor of Beverly Hills Baptist Church in Dallas and also served as Dean of Theological and Spiritual Affairs at Oral Roberts University in Oklahoma.

After establishing Church on the Rock, Lea began to travel holding "Prayer Clinics" and later prayer rallies or prayer breakthroughs. About this time he released two books, "Change Your Life" and "Could You Not Tarry One Hour". During my time at the church, I remember Lea's main theology was being a prayer warrior. A few instances remain vivid to me. One instance was during a church service where a young man was spotlighted by the pastor for a donation to the church. The man had donated an heirloom Stradivarius violin. These violins can be worth millions. I often wondered if that man and his family could afford to donate that violin. Maybe it was a result of being caught up in the moment. Before tithes and offerings were received, a junior pastor would always admonish the congregation to be aware of being cursed if they did not tithe. Using passages like Malachi 3:8-9, "Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings. You are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation." [Later I heard this same admonition at other churches I attended, making me wonder if they were reading from a tithing script.]

In another service, Lea showed the church his new Rolex watch, given to him by a group of men- possibly by elders or wealthy members. Lea spent a few minutes justifying the acceptance of the watch. Personally, I felt it might just be a way for them to gain control and influence over the pastor. It was similar to how a lobbyist bestows donations and gifts on politicians. When considering this gifting episode, I often think of Ruth Graham, evangelist Billy Graham's wife, and the gift of a mink coat given to her by Johnny and June Cash. (I think it was given with best of intent.) Ruth asked the two donors if she could donate it to charity. She said it did not seem right for her to have such a luxury when others did without. One last personal insight, I worked in sales at a Country Yacht Club and community near Church on the Rock, and very expensive. One day I was touring guest through the country club and restaurant and saw Lea having lunch, a place I could never have afforded to eat even if they would let me in. In similar circumstances, I think of a real Christian- Ruth Graham.

A few years after my family and I had moved away from the Dallas area and Church on the Rock, I became aware of a scandal involving Larry Lea. The controversy included an interview with ABC's Prime-time Live T.V. show investigative report by Diane Sawyer. The pretense for the interview was to discuss Lea becoming the next Billy Graham. Instead, Lea was confronted on camera by Sawyer showing a sermon where he was relating how his home had burned down with all its furnishings. The church members had raised money and given it to Lea and his family to help with the loss. It turns out the house in question was in actuality, not Lea's residence, but a vacant investment property. Prime-time showed during the airing of the interview, an aerial view of Lea's real multi-million dollar home and acreage on a lake. This exposure started Lea's downfall. He supposedly had a nervous breakdown (said to be due to bipolar disorder) and led to his divorce, and remarriage. He eventually regained pastorship of another church in California.

Another well-known church I attended was Benny Hinn's Orlando Christian Center in Orlando, Fla. Hinn was born in Jaffa, Israel and raised in Eastern Orthodox Tradition. As a teenager, he converted to Pentecostalism. Influenced by evangelist Kathryn Kuhlman, he began a ministry as a conduit to healing. Hinn soon began holding healing crusades in stadiums and auditoriums across the United States and overseas. He launched a new daily talk show, "This Is Your Day," which premiered on Trinity Broadcasting Network. In 2010, Hinn was sued by Strange Communications which claimed an extramarital affair was violating his morality clause in his contract. The alleged incident was with fellow evangelist Paula White. Hinn was divorced in 2010 but in 2013 remarried his ex-wife Suzzane.

My experience with Benny Hinn was while attending his Orlando Christian Church. Sitting in its large auditorium size church, I remember listening to praise and worship songs and choir before Hinn appeared on stage and began preparing the congregation for the healing service. As people came for healing, I never remember anyone that had any affliction that was visually evident. No lame walked or blind received their sight. There was always a big commotion on the stage as individuals or groups were slain in the spirit as Hinn touched or blew on them. (For those who do not know what the term "slain in the spirit means", it is where a person is overcome by the Holy Spirit and falls to the floor. But not to worry, that anyone would hit their head or injure themselves as "catchers" were conveniently stationed to gently lay them on the floor.)

Toward the end of my attending Hinn's church, I started to notice disturbing incidents. One time I saw a mother with a severely handicapped son (probably cerebral palsy). She was wheeling the child around the stage trying to get Hinn's attention but ignored. I often thought later, how great of a real miracle that would have been to see that little boy get up and walk!

Looking back a few years later, I saw it was all a fraudulent ministry. Hinn is one of the many self-serving or just delusional, only interested in a wealth ministry. According to www.beliefin.com, Hinn is one of the wealthiest pastors in America. His net-worth estimated at $42 million. Hinn lives in a $10 million seaside mansion; has a private jet; a Mercedes SUV and convertible; and often has layovers in locations like Hawaii, Cancun, London, Milan where he stays in $900 to $3,000 per night hotel suites. Hinn's annual salary is $1 million plus. As for Hinn's healing ability, Diane Sawyer also, like on Larry Lea, did an investigative report where people supposedly healed during his services, were later contacted and found to have no healing.

Before you conclude that I only attended large churches with significant income and flashy preachers, let me relate two other small churches. One church was in Conroe, Texas with a small congregation of maybe 75 souls, and as for as I remember, non-denomination. My family and I only attended a short while. At the second or third Sunday service, I remember the pastor on his face in front of the pulpit weeping uncontrollably. I figured he was having a Holy Ghost moment, and I was impressed with his piety. NOT! Shortly after this service the pastor was caught by a church member checking into a local motel with a woman who was not his wife, but it turned out to be one of the female ushers from the church. Our church attendance there was short lived! Just as well, as my company soon moved me to Virginia.

In Virginia, my family and I choose a Church that had a Christian School affiliated with it. As previously spoken about, my whole family and I were very involved with all activities. My wife played the saxophone in the band, and my daughters were in all the plays performed for services like the Easter Play. I was the president of the Parent Teachers Association for the school. Everything was going well; however, the pastor soon began to complain that he was tired of preaching two services on Sunday because the church building was too small. He started a push to build a new church building, but not just any church, but a Taj Mahal for the small rural county we lived. After construction of the 1500 seat church, it never seemed to be more than 1/3 to 1/2 full, even on special occasions. Soon the pastor was down-sizing the school from first to twelfth grade to only first to sixth. Then the pastor started asking the men to buy bonds to help finance the new church building as tithes were not sufficient. Many of the congregation who were against the new building program began to leave. During a counseling visit about my job situation, the first question the pastor asked was about my tithing. When I said we tithed 10% of our pretax income, the pastor's face went blank and speechless. (I thought there is that Malachi 3:8 curse verse again). He had no further spiritual advice to say after that question. It seems I had shot down his silver bullet to claim I was under a curse for not tithing. Not long after this, my family and I moved to Florida with a temporary job transfer for three months. While there we did not have a home church, so we still sent our tithes back to the Virginia church. (Got to avoid that curse thing!) After a few months, we moved back to Texas to be near family. Very shortly after we returned to Texas, our younger daughter developed juvenile diabetes and was hospitalized for a week. My wife phoned our old church back in Virginia and asked them to get the church to pray for our daughter. A few weeks later, my wife found out through friends, that the pastor had never mentioned that our daughter needed prayer. It was devastating to find this out, especially for my wife.

The point I am trying to make is that one of the significant failures of many American churches is that they have a business mentality. It is about growth and revenue. Case in point is Lakeway Church in Houston, Texas by Joel Osteen which often appears on network shows like Oprah Winfrey, Larry King, and others. His father John Osteen founded the church. After the father died of a sudden heart attack, Joel was appointed by his mother as pastor even though he had no clerical training. Lakeway is now the largest church in America with over 40,000 members. Joel, in his own words, is more a motivational speaker. His wife acts as a co-pastor. The family's net worth is estimated to be $40 million. Osteen's primary theology is prosperity preaching. He lives in a multi-million dollar mansion; he and his wife use their private jet to tour the country to bring his "Night of Hope" inspirational message. Using his wealth as an example, he preaches that God can bless anyone else too. At the time of the writing of this book, Southeast Texas was being devastated by hurricane Harvey. Houston recorded highest rain total in U.S. history of over 50 inches. The Osteens refused to open the church as a shelter, using the excuse that the church had water in it, however as internet videos became viral showing a high and dry church, Osteen relented and opened the church. So much for Christian charity at the Osteen complex as Lakeway Church appears to be just another family business.

Speaking of family religious businesses, there are many more examples like Lakeway church. Oral Roberts empire passed to his son Richard Roberts. Billy Graham's ministry has been turned over to his son Franklin Graham. Robert Schuler's Crystal Cathedral in California passed to his son. John Hagee's son now preaches at Cornerstone Church. [Note: I like most of Hagee's sermons, so just making an observation.] After the death of Paul and Jan Crouch of Trinity Broadcast Network, their son Matthew and wife, took over their prosperity preaching based empire valued at over $700 million.

Establishing a church using Jesus Christ as a business model and then preaching a prosperity message, has no previous biblical precedence. The apostles went throughout the Roman world teaching and placing godly men in positions of spreading the gospel. According to Victor Beshir in a book, "What Happened To The Church Established by Christ and His Apostles?" he says, "As all historians have stated, that the Christian Church survived the Roman persecution and continued to exist afterward. The church lived as one church with one faith, one baptism. (Eph: 4:5), common dogmas, and very closed rituals throughout the whole world for about five centuries. There were no denominations or sects in the Christian church." Beshir further states, "Division between churches began in 451 A.D. at Chalcedon Council. In this council, bishops representing churches from all over the world assembled to discuss matters related to Christ. By the end of the meeting, deep divisions appeared between the churches resulting in a split into the Eastern Orthodox and the Western churches. Eastern churches decided to continue following the same faith as Christ and the apostles had delivered it. Christian persecution started with Emperor Nero in 64 A.D. and lasted until 313 A.D. when Emperor Constantine became a Christian. The Edit of Milan made Christianity legal.

According to Ph.D. Ken Curtis from www.christianmobile.com, the earliest believers did not have church buildings but met in homes. First church buildings were started in early 200s A.D. Curtis noted that misusing the Gospel for personal enrichment was not the invention of 20th-century religious hucksters. One of the earliest documents, after the New Testament, was The Didache which was a manual of church practices. It ridiculed Christians who were so quickly relieved of their money by traveling preachers.

The prosperity gospel is the most significant bogus fraud being perpetrated on the American churches today. Wikipedia defines prosperity theology as a religious belief that holds financial blessings and physical well-being as the will of God; and faith, positive speech, and donations to Christian causes will increase one's wealth. The atonement (reconciliation with God) is interpreted to include sickness and poverty, viewed as curses. Prominent leaders adopted prosperity movements like Oral Roberts, Robert Tilton, Joel Osteen, Creflo Dollar, Kenneth Copeland, and Kenneth Hagin.

How to identify prosperity gospel, according to John Piper in 2014, sermon taken from www.gospelcoalition.org, titled "What You Should Know About the Prosperity Gospel " by Joe Carter.

1. The absence of a serious doctrine of the biblical necessity and the normalcy of suffering.
2. The lack of a clear and prominent doctrine of self-denial is a tip-off that something is amiss.
3. Absence of serious exposition of scripture.
4. Pastors who have exorbitant lifestyles.
5. Absence of dealing with tensions in Scripture.
6. A prominence of self and marginalization of the greatness of God.

Kenneth and Gloria Copeland are one of the most successful, "name and claim it" prosperity preachers today. Their reported wealth is $1 billion. As an example of his prosperity gospel, Kenneth Copeland quote sums it all up, saying:

"I was shocked when I found out the biggest failure in the Bible actually is...I mean He lost His top-ranking, most anointed angel; the first man He Created; the first woman He ever created; the whole earth and all the fullness therein; a third of the angels, at least- that's a big loss man.... Now the reason you don't think of God as a failure is He never said He's a failure. And you're not a failure till you say you're one." (taken from Ken Copeland, audio-clip "Christianity in Crisis" Hank Hanegraaf)

As Copeland explains it, all a Christian has to do is always speak as though they have wealth, that new car, that exotic vacation, and any other desires of the heart, and it will apparently appear out of thin air. The two private planes Copeland owns did not come from his positive "name and claim it" philosophy but from the donations of all his gullible followers.

After studying many of these preachers, I sat down and read the epistles to see what the apostles had written. I only found one vague verse that might be used to claim prosperity. However, I did find many verses that revealed the true meaning of Christianity and being satisfied and content without seeking wealth and comfort like the following:

1 Timothy 6:5 -11. "Perverse disputing of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth supposing that gain is godliness: from such withdraw thyself. But Godliness with CONTENTMENT (emphasis added by me) is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. And having food and raiment let us be therewith content. But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition. For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith and pierced themselves through with many sorrow. But thou, O man of God, flee these things: and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, meekness."

Mark 10: 29-30. " And Jesus answered and said, verily I say unto you, there is no man that has left house or brethren, or sisters and brothers or father, or mother, or wives or children, or lands, for my sake and the gospels. But he shall receive a hundredfold now in this time, houses, and children, and lands, with persecutions, and in the world to come eternal life. [Geneva Study Bible Commentary says Mark 10 means, "One will receive a hundred times as much, if we use the commodities of this life in a proper way, so that we use them in accordance of will of God, and not just to gain the wealth itself, and to fulfill our greedy desire."]

Philippians 4:19. But my God and our Father shall supply all your need [not want] according to his riches in glory by Jesus Christ.

In summary, scriptures do not guarantee a life with every one of our 'desires' met, but God promises to meet all our "NEEDS." The epistles talk much more about willingness to suffer and undergo persecution in Christ namesake. God looks to and fro across the world looking to find faithful followers, sober and holy in all their ways. Paul says, in Roman 2:1 ".....glory; honor, and peace to every man that worketh good.; Roman 5:3 but we glory in tribulations also: knowing that tribulation maketh patience." Indeed the scriptures admonish a follower of Christ to be willing to suffer and go through hardships; being more concerned about working in Christ's kingdom as a godly example to the lost. There are few if any examples in the epistles where Christians should be seeking worldly comforts. Instead, it is commanded to seek first the kingdom of God, then all "NEEDS" will be provided, and some will receive riches to use in Christ's kingdom work. Paul said in Phillip. 4:11, "Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned to, in whatever state I am, therewith to be content."

The prosperity and "Name it and claim it" gospels preached in today's churches, emphasizes self-improvement, perfect health, perfect financial success, but it ignores suffering and sacrifice. The enormous detriment to this theology is the harm it does to untold millions of people honestly seeking God. When they do not receive all the perfect blessings, and they or a family member is ill, they blame themselves for not having enough faith; not giving enough to the church; until they lose hope entirely and stop seeking Jesus. I can testify to these results in my own life that led me into fifteen years of wandering in the wilderness.

In most American churches, sacrifice means having to go to church every Sunday and maybe Wednesdays. And while in church, the present day Christian is more worried about missing part of a football game on television that day. Americans, Christians and unbelievers alike have no concept of what real sacrifice entails. In most countries of the world, it is increasingly a life-threatening event to even go to church or confess their belief. Hundreds of thousands of Christians are killed in places like Mideast East, Africa, China just for believing in Jesus. But the biggest threat to American churches, is that they do not even know the sign of the times we live. For anyone willing to do a minimal search of alternative media (not the Mainstream Media), can quickly realize we are living in the End Times. This book's primary purpose is to awaken the world and expose the great tribulation rapidly coming in the United States and the world. The Bible says men's hearts will fail them for what is coming upon the earth. Even for those that do not have a religious belief system, it is just as important for every person to read and understand the revelation revealed in this book. So, please keep an open mind when reading the following chapters. As for American Christians, their lives and very souls are under threat by the failure of their pastors, priests, and church leaders. The scriptures warn that lack of knowledge destroys God's people!

As one reads through this book, the reasons our country and the world are in such peril will become clear. So, I implore you to read through the whole book which will correlate everything, answering the "big question," why, when, where, how, and by whom, our world is in such peril!

CHAPTER IV

Decline of the American Empire

I often hear commentators, pastors, government officials say America's best years are ahead. Even President Trump ran on the slogan, "Make America Great Again," but is this even realistic.? On the internet site www.Patrickhenrysociety.com is an article by Kit Perez dated August 24, 2017, titled "Hard Truths and the Biggest Duty You Have." It is often stated and written that America is an exceptional nation, and in many ways, it has been. However, like many previous empires, it is in decline- quickly reaching a terminal stage. Perez quotes from the book "The Fate of Empires" by Sir John Glubb, 1978. The book exposes what has happened to all great empires and superpowers. Quoting Glubb, he says,

"...The experience of the human race has been recorded in more or less detail for some four thousand years. If we attempt to study such a period in as many countries as possible, we seem to discover the same patterns constantly repeated under widely differing conditions, culture, and religion."

Glubb's research can be summed up in using two significant points [rise and fall] and second [progression in trends]. Trends show every single empire in history fell at the age of 200- 250 years. The first trend is the length of empire from rising to fall:

Nation/Empire	Dates of Rising and Fall
Assyria	859 - 612 B.C.
Persian and Cyrus Descendants	538 - 330 B.C.
Greece and Descendants	331 - 100 B.C.
The Roman Republic	260 - 27 B.C.
Roman Empire	27 B.C.- 180 A.D.
Arab Empire	624 - 880
Mameluke Empire	1250 - 1517
Ottoman Empire	1320 - 1570
Spain	1500 - 1750
Romanov Empire	1682 - 1916
Britain	1700 - 1950

The second Trend of progression shows the commonality between these nations as follows:

Defensiveness

Pessimism

Materialism

Frivolity

An influx of foreigners

The welfare state

A weakening of religion

These trends list the similarity between America and the Rise and fall of the Roman Empire. By no means is this comparison exhaustive, but it shows a frightening pattern. There are many reasons expressed for Fall of Rome, but the consensus is:

1. Invasion by Barbarian tribes
2. Rise of Eastern Empire in Constantinople
3. Economic troubles and over-reliance on slave labor
4. Over-expansion and military overspending
5. Disunity and civil war
6. The arrival of the Huns and the migration of barbarian tribes
7. Christianity and loss of traditional morals
8. Weakening of Roman Legion (military)
9. Corruption

Glubb's research shows that the Roman Empire fall in 180 A.D., followed in 192- 284 by 28 Emperors. These emperors were weak, and many put into power by the army. Marcus Aurelius was the last, as recognized by historians, as a good emperor.

Then began rule by poor leaders like Nero and Commodus - who was made famous in the movie "Gladiator", starring Russell Crow and Joaquin Phoenix. These two emperors began to squander much of the treasury which led to bankruptcy. Eventually, an overextended military, decaying infrastructure like road system, and barbarian invasion led to civil wars and disunity. Under Diocletian, who viewed the empire as too large to rule, he divided it into two parts Western and Eastern- latter known as the Byzantine Empire.

The economic decline was evident with inflation, price freezes, wage control, and debasement of the currency. Jobs passed from father to son. Landowners could chain workers to prevent them from leaving. To keep the growing unemployed complacent, extensive welfare and games for entertainment ensued. The rise of slavery using the many peoples conquered and brought in from territories resulted in an increase in unemployment with a need for gladiators fighting to the death, prisoners executed by bloody means, all for amusement to placate Roman citizens. [Note: it has been stated that the games, at one point, used one-third of empire's income.] The last stage was senate and republican rule degenerated into a dictatorship with an ignoring of the laws. [Note how the US is no longer run by the rule of law.]

The wealth and land attracted barbaric tribes like Goths to migrate to the Roman Empire where they were invited to settle. However, most of the tribes never gave up their cultures and did not integrate into Roman society. Even the famous author Gibbons, the writer of the epic book "The Rise and Fall of Rome," believed the arrival of Christianity was one reason contributing to fall. However, many of the invading tribes were Christian. Perhaps it was the loss of a structured religion established since Rome's founding, that added cohesiveness to its society. So how does America compare to Rome?

America began when pioneers like Columbus, English colonists, French fur trappers and explorers, and others came to a new world looking to escape tyranny in Europe. The "Old World" was ruled by monarchies and landed aristocrats which stifled opportunity. Many came seeking religious freedom. Conquest of the new land began with wars fought between Native Americans tribes, then later against rival European countries like England, France, Spain, and Portugal. By the beginning of the 19th century, the Revolutionary War, War of 1812, French and Indian Wars, Spanish American War, and Mexican American War had settled the conquest phase. Just like the city-state Rome, defeating the surrounding tribes and city-states on the Italian peninsula.

The Commerce Age started, and by the end of the 19th century, the U.S. was one of the leading economic powers in the world. The motto for the country was, "America's business, is business." Affluence soon followed, and except for a few bleeps like the Great Depression, America was the world's leading economic power. Like Rome, whose far-flung empire brought in food, raw materials, and luxury goods, America was spreading its trading ties across the world. The U.S. became the leading oil producer and auto manufacturer with the assembly line concept started by Henry Ford. In electronics, aviation, atomic industry, and in many other fields our scientific patents led the world.

By the end of World War II, the U.S. was the economic powerhouse of the world having most of the industrial manufacturing base, most of the gold (80%), and the world's reserve currency. At Bretton Woods, it was agreed to recognize U.S. dollar as the reserve currency in international trade. Gold fully backed the dollar. The United States was the undisputed economic, military, and wealthiest power in the world, but like Roman Empire, the decadence phrase of America started. [This author believes the point of decline began in 1913 and sped up in 1971.]

In 1910, at the secluded Jekyll Island off the coast of Georgia, the foundation was laid for the Federal Reserve Act. A group of wealthy industrial, political, and bankers planned reform of the nations banking system. This meeting was kept secret until the 1930's. The plan was concerned with financial panics that periodically roiled the nation. During these panics, cash reserves were held in thousands of banks or as deposits in financial institutions and designated as reserves in central reserve cities. The American banking system, in essence, was immobile and equity markets volatile. This volatility created economic instability. This above explanation was very simplistic, but in the interest of not putting anyone reading this to sleep, it will suffice just to say that these men at Jekyll Island saw an opportunity to impose a new central U.S. bank.

At the end of this secret meeting, a plan had developed as the Reserve Association of America. It was proposed to create a single central bank with fifteen branches. The idea was presented to the National Monetary Commission in 1911, and a year later a final report went to Congress. Eventually, the planning and behind the scene workings, resulted in the Federal Reserve Act and passed by Congress in 1913 and passed into law by the signature of President Woodrow Wilson. (This brief summary was taken from: www.federalreservehistory.org/jekyll_island_conference).

The 1913 Federal Reserve Act was not the first central bank in U.S. history. George Washington and Alexander Hamilton in 1791 created a central depository for federal funds. In 1916, a Second Bank of the United States was founded after the first bank charter expired. When President Andrew Jackson took office in 1829, the bank was viewed by him as to how a privileged class of businessmen oppressed the people of America. In 1834, Jackson succeeded in destroying the bank by letting its charter expire. The Federal Reserve Bank (otherwise known as the "Fed") is a privately owned bank mostly funded and controlled by bankers and wealthy individuals. It is no more federal than Federal Express. In an article by Michael Snyder on the Internet site www.theeconomiccollapseblog.com, explains, "Reasons Why the Federal Reserve is Bad." Snyder asks the question why a non-elected, privately owned bank has control of America's currency; run our economy; and has driven the U.S. government to the brink of bankruptcy.....it is an institution designed to drain wealth from U.S. government (and ultimately from the American people) and transfers it to ultra-wealthy....The truth is that our financial system is centrally-controlled and centrally managed by a group of banking oligarchs who have constructed an ever-expanding debt spiral which has been efficiently designed to transfer all wealth into their hands slowly." Summarizing the reasons for this as laid out by Snyder are:

1. The Federal Reserve has enslaved the U.S. government and American people with a national debt, currently $20 trillion and counting, and this does not include private and commercial debt.

2. The U.S. could just print all the money it needs to pay off our debt. (Note: Constitution only gives Congress the power to issue money). But under this reserve system, the country can not print its own money. If the government needs money, it has to borrow it from the Fed and pay interest, thus going further into debt.
3. The Fed creates wealth out of thin air with keystrokes.
4. The enormous predatory mega-banks that now dominate the U.S. banking system use the Fed as a tool to make money for its owners.
5. The Fed devalues our currency. Since the creation of Fed in 1913, the dollar has lost 98% of its purchasing power. (The Fed's goal of 2% inflation rate will wipe out half of your purchasing power in one generation.)
6. The Fed manipulates the U.S. economy by setting interest rates. By keeping the rates high or low, the Fed has the power to create economic growth or to destroy it. They have the power to create massive bubbles like the 2008 housing bubble that caused the "Greater Recession" that almost collapsed the world banking system.
7. The Fed controls the national money supply and can pump money into or out of the economy. (This led to disastrous consequences in the 1929 stock Market Crash). By withdrawing money from the economy, the Fed made the Depression much worse and more prolonged.
8. Fed is not part of the U.S. government. As proof, in defending itself against a lawsuit, Bloomberg requested information under the Freedom of Information Act, but the Fed objected by declaring that it was not an agency of the U.S. Government and therefore not subject to the Freedom of Information request.
9. Fed has become far too powerful. In fact, Ron Paul recently told MSNBC that he believes the Fed is more powerful than Congress. (Similar to the Roman Empire when the Senate no longer had any power but was at the mercy of the emperor.)
10. Wall Street, the New York and global banking systems dominate the Fed. The Fed past chairman during 2008 economic crisis wanted to eliminate minimum reserve requirements of banks. (This is important because the current fractional reserve banking system allows banks to lend $9 for each $1 in reserves, merely meaning for each $1 a bank has in deposits, it can lend out $9. (To this author it is just another form of bogus money printing.)
11. The Fed is not accountable to anyone. Since 1913, it has never been audited. Synder said, "Have you ever wondered if it was a coincidence that personal income tax was implemented just about the same time of creation of Fed?"

The big question, "Why care who controls or runs the Fed?" To answer the question, we only have to quote Mayer Rothschild who said, "Permit me to issue and control the money supply of a nation, and I care not who makes its laws." This comment pretty well summarizes why the control of money gives the power to control politicians, governments, nations, and peoples. The Roman Empire, just like the Fed, created inflation and ultimately helped in its destruction. As Rome expanded its empire, it conquered lands, where it extracted wealth and resources. After its expansion phase ended, Rome's ability to fund its far-flung empire and military ended. Soon infrastructure was not maintained (just like the US). The Roman government solution was to debase its currency by adding other base metals to their gold and silver, coins. Eventually, a silver Roman Denarius was only 0.02% silver which created inflation. Similar to Rome, the U.S. has debased our currency 98%, soon to reach zero. This debasement will make our currency unacceptable to many nations, making it impossible to import needed resources. Our military will have to be recalled from overseas. Our infrastructure is already in decay- bridges, roads, sewer, and water plant systems- and the list goes on, are rapidly falling apart for lack of repair and replacement. A civil engineering report estimated that the U.S. needs 2 trillion dollars to begin repair on our failing infrastructure.

America has gone down the same road where inflation has destroyed our purchasing power and standard of living. An important date mentioned at beginning of this chapter was 1971 when Nixon withdrew U.S. pledge in the Bretton Woods agreement to back our currency with gold and silver. Up until that time, our money was gold and silver certificates where anyone, including nations, could present our money to banks and withdraw physical gold and silver. However, like Rome trying to continue their foreign wars, our country could no longer afford its wars. At the time, Nixon was fighting a war in Vietnam. Before dropping the gold standard, the U.S. could not import more than it could pay in gold to countries that had accumulated excess dollars. But the U.S. came up with another scheme to continue its debasement of the currency. Nixon sent Henry Kissinger to Saudi Arabia and convinced them to accept only dollars for their oil. But this new Ponzi scheme is a story for another book.

The United States has used borrowing to maintain its ever-increasing budget outlays. From 1929 to 1949, the national debt went from $17 billion to $253 billion, but by 2009 the debt was $11.9 trillion, and by 2017 it is over $20 trillion. The current figure is over 100% of our nation's GDP, meaning; to pay off our debt, it would require more than all the domestic production or wealth created in a year. When in high school in the 60's, my economic teacher said it was not a big deal. It was only money we owed ourselves, but this is certainly not true today. Much of our debt is owned by foreigners and the rest of the Fed in the form of Treasury Notes. The current interest payment on the debt, even with the historically low-interest rates, is $266 billion so far in 2017. (Reported to be close to $500 billion interest due by year-end.) Even more importantly, the U.S. government still has to borrow 40% just to meet its federal budget. If the Fed did not keep the interest rate so low (Currently less than 2% interest rate) but had to pay more historical rates of 5 to 6%, our interest payment on national debt would be $1 trillion. Now you can begin to understand why the Fed can never let the interest rate rise much. (If you're a retiree trying to live on your savings, you're in a world of hurt. To add insult to injury, real inflation rate, not manipulated rate, is decreasing purchasing power every year. Maintaining this low rate, the Fed is also ensuring the future retirees will have much less to live on, estimating that the private pensions funds are underfunded by at least $2 trillion a year.

Like Romans, many Americans are in a form of slavery. Americans have to work at jobs they may hate or work 60- 70 hrs per week to service their living costs and debts. In Roman times, the law allowed workers to be chained to keep them on the land, working for the aristocratic class. (Modern times equivalence is landlords, banks, and creditors that have people in bondage.) Americans are chained to a job to receive retirement, health insurance, and job security while paying off their massive debt load.

While our national debt is over $20 trillion, our unfunded liabilities (social security, Medicare, federal retirements) are over $200 trillion. In an internet article by Jason Charles at www.wakenthechurch.org, Aug. 16, 2017, sums up our national dilemma, he says, "The U.S. government is drowning in a whopping $19 trillion dollars worth of debt, and the figure doesn't include the private debt. A former U.S. Comptroller General recently went on the record to say U.S. debt is $65 trillion (The Hill), and is without question an unsustainable debt burden that alone can destroy this country through insolvency."

Our founding fathers knew how dangerous debt could be to the country. President George Washington said, "...avoid....the accumulation of debt not only by shunning occasions of expense but by vigorous exertion to discharge the debts, no throwing upon posterity the burden which we ourselves ought to bear." President Jefferson said, "I wish it were possible to obtain a single amendment to the Constitution. I would be willing to depend on that alone for the reduction of the administration of our government to the genuine principles of its Constitution, I mean an additional article taking from the federal government the power of borrowing."

(Note: The Bible warned not to be a borrower as it leads to slavery.)

Two more points made by the author Perez about what leads to the age of decadence and death of a nation need discussing. The first point is that the Roman Empire's decline included an influx of foreigners. America has and is allowing an uncontrolled invasion of this country by legal and illegal aliens (our form of barbarian hordes). The last few decades have seen vast numbers of foreign peoples migrating to our shores. Like the Roman time hordes, they have come for better lives and naturally to acquire money and lands, homes, etc. The Pew Research Center reported as of 2013, 41 million or 13.1% of U.S. population is foreign born (I assume this does not include illegal aliens). In the past, immigration or migration was primarily from Mexico and other Hispanic countries. However, in recent decade or two, a surge of Africans, Asian, and Mideast immigration has surged. The critical point to make is just like Rome, once large numbers of foreigners were allowed to enter, the acceleration of Rome's decline increased. The foreigners did not integrate into Roman society and eventually demanded Rome adapt to their culture and beliefs. The Roman birth rate declined while foreign birth rate increased. America finds itself in same dilemma today. Foreign-born immigrants birth rates are approaching double the rate as native-born. As the population has grown, especially the children of foreigners, are demanding Americans adapt to their language and culture. As we have recently seen, many of these ethnic foreign cultures are more vocal about demanding open borders and accommodating their ethnic backgrounds. La Raza, an organization, formed as an advocacy group for Mexican culture and political power, has been recently calling for U.S. Southwest be politically or culturally conquered by Mexico. It is calling for the establishment of Aztlan as a nation independent from Mexico and the U.S. Especially worrisome is the recent tidal wave of Mideastern (mostly Muslims). No-go-zones' are popping up in America as in Europe where even the police are afraid to enter certain neighborhoods populated by Muslims. It's reported 22 Muslim extremist camps are operating in America, later to be discussed in more detail.

The second point that Perez brought out was the Welfare State Rome developed. As more slaves were brought in from conquered peoples, the elite Romans no longer needed to hire Roman citizens. As unemployment increased, the Roman elite was forced to initiate a massive welfare state to quell any uprisings. Very similarly the pressure has grown on the U.S. government to provide welfare programs to those forced out of the workforce by off-shoring jobs and bringing in foreigners to enter the country on work visas, undercutting wages. Then the illegal immigrants invasion of people willing to work off the books for much lower wages has increased the problem. For the first time in the history of the U.S., there are more people receiving some type of public payment than working. Even illegal and legal immigrants can receive welfare benefits, schooling for children, free medical care, food stamps, etc. This uncontrolled immigration and welfare cannot go on forever and will end badly, just like it did for Rome.

I just have to say I am not bashing foreigners, but I am just laying out the facts about the effect on our country. It is up to each reader whether they find the information upsetting, worrisome, or right. Point being, if America falls economically, it will affect everyone. These immigrants will discover that the American people have allowed the goose, laying the golden eggs, to be eaten, and there will no longer be enough for anyone.

Summarizing this chapter with a quote from Jason Charles in an article, "Wake the Church" on the History Channel. Charles said, "The similarities between American Empire and Roman Empire are uncanny. Almost all of the same issues that resulted in the destruction and decay of the Roman Empire are present in the modern American Empire, and something that cannot easily be reversed. The moral decay, the greed, and the corruption took many decades to infest our systems and institutions; it would be equally as long or longer to reverse this trend. There simply are too many forces at work that sees the ultimate destruction of the greatest nation the world has ever seen. What we see on the news, in our jobs, on our T. V.s, in our institutions, and in the streets is just the tip of a large iceberg that spells out certain destruction".

He goes on to say, "The churches and pastors, I feel are mainly to blame for the fall of our nation. It is their ordained duty to espouse the Biblical principles that formed this nation, and rail against the corrupt politicians and leaders who would tear this country away from these truths, something they have failed to do at every turn."

In the next chapter, the intent will be to begin the process of discussing the final stage of America's decline. If this book can start to expose American's delusional mindset, then perhaps a paradigm shift can be begun toward an awakening. The hope being that this country will begin to understand the truth and reality of the troubles that are assaulting the United States.

CHAPTER V

THE DELUSION OF 9/11, A FALSE FLAG

September 11, 2001 was a pivotal point in America's rapid decline into a totalitarian police state. The first reality being that the U.S. is no longer a democracy, capitalistic, Christian, or economically viable. What happened on 9/11 was not a foreign attack on this country, but a domestic attack sponsored by elements of our corrupt government and hidden "Deep State" entities. Most Americans were brainwashed into a patriotic furor to accept the head-long plunge into tyranny and loss of freedom.

After the attack on the World Trade Centers, the country willingly accepted the government's explanation, forgoing any critical thinking skills, which are lobotomized by our fake news and corporate propaganda arm of the state. Case in point, www.blacklistednews.com published an article, May 8, 2013, titled,

"Media Now Openly Admitting The Government Controls the News." (source Alexander Higgins) Essential points stated:

1. Corporate media is now openly admitting that they are in fact controlled stenographers that do nothing more than echo pre-scripted narratives outlined in talking points created by the rulers of America's shadow government.
2. Subliminal manipulating the consciousness of the masses is a science that the government has completely mastered.
3. The Benghazi story showed the murder of U.S. Ambassador Stevens under very questionable circumstances, and news outlets admitted eight months of news reports were nothing more than the parroting of CIA issued talking points.
4. The real scandal is not the fact the news outlets lied, but that the media is using government list of talking points to manipulate the public and not the result of objective independently verified investigative journalism.

In conclusion, Higgins points out the fact that corporate media controlled "American Gestapo" does not dare step off script and report anything besides the talking points the government gives them. Most importantly Higgins says, ".....destruction of the Constitution through an escalating campaign of post 9/11 hogwash from the Patriot Act, the NDAA [National Defense Authorization Act], and drone, to draconian measures, continually to be pushed by the propaganda machine to implement measures such as CISPA, real-time total surveillance, and the inevitable disarming of the public."

To understand how Americans have been brainwashed, dissect the 9/11 attack. Almost from the moment, the planes crashed into the WTCs (World Trade Centers), talk began that things did not seem right. I remember the discussions about a planeload of Saudis immediately flown out of the country. Some of the compelling arguments about something amiss were:

1. Just before 9/11 attacks, there were fishy stock market trading and dealings within insurance firms. Large amounts of put options (bets that a stock will decline) were placed on United Airlines and American Airlines stocks. The Securities and Exchange Commission launched an insider trading investigation after learning Osama Bin Laden and others were involved in buying shares before the incident.

2. The twin towers did not pancake collapse by a plane crash, but it resembled a controlled demolition.

3. Pentagon attack seemed implausible as the impact holes were much smaller than a commercial airliner would have made.

4. It was reported that steel girders were pulverized to dust, yet the passports of the hijackers were miraculously found in the debris.

5. Aluminum airplanes frames are too light a material to cause such damage, not to mention aviation fuel does not burn hot enough to melt steel.

(Note: this was not the first time a large plane had crashed into a skyscraper. In 1945 a B-25 airforce bomber crashed between the 78th and 79th floors of the Empire State Building. It caused little damage and was back open very quickly.)

The conclusions by many engineers, structural architects, firefighting experts, and others that the WTC towers were the result of explosives. Professor Lynn Murgulis at Department of Geosciences at the University of Massachusetts said, " All three buildings were destroyed by carefully planned and orchestrated and executed demolitions. In another study titled, "15 Years Later On the Physics of High-rise Building Collapses " says, "It bears repeating that fires have never caused the total collapse of a steel-framed high-rise before or since 9/11."

In another article released by www.911research.wtc7.net, titled, "Evidence of Explosives in the Twin Tower Collapse" said, "Using video footage and pictures it shows the north and south towers both collapsed due to explosive detonations." [Note videos used in an article can be downloaded online using www.31vx.com/download software program]. At www.serendipity.li/wtc5.htm, Explosions reported in an article posted, titled "Evidence for Explosives in the Twin Towers" noted that within hours of towers fall, astute observers began to question the plane crash theory for the collapse. One text was from "D":

To www.USAAttacked@topica.com, sent Tuesday, Sept 11, 2001, subject- WTC Bombing. The article observed accurately and describes plane impacts and that the Towers 1 and 2 reacted in the same manner. Both look exactly like a demolition because that's what it was." Serendipity article ends with this statement, a really serious problem indeed, ends with statement: "a faction within the government of U.S. that was willing to cause the deaths of thousands of U.S. citizens is a hoax designed to terrorize the rest of the population into accepting the imposition of a totalitarian regime at home and a campaign of military aggression abroad."

Since its inception in 2006, architects and engineers for 9/11 truth have remained steadfast in its mission of exposing the flaws in the claims made by the National Institute for Safety and Technology (NIST). The NIST contends that the impact of two planes and resulting fires brought down three steel-framed skyscrapers on 9/11, but where does the third building come into play? Most Americans are unaware that a third building, WTC building 7 also collapsed, even though it was not hit by a plane. NIST claimed this building, a 47 story structure, was strictly brought down by fire. In www.express.co.uk.com article titled, "What Really Sent it Down?" Shock report reveals 9/11 Tower 7 DID NOT collapse because of the fire that burned for 7 hours. A skyscraper in Philadelphia burned for 18 hours in 1991, and a high-rise in Madrid in 2005 each remained standing following fires. Further, a group of engineers from the University of Alaska insists flames could not have brought the tower down.

Foreign Policy Journal in an article "A Scientific Theory of WTC 7 Collapse", Feb. 14, 2011, by Michael Fullerton says, "This article will show that the NIST theory is a highly convoluted theory that cannot explain important observations....A major piece of evidence in the WTC 7 collapse is the fact that WTC 7 free-fall acceleration for 2.2 secs. A free falling building means there is no supporting structure whatsoever below to slow the buildings fall.....In summary was that NIST gave no evidence for the free fall. On other key points, NIST gave no scientific evidence to prove fire alone collapsed the building. The article stated, "The best alternative to NIST's WTC 7 theory is the controlled demolition theory."

As to the question, "What explosives were used to bring down WTC 1,2,7 ?" The use of thermite was claimed. Thermite is a mixture of very small or nanoparticles size metals like aluminum and iron. The critical point is that it burns at 4000 degrees F which is much more adequate to melt steel than furniture and carpet fire. Nano-thermite can be formulated to be explosive, and evidence exists that nano-thermite was present on 9/11 at the WTC site.

In a report published by Europhysics News, a group of engineers and physicists, it detailed the flaws in NIST's story and the apparent bias in its process. Steven Jones, one of the authors of the report, mentioned the presence of nano-thermite in dust from the wreckage and brought it to the attention of NIST. They declined to take samples of their own to test for nano-thermite. One last important point is why did BBC correspondent, Jane Standley, report collapse of WTC 7, 20 minutes before it happened. Does this show a scripted news item that Standley just jumped-the-gun in reporting it?

Now, how about the Pentagon attack? It's been claimed that after the attack, no airplane engines were found, and the impact hole was too small. Furthermore, evidence that attack was undertaken with a missile. Quoting Major Gen. Stubbeline, he said, "I saw a missile hitting the Pentagon, not a plane". All the sensors covering the Pentagon complex were turned off that day, but one sensor apparently did not turn off. It shows the object that hit the Pentagon did not look like a plane. Commercial airline pilots have also questioned the ability to fly a large aircraft, at that speed, and maneuver it at the angle it hit.

So, if we accept that 9/11 was an "inside job," by some part of our government, what was the reason? As mentioned already, the attacks were used to control the nation for nefarious goals—the unopposed passing of the Patriot Act, NDAA (National Defense Authorization Act), and other liberty killing acts. David Steele who was the second highest ranking civilian in U.S. Marine Corps and intelligence; former CIA clandestine services said, "Most terrorist acts are false flags and created by our nation's security services. In the U.S., every single terrorist incident we have had, has been a false flag....(A false flag is used to allow the desired outcome, e.g., Bay of Tonkin false flag that kicked Vietnam War into high gear; false information that Iraq had weapons of mass destruction to start the Iraq War; explosion of U.S.S. Maine in Havana Harbor to start Spanish American War).

[Note: as book was written, another false flag occurred in Las Vegas, Nevada with a mass shooting that left at least 58 dead and over 500 injured.] Almost before the bullets stopped flying, there began a campaign to cover up the evidence. First, it was claimed that there was only one shooter. However, as more witnesses came forward proving that there were multiple shooters at Mandalay Bay casino and other casinos, the story was changed by officials to include another shooter. Officials always use the same pattern in these mass shootings. It is a lone shooter, on psychotropic drugs, and kills himself before capture. It is never called a terrorist act. Then immediately the anti-gun lobby and Democrats call for gun confiscation. (Hillary Clinton, in this case, was first to call for banning all guns.) As in the past, all the evidence will soon disappear, and witnesses will begin dying under suspicious circumstances. Already a critical witness Jesus Campos is missing, and a healthy 28-year-old female witness who was trying to organize a group of witnesses to dispute the narrative of a lone shooter was found dead in an abandoned shed.

The big question is: Who is behind these false flags? The current suspects are the "Deep State," the "banksters", and nefarious U.S. intelligence agencies that act outside of Congressional or Presidential control. Again, remember America is no longer a Constitutional republic run by rule-of-law. The Deep State is a coordinated effort by career, mostly non-elected career bureaucrats and money controlling bankers, who secretly operate behind the scenes influencing public policy without regard to democratically elected leadership. Canadian economist Dr. Michel Chossudovsky, Emeritus Professor of Economics at University of Ottawa, said,

"We are dealing with a criminal [undertaking] at a global level....and there is an ongoing war, it is lead by the U.S.A., it may be carried out by many proxy countries which are obeying orders from Washington."

It is no secret that government policy is dictated by corporations and the financial controllers of most of the world's money that oppress us. Some say we no longer live in a functional democracy. Former President Jimmy Carter has said, "Our democracy no longer works." Others call America a socialist/communistic nation. Others say an oligarchy controls us, but whatever description is used, it has gained control of our energy, food supply, weather, government leaders, healthcare, educational systems, and just about every other aspect of our lives.

Many of our past presidents have tried to warn us. President Eisenhower warned of military industrial complex and the disastrous rise of misplaced power. President Kennedy warned citizens of living in a system which conscripted most human resources into the building of a machine that combines military, diplomatic, intelligence, economics, scientific, and political operations. This method is concealed and its mistakes are hidden and buried.

Hopefully, convincing evidence has been given that there is a cabal of behind the scene elitists who have a nefarious goal of a New World Order which will create a one world government, religion, and economy. This cabal is desperate to accomplish the goal before the public awakens. One of the goals of 9/11 was to destroy evidence that would help expose their plans. The WTC 7 was one operation to cover up their plans. The building was a threat to them- having offices for the CIA, NSA, FBI, SEC which contained tons of evidence on corporate fraud that could collectively have constituted many Enrons that would've put many away for hundreds of years. Enron was exposed just after 9/11 as a vehicle involved in transnational interests involving one of the largest accounting and auditing firms, foreign leaders, and nations, not to mention prominent American politicians. In Cabal Times article "Enron and 9/11, Connecting the Dots", it was stated, "Enron is a scandal so enormous that it is hard to wrap your mind around it. Not just a single financial disaster, it's a jigsaw of interlocking scandals, each outrageous in it's own right."

The connection between Enron and the Rothschilds is shadowy, and Enron was a dummy corporation that transferred all its assets to other companies and banks. One example of Enron's dealings was its California involvement in electric companies where bills were pumped up. The governor of California was caught buying electricity for $137 per megawatt but selling it back to Enron for $1 per megawatt. Some of the guys who designed the system in California for deregulation went to work for Enron. The man responsible for audit committee was Lord Wakeham who is a real piece of work. Every business Wakeham has been a part of, has been a conflict of interest which is no surprise as he is the head of N.M. Rothschild.

Enron's tentacles spread to Qatar, India, Turkmenistan, and Afghanistan. While the nation was traumatized by 9/11, preparations were being made to use the event as a shield for Enron. It's crimes included overstating its earnings by billions. Most importantly, was that the SEC, who was investigating the Enron insider trading, had offices in WTC 7 where much of the case files were stored. It was speculated that WTC 7 was brought down to destroy the Enron files stored there so that missing assets could never be recovered.

Coincidentally, it has been claimed that the Pentagon attack was used to cover up the missing $2.3 trillion at the Department of Defense. The day before 9/11, Secretary of Defense, Donald Rumsfeld, had testified before a congressional committee investigating the missing trillions. He claimed he did not know where the money had gone. The Pentagon claims its auditors could not account for 25% of the military budget. The day of the attack on the Pentagon, auditors were meeting in the Pentagon to find the missing money. Conveniently the plane/missile struck the offices where the auditors were meeting and all were killed with all the records of the investigation destroyed!

Perhaps this chapter can be summarized with a quote from Mark Twain (a man with more common sense than most) who said:

"The statesman will invent cheap lies, putting the blame upon the nation that is attacked, and every man will be glad of those conscience-soothing falsities and will diligently study them; and thus he will by and by convince himself the war is just and will thank God for the better sleep he enjoys after this process of grotesque self-deception."

Twain pretty well sums up the mindset of the psychopaths that rule the Deep State. They have no conscience and death of thousands or millions is inconsequential to further their goals. In following chapters, what America and in fact the world faces of the cabal will be analyzed. Although many of our present and past leaders have tried to warn us, the Bible almost 2,000 years ago, gave a warning of the times we live. Jesus in Book of Revelations gave Apostle John a clear description of what is now overtaking the world. Jesus warned that men's hearts would fail them for what is coming upon the world. As the global elite try and impose their will on the world, hell will be brought literally to earth. However, God said he will destroy those who would destroy the earth.

[Note breaking news on Nov. 15, 2017, released on www.beforeitsnews.com, in an article titled, "Saudi King Confirms Recent Arrests And Purge Of Royal Family" by NESARA. The article said, "The King of Saudi Arabia has admitted members of the Saudi Royal family helped Orchestrate the attack of 9/11 upon the United States, and they have now been arrested."]

CHAPTER VI
ECONOMIC ARMAGEDDON

I have always believed that economic ruin will bring America down. The love of money is the root of all evil according to the Bible. As it is often said, "Follow the money"! The economic problems facing America can be directly attributed to the control of money. As one Rothschild said, "Let me issue and control a nation's money and I care not who writes the laws." I consider this chapter perhaps the most important to understand who controls our nation. As the primary force behind the New World Order, the Rothschild family origin, and rise to power are essential to understand.

Taken from "History of the House of Rothschild" by Andrew Hitchcock, this short expose will be enlightenment to the world of money and corruption. Hitchcock says, "The Rothschilds have been in control of the world for a very long time, their tentacles reaching into many aspects of our daily lives.....The Rothschilds claim they are Jewish, when in fact they are Khazars. They are from a country called Khazaria, which occupied the land-locked area between the Black Sea and the Caspian Sea which is now predominately occupied by Georgia. The reason they claim to be Jewish is that the Khazars under the instruction of the King, converted to the Jewish faith in 740 A.D., but of course, that did not include converting their Asiatic Mongolian genes to the genes of the Jewish people."

Furthermore, in their history, all Prime Ministers of Israel have been Ashkenazi Jews. The Ashkenazi Jews trace their roots to a group of about 330 who lived 600 to 800 years ago.... trace their origins to a founding group in the Middle Ages.... in Hebrew their name refers to Germany. Their roots are in Europe and the Middle East, roughly of an equal part, and are not recognized as closely related to Kazarian Jews. The Rothschild family, originating in the German region, is the wealthiest bloodline in the world. Their bloodline extends into the Royal Families of Europe and includes families like Astor, Dupont, Kennedy, Morgan, Oppenheimer, among others. Interestingly, Mayer Amschel Bauer (an Ashkenazi Jew) son of Moses Bauer of Germany, changed his name to Rothschild and became very successful in banking. Mayer's father Moses had a red pentagram (which geometrically and numerically translates into the number 666) which under Rothschild instruction will end up on the Israeli flag some two centuries later.

The banking empire began in the 1700s with Mayer Rothschild who ingratiates himself to Prince William IX to German House of Hesse-Henau, one of the wealthiest royal houses of Europe. While doing business with the court, he soon learns that loaning money to governments and royalty is more profitable than lending to individuals since the loans were more massive and secured by the taxes of the nation. (This is a significant fact to be discussed later.) In 1770, Rothschild made plans to create the Illuminati he based on the Talmud (teachings of learned rabbinical Jews) and not to be confused with Torah which makes up first five books of Old Testament. The Talmud contains instructions but not recognized as God inspired. The Illuminati is a Luciferian term for the "keeper of the light." The creation of the Illuminate was entrusted to Ashkenazi Jew Adam Weishaupt. In 1776 Weishaupt completed his organization of the Illuminati. The purpose was to divide the non-Jews through the political, economic, social, and religious man with the ultimate goal to destroy national governments, religious institutes, and eventually destroy them. (I believe this was the beginnings of the quest for a New World Order as envisioned by Rothschild.) Weishaupt infiltrated the Continental Order of Freemasons with the doctrine of Illuminati which is followed to the present day by worldwide Masons at 33rd-degree level.

The Rothschild's plan included using following methods to control people which includes, according to Hitchcock:

1. Use of monetary and sexual bribery to obtain control of men already in high positions of government and other fields of endeavor.
2. Use faculties of colleges and universities to find students of exceptional mental abilities and recommend them for specialized training to aid the Illuminati goals of one world government. Training is to be provided to these chosen few, elected by the Illuminati, for scholarships.
3. All those trapped or selected into coming under their control were used as agents to influence all of a nation. The goal is to serve the plan for one-world control.
4. Obtain absolute control of the press and media to make masses believe that only solution to worlds problems was through this One World Government.

Through the 1700's, to present age, the Rothschilds were involved in:

1. French Revolution
2. Using their agent Alexander Hamilton, they set up the first central bank of U.S. with a 20-year charter established in 1792. The charter was allowed to expire at the end of 20 years which caused Nathan Rothschild to issue a threat: "Teach those impertinent Americans a lesson. Bring them back to colonial status." The result was the War of 1812. Hitchcock states that Rothschilds always finances both sides of a war. They love wars because they are massive generators of risk-free debt. Using wars, the Rothschild banking empire by the end of 1800's, controlled half the wealth of the world.
3. In 1816, U.S. Congress passed another bill creating a Rothschild controlled bank.
4. 1823 The Rothschilds take over the finances of the Catholic Church.
5. During his second campaign, President Andrew Jackson ran on the slogan "Jackson and No Bank." He eventually removes the central bank, but in 1913 the Rothschilds set up the third Central Bank, our current Federal Reserve.
6. In 1848, an Ashkenazi Jew published the "Communist Manifesto." At same time Karl Rittey was writing the antitheses, which formed the basis for Fredrick Nietzsche's writings that later developed into Nazism and Fascism. This Nietzscheism helped lead to WWI and WWII.

7. In 1862, President Lincoln refused the high-interest loan required by Rothschild banks to help fight the Civil War. Instead, Lincoln printed almost $500 million debt-free money to finance the war, quoted to say, "We gave the people of this republic the greatest blessing they ever had, their own paper money to pay their own debts." That same year, Hitchcock said, Times of London publishes a story containing the following statement, "If that mischievous Financial policy, which had its origin in the North American Republic should become indurated down to a fixture, then that government will furnish its own money without cost. It will pay off debts and be without debt. It will have all the money necessary to carry on its commerce. It will become prosperous beyond precedent in the history of civilized governments of the world. The brains and the wealth of all countries will go to North America. That government must be destroyed or it will destroy every monarchy on the globe." [This paragraph epitomizes why the Federal Reserve banking system needs to be abolished.]
8. In 1865, Jacob Schiff, a Rothschild was trained and sent to America with the primary goal to:
 - A. Gain control of America's money system through the establishment of a central bank.
 - B. Recruit men with money to serve as stooges for the Illuminati and promote them into leadership positions in the federal government, the Congress, Supreme Court, and all federal agencies.
 - C. Create minority strife throughout the nation.
 - D. Create a movement to destroy religion in the U.S. with Christianity as the primary target.
9. In 1881, an American Illuminati agent, Albert Pike, completes plans for the three wars and various revolutions around the world. The first war was to destroy Russia which was to be used to attack religion, predominately Christianity. He proposed the ferment of Britain and German Empires. The second war was to be used to ferment controversy between fascism and political Zionism, leading to the holocaust of Jews in Europe. (This slaughter was acceptable since the Rothschilds are not Jewish). WW III was to be played out by using hatred of the Muslim world to play the Islamic world and political Zionists off against one another, thus forcing (West against East); Christianity against Islam. This religious fight leaving them in a mental, physical, spiritual, and economic exhaustion.
10. 1881, President Garfield was assassinated only two weeks after making Statement: ".....when you realize that the entire system, industry, and commerce are very easily controlled, one way or another, by a few powerful men at the top, you will not have to be told how periods of inflation and depression originate."

11. 1891, The British labour leader states, "...whenever there is trouble in Europe, where every rumor of war circulates, and men's minds are distraught....you may be sure that a hook-nosed Rothschild is at his game somewhere near the region of the disturbance." These type of statements so worried the Rothschilds that they began buying and controlling the news with purchase of Reuters News Agency.
12. 1897, Rothschilds founded the Zionist Congress with a goal to move all (real Jews) into a singular Jewish Nation. Ashkenazi Jew, Theodor Herzl, was later elected President of the Zionist Organization.
13. 1912, In the issue of Truth Magazine, George Conroy states the banker Jacob Schiff is head of the great banking house of Kuhn, Loeb, and Co. which represents Rothschilds on this side of the Atlantic. Schiff further said Conroy, is to be the finance minister of Standard Oil, owned by Rockefeller.
14. 1913, marked the passage of Federal Reserve Act. Senator Charles Lindbergh stated:
 "The Act establishes the most gigantic trust on earth. When the president signs the Bill, the invisible government of the monetary power will be legalized.....The greatest crime of the ages is perpetrated by this banking and currency bill."
15. 1914, WW II starts, and Rothschilds loan money to France, Britain, and Germany.
16. 1921, Jacob Schiff gave an order founding the CFR (Council on Foreign Relations whose purpose was to select politicians to carry on the Rothschild's plan of one world government. The first job of the CFR was to gain control of the press. The task given to John D. Rockefeller was the establishment of magazines like Life and Time. Rockefeller also financed Samuel Newhouse to buy up and establish a chain of newspapers all across the U.S. like the Washington Post, Newsweek, and the Weekly Magazine. The task of controlling radio, television, and motion pictures was given to international bankers like Kuhn Loeb, Goldman Sachs, the Warburgs, and Lehmanns.
17. 1930, The first Rothschild World Bank was formed called "Bank for International Settlements (BIS) in Basel, Switzerland. In 1945, two new banks were established by Rothschilds, the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank.
18. 1948, Rothschilds bribe President Truman to recognize Israel as a sovereign using a $2 million donation to his campaign.
19. 1963, On June 4th, JFK signs Executive Order 11110 which returned to the U.S. government the power to issue currency, without going through the Rothschild owned Federal Reserve. On Nov. 22, of that year, JFK is assassinated in Dallas. On the flight returning the president's body to Washington D.C., the just sworn in new president Lyndon Johnson was reported to have rescinded the Exe. Order 11110. (I wonder if LBJ was warned that same thing would befall him as it did JFK if he did not rescind the order?)

20. 1985, Eustace Mullins publishes "Who Owns the TV Networks" in which he revealed the Rothschilds control the three major networks (ABC, NBC, CBS).

21. 1987, Edmond de Rothschild creates the World Conservation Bank which is used to transfer debts from third world countries to their banks in return for those countries giving land as collateral for the loans. Thus allowing the Rothschild banks to gain control of the third world which is 30% of land surface on earth.

I apologize for such a lengthy introduction to this chapter using Hitchcock's article on the history of Rothschilds. However, it is highly relevant to why the U.S. and world find itself in the current economic, spiritual, and political decline- all designed and planned by this Illuminati cabal. I highly recommend that one reads the whole work both parts I and 2 of Hitchcock's book at www.rense.com/general88/hist.h by Andrew Hitchcock. Like myself, you will be amazed and angered by the revelations. The time taken to read this history will go a long way to explain just who is the Deep State and nefarious elements, that from behind the scenes, control all aspects of our lives.

Just why is the global banking system such a dire threat? Currently, only three banks are not integrated into the world banking system controlled by just a few families. Quoting from www.theeventchronicles.com in the article authored by editor titled, "Only Three Countries Left Without a Rothschild Central Bank!" says, "In 2000, there were seven countries without a Rothschild central bank owned or in control. By 2017, only three banks left not controlled by the Rothschild Banking Cabal.

[In 2000]

Afghanistan

Libya Iran

Iraq Cuba

Sudan North Korea

[In 2017]

Iran Cuba

North Korea

The Chronicle article says, "It is not a coincidence that these {three} countries listed in 2017, were and still are under attack by western media, since one of the main reasons these countries have been under attack in the first place, is they do not have a Rothschild owned central bank."

In 2003, Afghanistan was no longer without a Rothschild bank, thanks to the U.S. invasion after 9/11 attack. As discussed in Chapter V, 9/11 was a false flag, to be used, among other goals, to invade Afghanistan. Soon after the U.S. gained control of the country, a central bank was established. (Note: it is reported another goal was to gain control of the heroin fields which now account for 75+% of worlds supply, used by CIA and other Black Ops to raise $100 billion a year.) In 2017, this now leaves only North Korea, Iran, and Cuba left without a Rothschild bank. The West is apparently assaulting these three countries with one goal of establishing the obligatory central bank. Cuba has been able to resist so far due to previous Russian protection and now the dictatorship of Castro brothers. North Korea and Iran are rapidly developing nuclear bomb technology, knowing full well that this is only means to guarantee their independence. Interestingly, Iran (like other Islamic countries), outlaws charging of interest on loans). With a Rothschild central bank, Iran would not have control of their money system. Until only a few hundred years ago, in many Christian nations, charging interest was forbid and in some instances punishable by death.

The Rothschild banks overcame this problem of usury laws by overthrowing a government, then putting their puppets into key positions. Besides using force, the banking system can use blackmail, bribery, assassinations, or threats of harm against anyone opposing them. Just think of JFK who was in the process of returning back America to its own printed currency and not borrowing it from the Federal Reserve.

So, how then does this "Bankster Mafia" family affect each American? Following is just a few of the most critical ways for control:

1. Control of interest rates which contracts or expands the money supply thus controlling recessions or depressions.
2. Assist in bubble creation, e.g., housing, bonds, stocks, resources like oil and metals.
3. Bank and Wall Street manipulation of gold and silver prices.
4. Debasing our currency through inflation of money supply; resulting in the eventual collapse of our fiat dollar to its intrinsic value which is zero.
5. Causing wars and Revolutions.
6. Enslavement of peoples and countries, by turning them into debtors with resulting population collapses in countries by war, famine, and pestilence.
7. Control of governments and its leaders.

Fleshing out each point above by answering Who, What, Why, When, and How, starting with government control, as stated several times, "the love of money is the root of all evil," and the Rothschilds and their minions have made money accumulation their god. These people are some of the vilest entities on earth- excluding Lucifer of course. It is no coincidence that the Rothschild Illuminati worship Lucifer as their god. As one proof, research 33rd degree Mason, and you will see who they worship. Controlling our government is very easy for these "banksters." When you control the money, you control the power structure. When a Rothschild stated, he did not care who wrote the laws as long as a Rothschild controlled the money, he knew he could also control the rules written by controlling the lawmakers.

Let me make it simple to understand the control of politicians and leaders. I will play the part of a banker minion. I have unlimited money at my disposal. Living in a state (just pick one) in the U.S., and I have instructions to control the legislature affecting my political interests. I find a few key individuals that are appealing to the public in thought, talk, and likability. Approaching this individual, I convince him (let us call him John) that I represent a group who would like to back him for public office. I promised John that his campaign will be well funded, and he will receive favorable media and press coverage as I have contacts to ensure his image while denigrating the opponent.

After John's election to office, it is guaranteed that John will receive any help he needs, but more importantly aid to get re-elected. Now all John has to do is be available to listen to some of the generous contributors' requests. Later, if John has been willing to "go along" with some critical legislature, then perhaps I will talk of future elevation in office- state senator or even governor and even a U.S. Congressional seat for John. Now I have John hooked on the prestige and power. He has become a valuable tool.

But, what if John is an individual that would be an asset to my team and is already in office. I have tried to convince him of the advantages of joining me. However, John is not interested. Having a beautifully furnished private jet, I offer to fly John to a privately owned island in the Caribbean to introduce him to some celebrities and influential men. Once there, John realizes that there are many beautiful, if very young looking women and men, hanging around flirting with everyone. After a few too many drinks and some party favors, John finds himself in a private bedroom with one of these beautiful people and nature takes its course. The next morning John, a little hungover and somewhat foggy about the night, he recoups and flies home. A few weeks later John receives a registered envelope sent to his private mailbox. Opening it, he finds a video of that night in paradise. It shows him in a compromising situation with girl or guy's portfolio, and that his bed mate is underage or perhaps a prostitute. All of a sudden John's reluctance to join my team evaporates-mission accomplished!

But, what if John is a hard case and a politician who refuses to play ball which is having an adverse affect, disrupting my plans on some very profitable endeavors. Using a dossier compiled on John by my staff, it indicates John is very religious, of strong character, and not prone to being bribed or blackmailed. This case requires an ultimatum where John needs to tow-the-line or else it would be unfortunate if something were to happen to one of his children or wife. Again, mission accomplished!

The preceding narratives seem to be a good screenplay for a movie drama or espionage thriller, but is this reality in real life? Most definitely! If it's proof needed, consider some real-life instances using Wikipedia to detail Jeffrey Epstein. Epstein is an American financier and registered sex offender in the U.S. He taught calculus and physics at Dalton School in Manhattan 1973- 1975. Among his students was the son of Alan C. Greenberg, chairman of Bear Stearns in 1976, and after ingratiating himself with Greenberg, Epstein began work as an options trader at Bear Stearns. He eventually became a partner at Stearns and later founded his own financial management firm managing assets of clients with more than $1 billion in net worth.

In early 2000's, Internet Business Times reported that a lawsuit alleged that a lawsuit alleged that Epstein installed cameras in places at his property to record sexual activity with underage girls by prominent people for criminal purposes such as blackmail. In Sept. 2002, Epstein flew Bill Clinton, Kevin Spacey (who has just been implicated in pedophilia, Nov. 2017), and Chris Tucker to Africa in his private 727 jet. In 2015, evidence surfaced that one of the powerful men at Epstein's mansion may have been Prince Andrew. In an article by Malia Zimmer published May 13, 2016, titled, "Flight Logs Showed Bill Clinton flew on Sex Offender's Jet Much More Than Previously Known." It's been reported the former president took at least 26 trips abroad on the "Lolita Express" (Epstein's jet). Trips included extended junkets around the world. The tricked-out jet was named Nabakov after the author who wrote Lolita- an inspired nickname because it was outfitted with a bed where passengers had group sex with young girls.

Question is raised why such powerful men like Clinton and Andrew would associate with a convicted pedophile? It appears like a prime example of a "Honeytrap". A honeytrap is defined as using sexual seduction and sex to trap persons into compromising situations, later to be used for blackmail. Honeytrap traps were made famous by the Soviets during the Cold War to compromise individuals into becoming a spy.

What happens when bribery, blackmail, sexual entrapment does not work? Assassination is the ultimate tool used by the global cabal. These Rothschild controlled minions (let us call them Rothies) have never been reluctant to use the orchestrated demise of individuals that oppose them. The Clintons are a prime example of the Rothies' trail of deaths. According to www.freewebs.com/jeffhead/liberty/bodycount.txt reports "90 suspicious deaths of individuals close to Bill Clinton.....". Another website <https://www.thoughtco.com/the-clinton-bodycount-40> list some of the deaths of Clinton associates. To name just a few on the list by number:

1. James McDougal, the Clintons' partner in the Whitewater land scandal in Arkansas, was indicted but died of an apparent heart attack while in solitary confinement. Was this an example of a heart gun attack? He was a key witness in Ken Starr's investigation into Whitewater. (Research Whitewater Land Scandal involving Clintons.)

2. Mary Mahoney, a former White House intern was murdered July, 1997 at a Starbucks in Georgetown near Washington D.C. The murder happened just after she was to go public with her story of sexual harassment in the White House.

3. Vince Foster, former White House counselor and colleague of Hillary Clinton at Little Rock Rose Law Firm died of two gunshots to back of the head and ruled suicide.

5. C. Victor Raiser II and Montgomery Raiser, major players in the Clinton Fundraising organization, died in a private plane crash in July 1992.

17. Danny Casolero, an investigative reporter who was investigating Mena Airport and Arkansas Development Finance Authority. He slit his wrists, apparently in the middle of his investigation.

27. Kevin Ives and Don Henry were reported to have stumbled upon the Mena Arkansas Airport drug operation. Supposedly the two were killed after falling asleep on railroad tracks, but it was reported the two were already dead before being placed on the tracks. [Important to know that there were many accusations that the Clintons, while in Arkansas political positions including governorship, were involved in drug running.]

28-35. These following listed individuals had information on Ives and Henry deaths. These seven all died before they could give testimony on the case.

Keith Coney - died 1988 from a motorcycle accident

Keith Maskle- died 1988 after being stabbed 113 times

Gregory Collins - died 1989 from gunshot wound

Jeff Rhodes 1989 - found shot and mutilated and burned in trash dump

James Milan - Found decapitated but death ruled from natural causes.

Richard Winters - died 1989 in a setup robbery

Jordan Kettleon - died 1990 shot to death in front seat of his pickup

Twelve of Clinton's bodyguards are dead. (Probably had seen too many of Clinton's crimes.)

More recently, reports that Clinton Foundation Charity donations disperse less than 1/2 percent of funds to actual charity. Case in point of the $2 billion in donations for Haiti earthquake relief, only a half percent was ever received. Former government Haitian official was found dead in 2017 in Miami hotel from a gunshot to head that was ruled suicide. His death occurred one week before he was scheduled to testify before the Senate Ethics and Anti-corruption Commission about misappropriation of earthquake donations for Haitian by the Clinton Foundation.

The evidence just listed concerns only one entity, the Clintons. In the swamp of Washington D.C. politics, you can multiply this exposure by hundreds of entities just like the Clinton crime family. I know this all sounds like a lot of conspiracy theories, but even if some is true then how does this affect my family and me personally. Truth is this corruption lowers the quality of your families economic, moral, and even health. Every aspect of your life is affected. It is no exaggeration that your families very lives are at stake. Most Americans could be immeasurably better economically and physically if it were not for this nefarious corruption perpetrated by the U.S. and global banking cabal.

It is essential to understand our country's current severe economic situation. Most importantly, it is vital to understand this banking cabal has created a debt based economy in the U.S. and the world. As already discussed, the Rothschild banking empire has transformed Americans into debt slaves. Each American taxpayer currently has a federal debt liability of $1.1 million when unfunded and personal liabilities are combined. The current national debt alone is over $20 trillion and when unfunded liabilities and private debt are consolidated, the debt is way over $200 trillion. Of this debt, (not including derivatives instruments which are over $1 quadrillion) a large part is backed by American taxpayers, pension funds, mortgages, and bank deposits, in essence, are collateral for this unimaginable sum. The interest on just the federal debt in 2017, is already $435 billion plus, at time of this writing. The current interest rate paid by the federal government is currently the lowest rate (1.5- 2%) in decades. If the interest rate were to increase to historical rates (5 -6%), the interest would be $1 trillion, but worse, the current federal budget only covers about 60% of the federal spending. Thus, the national debt is increased by 40% every year, since this shortfall must be borrowed. Every year the national debt and interest payments are increasing. Even more frightening, the debt can never be paid back- essentially, America is bankrupt!

By 2020, interest payments on the debt will take 11.1% of federal budget. The ramifications to each American is catastrophic. Seniors soon retiring and those now retired are receiving almost no interest on their savings. (If a realistic inflation rate was used, all savers are actually losing income or purchasing power every year.) The time when a retiree could put their savings in a low-risk treasury note or corporate bond and receive a decent return is impossible- never to be seen again in our current debt-based economic model! For future retirees, frankly, there will be no retirement. The only current alternative to retirees and savers is to invest in high-risk investments like the Stock Market. Yes, you read that right. The Fed has created a stock market bubble with the basic free money loaned to banks and corporations who have been investing in stocks or buying back their own stocks. When this bubble burst, it will devastate stock prices and stockholder pensions, IRA's, etc. Investors are caught in a negative feedback loop which will deplete their retirement savings long before they die.

Some more statistics devastating to Americans, especially the middle class, comes from John Williams, a statistician and degree holding economist to individuals and fortune 500 companies, who lays-out the facts on his website www.shadowstats.com. Williams has conducted extensive research on history and nature of economic reporting. His, research shows the quality of government reporting has deteriorated sharply in the last few decades. Williams has even provided testimony before Congress. Going to Williams website, his analysis quickly reveals that lies are fed to the public by their government. Two of the important lies fed to American people are:

1. Unemployment rate for July 2017 was reported as 3.5 to 4%; in reality, it was 22.2%.
2. The government reported the inflation rate as 1.5 -2.0%; in fact, it was about 10%. [Williams denotes his unemployment and inflation are figured from more realistic methods used in 1980.]

Using 1980 based alternative inflation rate, Americans are about half as rich now as 1980. Wages adjusted for inflation have been declining for at least 35+ years. It's no wonder news articles are talking about the death of the middle class. The Bureau of Labor Statistics, using the ratio of 25 to 54 year old employed to unemployed, shows 78% of Americans working, however, this figure does not distinguish those working part-time jobs. CNBC reported Dec. 2016 by Jeff Cox, that 95 million Americans are not working. Cox wrote its easier to collect welfare and other transfer payments than to go back to work. Food stamp (SNAP) has 45+ million receiving benefits.

In an article on www.zerohedge.com by Tyler Durden says, 102 million working age Americans do not have a job. As John Williams at Shadowstats shows unemployment rate is currently 22%. The hyped media figure of 4% unemployment rate is a government lie. When politicians are heard saying the economy is great, its a lie. In fact, since 2009 at height of the Great Recession" jobless rate has increased by 9.1 million. Talk about fake news fed to the U.S. public by our government.

Our economy is in free-fall. As of this writing, the country is on pace to shatter the record for store closings in a single year. Toys-R-Us just announced bankruptcy this year of 2017. Some more eye-opening facts are:

1. Housing prices, just like in 2007/2008, are in a bubble. The home ownership rate is at the lowest rate since Census Bureau started tracking it in 1965.
2. U.S. personal savings rate has decreased to 3.5% in 2017, comparing to an average rate of 8.31% for 1959 -2017.
3. Federal Reserve Bank of New York says, "Household debt reached a high of $12.7 trillion.
4. Student educational loans now exceed $1 trillion. (This debt can affect and weigh students down for the rest of their lives, preventing them from buying homes or starting businesses. (It's no wonder that it is reported 25% of grown children still live with parents.)

5. First time in 130 years, more young adults live with parents than with partners, according to the article at (www.npr.org/sections/thetwo-way/2016/05/24/4793327382/for-first-time-in-130-years) by Camila Domonoske.

6. Besides the $20 trillion Federal debt, there is more than $200 trillion in unfunded liabilities (e.g., social security, Medicare, senior drug plan, plus $2.5 quadrillion in worldwide derivatives.)

7. <http://www.geoengineeringwatch.org> exposes the weather modification being used against the U.S. to cause droughts, floods, and hurricane manipulation.

8. Genocide by vaccines loaded with mercury, cancer cells, and other highly toxic neurotoxins (causing infertility in teens, even death). Autism, and many more health problems in our children are alarmingly increasing.

9. Money velocity (VIX) is at record low levels. (VIX denotes how fast money moves through the economy.) It is now less than during the Great Depression.

10. Gold and silver and other precious metals are being manipulated. (Metals have historically been used to preserve wealth and purchasing power)

11. Under the current economic model, increasing debt levels are the only thing keeping the economy from dying. When credit expansion is withdrawn, the economy will collapse.

12. Stock Market is in an unsustainable bubble.

13. The economy is flat-lined and has not improved since 2008 economic crisis, and in fact, is worsening.

14. The U.S. has been set up as a corporation and is in the process of liquidation. The bankruptcy Trustees are going to try to liquidate, sell, tax, otherwise, raise funds off of all the franchises of the U.S. Inc. (Read article by WynterMoon titled, "Pay Attention If You Want to Save Your Butts- Judge Anna Maria Restzinger" at www.beforeitsnews.com .

"When your land deeds, and car titles, and mortgages are all in the name of a United States Franchise, what do you think is going to happen? You are going to be "assumed to be a surety" and "collateral" for the debts of all these factious entities, and the secondary creditors- banks and foreign investors- are going to be howling for your blood and for the auctioning off of your assets to pay the bills of the United States."

There are 97 million Americans living paycheck to paycheck according to MSN.com in the article by Sean Williams dated 9/4/2017, reported:

- A. 69% of Americans had less than $1,000 in savings including a third with zero.
- B. 78% of Americans are living paycheck to paycheck; even 9% that made $100,000.

While the above is far from exhaustive, the big question is how these facts affect the average American? U.S. citizens are currently experiencing declining savings, wages, retirements, purchasing power and at the same time, Americans are suffering increasing inflation, debt, medical costs, and rents. In essence, they are rapidly going broke. Without increasing debt levels, most Americans would already have had a drastic plunge in their standard of living. Their children are receiving a less quality education every year. Where once the United States was a leader in education, it is now rated in the middle of the pack, lagging behind many other industrial nations. The U.S. in Programme for International Student Assessment (PISA) ranks 38th place out of 71 countries in math, 24th in science for 15-year-olds. The declining educational skills is a problematic trend showing up in companies not being able to fill job opening due to lack of proper education. A poorly educated population is already decreasing the economic productivity of the U.S.

The average American no longer has even $500 in savings for an emergency, like auto repair or illness. Health is affected by inflation and inability for many to afford quality food -rice, beans, and hot dogs do not create a healthy diet. www.forbes.com in an article titled, "Yes, It was The Affordable Care Act That Increased Premiums" reported (March 22, 2017) that premium increases averaged about 60% from 2012 to 2017. Previous same period of time before 2013 increased 10%. I personally know it was not too long ago a visit to the ER was $200 to get a cut stitched. I know of instances where medical care is now much more costly. One co-worker was in ER to check his eye after an insect hit his eye while on the way to work on a motorcycle. Treatment was to wash out his eye with some saline. He got a bill for $3,000. A family member was at ER for a minor dog bite on a finger- saline wash was $1,500. The best option is to treat yourself or wait until able to go to the personal physician- that is if you can get an appointment without waiting days. Another family member who is a single mom with two young children was forced to cancel insurance after premium increases made her medical insurance to expensive. She has juvenile diabetes since age 10. Lack of insurance coverage keeps her from acquiring any medical care to help control her diabetes. The financial crisis in medical care in the U.S. is reaching critical mass. It appears that Obamacare is great for the poor who get very cheap or free insurance or Medicaid. The middle class is rapidly being priced out of medical care. My family member had a comfortable income, but did not qualify for any subsidy and was forced to go uninsured. The insurance policy she had was not very good anyway. With high deductibles, it was impossible to benefit from doctors visits, medication, and other care which was not available. It was only a catastrophic policy to cover a major illness.

Most Americans receive little interest income on savings. In many European countries and other countries, they have negative interest rates where the bank charges interest to keep money on deposit. Is this coming to America too? Yes, if the banksters get their way. Retirees are especially in trouble as it is hard to receive much income from their investments accounts. For those looking to retire soon, there may not be much on which to depend. There is a crisis in pension funds. Forbes Magazine in the article by Oliver Garret June 9, 2017, issue stated that some experts think pension crisis will be the trigger for the next financial collapse. Many experts agree that there is no way U.S. pension funds can keep their promises to the next wave of retirees.

Kentucky teachers pension crisis is a prime example of developing trouble where their public pension funds are $42- 48 billion underfunded. Public employees and teachers are demanding each Kentuckian household pays $3,000 in next two years to fund their pension funds. In my state, Dallas police and firefighters pension fund is unfunded by almost $7 billion. Like many pension funds (PF), the fund managers are assuming high returns on investments at much higher than the actuality. Dallas expected a 8.5% return but in reality, are caught in an impossible environment to get high returns and are forced into riskier investments.

U.S. PFs assume average 7.6% return, but a low-risk U.S. government bond is 2.5- 3%. The Pension Task Force of Actuarial Standards Board believes, in the article by Michael Edesess dated April 5, 2017, that U.S., state, and local government pensions could be underfunded by $5 trillion, and this under-funding is only public pensions- not private pensions. Edesess says:

"With declining inflation-adjusted real income dropping and wage stagnation, it is no wonder its reported that restaurant usage is down and Dow earning is down 7%.

Furthermore, retail sales down 7%; housing nationally is down 10%; 25% of retail chains are closing- all because the consumer (70% of economy) is in debt and tapped-out."

Retailers can no longer support the 70% of the economy that depends on consumer buying. As more retail stores close, there will be increasing unemployment which leads to less consumer spending and tax receipts for federal, local, and state government. Governmental budget deficits will pressure governments to raise taxes and fees (e.g., permits licenses, utility, etc.).

The Federal Reserve will be under pressure to try and pump up the economy; however, the Fed has used up all its normal bullets like lowering interest rates and loosening money supply. During last economic crisis in 2008, the the Fed initiated quantitative easing (QE), but it will find it difficult to do the same this time. During 08 crisis, the U.S. Congress was scared into bailing out the "The Too Big To Fail" banks. Secretary of Treasury, Henry Paulson, and Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke threatened a banking collapse. Untold trillions were thrown at the banks in America and if truth be known, Europe and Asia as well.

The question begs to be answered, what this past government bail-out accomplished. The banks receiving all this money were supposed to help average Americans. Instead, none of the money filtered down to the public. Banks and Wall Street found it easier to invest in stock market and buy back their own stock shares. Corporations are still borrowing almost free money (be aware that preferred banking customers get a much better loan rate than the average Joe). This financial windfall means banks do not have to make loans to individuals and risk defaults, and corporations do not have to pay dividends out on their stock buybacks.

For all Congress's almost free money drop (as Treasury Secretary Bernanke referred to it as helicopter dropping money), the capital never really filtered down to the general public. The flood of funds only helped create bubbles in housing, stocks, student loans, car loans, and bond market. The politicians merely kicked the can down the road without making any real systemic changes to financial systems. Consider that just for a part of the money thrown at the banks, all the mortgages for average citizens could have been paid-off. Instead, millions of Americans families had their homes repossessed. Then the banks and investment firms bought up these homes for pennies on the dollar. Fact is, most of the mortgages were sold back to the NGOs (non-governmental agencies) like Fannie Mae and insured in case of default by the Federal government- the taxpayers.

Many of the repossessions were not even legal. Most mortgages taken out were immediately resold to investment companies like Countrywide or banks. Many new homeowners were never notified of the new mortgage holder. Subsequently, their mortgages payments were not going to rightful loan holder. These homes were repossessed, even some who had paid off their mortgages. None of these companies fraudulently receiving payments were prosecuted.

Concerning the present financial situation in America, after the '08 crisis the can was kicked down the road by Congress and the regulatory agencies, but now the can has become a 500 lb concrete block! It will resist being kicked down the road. The problem is that the U.S. economy is in free-fall and the resources are not available to rectify our coming crisis. At www.kingworldnews.com, under an article titled, Sept. 27, 2017, by Jason Goepfest "Major Warning Indicator Hits All-time High While A Second Plunges to All-time Low". The debt held with stocks as collateral is at an all-time high- surpassing peaks that existed prior to any other bull market peak! At the same time, the net worth of stock companies just hit an all-time low. The available cash of these accounts is at a record low versus the total market capitalization of U.S. stocks.

At same the Kingworldnews site dated Sept. 29th, 2017, an article by Dr.Paul Craig Roberts, former Under Secretary of Treasury under Reagan, titled "We are Witnessing a Collapsing Economy Reset, This Is Really Scary." Roberts makes following points:

1. Thirty-two percent of 18- 34 age group live with parents. While the government says the U.S. is at basically full employment (4%), employers are seeking 500,000 guest workers- but of course pay them much less than an American worker.

2. Government is in the hands of a ruling oligarchy. American people are entering a world of slavery. Without jobs, dependent on their 'masters' for trickle-down benefits that are always subject to being cut, and without voice or representation, Americans, except for the one percent, are becoming the most enslaved people in history.
3. Americans are surviving by accumulating debt and becoming debt slaves. "As an economist, I [Roberts], cannot identify in history and economy whose affairs have been so badly prospected so severely damaged as the economy of the United States."
4. The U.S. is reversing the developmental process and going backward by giving up industry, manufacturing, and tradable professional skills- thus becoming a Third World nation with only low paying service jobs.
5. Robots are replacing humans in the workforce at a faster rate. So since robots don't buy homes, cars, etc., consumer spending dries up.

Roberts assessment is a foreboding future for the America worker. The www.x22report.com in the article "The Tracks in the Economy are Getting Bigger, It's About to Break Apart," says, "43% of U.S. citizens have trouble making ends meet and cannot pay their bills. Durable goods, like appliances orders, are collapsing. Housing prices are dropping because according to National Association of Realtors, workers do not have money to buy a home. As previously mentioned, John Williams at Shadowstats says, "True inflation rate is 10 %". The dollar has lost 98 % of value in last 100 years, simply meaning what cost $1 then, now cost $50. Remember just like the German Weimar Mark, the Spanish Empire's doubloon, and Roman Empire Denarius will, as a fiat currency, always reach its intrinsic value of zero.

Without getting to bogged down in statistics, American wages, savings, and retirements have been heading down for years. The U.S. dollar dying, but most Americans just believe everything is a little tight and manageable, but only because they have been brainwashed and dumb down by our government propaganda. America is rapidly falling into debt slavery and ultimately tyranny. Why? One reason is that our educational system has failed with each generation becoming less informed about our history, economic policy, and heritage.

Our current system is based on our liberal/socialistic institutions of higher learning using the economic principles taught by John Maynard Keyes. Keyes stated, "There is no subtler, no surer means of overturning the existing basis of society than to debauch the currency. The process engages all the hidden forces of economic law on the side of destruction and does it in a manner which not one man in 9 million can diagnosis". The government keeps Americans dumb down by using false statistics to lie. Perhaps Mark Twain said it best:

"There are three kinds of lies: lies, damn lies, and statistics."

But why should the government lie? It is because the powers that be (banksters and Illuminati Rothschilds minions) who control our politicians, media, and corporations can enrich themselves while working in the shadows. Also, lies are used to cover up mismanagement of the economy and to save the government money. A good example is the Consumer Price Index (CPI) which is the cost of living. Social Security and federal retirement payments are inflation adjusted each year to make sure standard of living or purchasing power is not lost. By keeping the reported inflation rate low, the government can keep expenses and budget outlay lower and reduce interest payments on national debt. Since 40 % of fed's budget has to be borrowed each year, by keeping reported CPI low, it saves $100's of billions of dollars. Realistic CPI adjustments to Social Security recipients, federal retirement, food stamps and many other budget items, would strain the budget.

Using myself as an example, I took early retirement- now going on five years. Let's just consider four years since this year is not over yet. During the four years, since I started receiving Social Security, the government has only had two years where a CPI was added to my monthly income. Two of those years I received about 2 % increases, while for two years there were no CPI adjustments. It merely means the government said that inflation was about 2 % for each of two years but for two years there was no inflation. Using realistic figures, like those calculated by John Williams, using a real 10% annual inflation rate totaling about 40 % over the four year period- how has this affected me. Let's say there was only 30 % inflation for these four years. The following calculation means I have lost 26% of my purchasing power. [30% actual CPI - 4% CPI adjustment (monthly income increase) received over the 4 years = 26% loss of purchasing power. Simply, my purchasing power has been reduced by approximately 1/4 in four years. Another way to consider the point is what took me $1 to buy an item four years ago, now cost me ~$1.25.

The question, to many astute savers and retirees, is how to receive a better return on savings without too much risk? Throughout 5000 years of history, there has been only one answer to this question- precious metals like gold and silver. As an example, an item that say cost an ounce of gold a hundred years ago, could still be bought for an ounce of gold today. Directly, gold and silver have maintained their purchasing power over time. Since it is so important to understand why tangible assets (that cannot be printed or produced by digital keystrokes unlike paper money) are so essential to comprehend. The remainder of this chapter will explain this concept.

Quoting Egon Von Greyer on www.kingworldnew.com from an article titled, "The Evil Plan by Elites to Control Humanity" says:

"Most people are not interested in heavy news or complicated issues. In the 60's, there were service news and many programs which raised important issues in society and politics, which many people listened to and grasped. But today, everything must be dumbed down to the lowest denominator of readers or viewers. For a paper to sell or a television station to receive ad revenue, news must be superficial or short. Most content must have entertainment or gossip value.... We are now in an age of instant gratification." [Unwilling to study and research, much less use critical thinking, has led to most people either becoming ignorant or misinformed. The political correctness can contribute to the misinformation since to a great extent a small group of individuals determines what is politically correct.]

Before being offended by this statement, just understand Americans (and most of the world for that fact) have been brain-washed and real truths censored. A society is only as informed as its government would like. In American's case, the elite and globalist want all of us ignorant. As French lawyer and revolutionary was well aware of the effect of a well-informed population. He stated:

"The secret of freedom lies in educating people, the secret of tyranny is in keeping them ignorant." [Maximilian Robespierre -the French Revolutionary]

Our government, church pastors/priest, and media are currently failing to educate the public on important events that are occurring. The event soon to occur will have a terrible effect on all Americans. It will affect our nation's future. I am talking about China's coming economic move to begin trading oil in gold-backed Yuan. Mexico's billion Hugo Salinas just issued a dire warning ..." that gold could spike to $13,000 [oz.] He stated that China announced a plan to accept Yuan as payment for oil. The Chinese have an added incentive that the Yuan received by exporters, can be redeemed for gold. Now we know why China has been in a mad rush the last few years to accumulate the relatively dirt cheap gold. " This move will eventually affect U.S. dollar, having an inflationary effect. The pressure will have dire consequences on U.S. economic, political, and military power. If we understood that our political and military power are based on our economic status thus allowing this country to exert hegemony on the world.

Using the Weimar German Republic as an example, destruction of our currency will have dire results. In 1920's, Germany's economy after WWI was collapsing after paying war reparations and loss of Ruhr Valley which took much of its manufacturing, coal, and iron. The war had depleted its gold reserves; unemployment was high reducing the tax base. So the government resorted to printing money. Inflation became rampant with a loaf of bread going from 1 Mark in 1919 to 100,000 million Marks by 1923. Savings became worthless where it took 170 billion Reichsmarks to buy a U.S. dollar. Germany was close to political, economic, and military collapse. Based on history, most countries in that situation resort to war. In this case, it resulted in WWII. [Note, in 2017 we hear more and more talk of WWIII which is a clear sign of economic turmoil.] Like the Weimar Republic, the U.S. could soon find itself in a similar situation if we lose our petrodollar and reserve currency status which will significantly affect the nation and the West. The move by china to replace the U.S. dollar with Yuan does not bode well for the U.S. This Yuan replacement goal is the reason Hugo Salinas issued the dire warning saying, "The bullion banks are the financial entities that control the price of gold by selling futures contracts, "paper gold", that promises to provide gold at a certain price to speculators who buy the contracts, and who wish only to make a profit in dollars on their bets that the price of gold will rise or fall, and do not intend to take delivery of physical gold."

This move by China will be catastrophic for the dollar since there is only $1 of physical gold available for each $100 of paper gold sold. This scheme by U.S. traders can happen only because most speculators want profits taken in dollars and do not want to take possession of the physical gold. If just one monied player asked for their profits in gold, it would wipe out all the gold on the exchange. But the fact is that most speculators lose money on gold contract speculation because the bullion banks like Comex can move the price of gold in any direction they choose destroying most speculators. Since China is dumping U.S. dollars, they are playing the game knowing that ultimately dollars will collapse and they don't want to be holding several trillion dollars. If the Chinese get oil exporters to switch to Yuan for oil sales, they do not have to use the dollar.

Remember it was discussed, that in 1971 the dollar was gold backed, but President Nixon was forced to take the U.S. off the gold standard. This move could have led to economic problems. Other countries could have refused to accept the dollar for their export to the U.S. The dilemma was resolved when Secretary of State Henry Kissinger convinced the Saudis to take only the dollar for their oil exports, and other oil exporting countries followed suit. This agreement assured demand for the dollar.

But under this new Chinese Yuan plan, oil exporters can acquire payment backed by gold and by-pass the dollar. As oil exporters accumulate Yuan, it will be willingly accepted by any country as it can be freely traded without fear of losing value. China can then use their dollar reserves to buy gold and continue their infrastructure build out of their country, especially the silk road project while not worrying about the dollars eventual collapse. China will have its own reserve currency.

Since China imports 8 million barrels of oil daily, if Saudi Arabia was the only exporter to agree to take Yuan for its oil, it would put China in a positive position. As an example, if China imported 1 million barrels of Saudi crude per day, at the current price of oil at $50/barrel, that would be $50 million x $1300/oz of gold which equals 38,023 ounces or 1.183 tonnes taken off the market a day and in a year amounts to 431.8 tonnes. As other oil exporters accept Yuan, it can lead to 1000 tonnes of gold leaving London (the primary gold bullion bank in the world) and going East.

Salinas says, "In effect, the Yuan will suffer a tremendous devaluation against gold but so will the dollar. I can not imagine what price the gold/oil trade will finally stabilize, but it will have to be at many thousands of dollars per oz. " The effect will be inflation in everything the country imports. Gas prices will explode as will all the electronics and other goods the U.S. no longer produces. Even food will go up more drastically. Unknown to the average American, the nation imports 15% of our food- 50% of fresh fruit and 20% of fresh vegetables and 80% of seafood. According to USDA, in 2015 the U.S. agricultural exports declined while imports increased.

At some point, the U.S., which has sent most of its manufacturing overseas, will be forced to go to a gold backed currency to pay for imports. There will be two currencies in America, one gold backed currency for imports and one domestic currency only for use within the country. The real problem will be that the U.S. and the West have sent most of their gold to the East- mainly China and India. If the U.S. does not have the gold to pay for the import of goods and rare materials like rare earth, our standard of living will drop precipitously. To see the results, you only have to look at countries like Cuba, Venezuela, and many other third world countries.

To understand what this country has to look forward to, no better explanation than that given by Dr. Paul Craig Roberts who we have earlier spoken. Dr. Roberts at www.paulcraigroberts.org says this in his article titled "The U.S. Economy is Failing" that:

"The U.S. economy is falling....the most prominent story this Labor Day is the trouble that employees are having finding workers across the country.... how is the labor market tight when the labor force participation rate is at historical lows [according to the to the government anyway]it is not only manufacturing jobs for the middle-class blue collar workers that have been given to foreigners in order to cut labor costs..... much of the decrease [in labor force] is in 18- 34 age group.... solution to the alleged labor shortage is Senator Ron Johnson's bill to permit the states to give 500,000 work visas to foreigners. [software engineering, design accounting, and IT jobs].....jobs Americans expected to get in order to pay off their student loans [now over $1 trillion].....all over the country there are college graduates with good educations who cannot find jobs because jobs have been off-shored.... When Trump said he was going to bring the jobs home..... he will not be permitted to bring them home, no more than he has been permitted to normalize relations with Russia....."

Roberts further said, "Government is in [the] hands of a ruling oligarchy.....The American people are entering a world of slavery more severe than anything that previously existed in history..... we are witnessing in the U.S. is the first country to reverse the development process and to go backward by giving up industry, manufacturing, and tradeable professional skill jobs.....labor force is becoming a Third World.....Social Security and Medicare will collapse."

CHAPTER VII

BIOSPHERE APOCALYPSE

In previous chapters, destructive forces of failing economic systems; political corruption; and social issues are causing the decline of the nation; however, these events have occurred in the past to many countries which still left the populations to survive and arise in another form. There is one disaster that can not be overcome- degradation of the biosphere and life-sustaining systems. When there is no air to breathe, water to drink, or ability to grow food, nothing will allow recovery and only certain death awaits. Our very survival is under assault by the destruction of our planet.

Many people worry about the effects of nuclear radiation from atomic warfare. Much talk of WWIII is playing out in the press (At this writing, it is currently Oct. 2017). Fear is rampant that North Korea will nuke the U.S. Iran is rapidly developing nuclear weapons and almost daily threatens to destroy the 'Great Satan' - the U.S. and the 'Small Satan' - Israel. The worst fears of humankind are exposed to thoughts of radiation poisoning and nuclear winters. At the internet site, www.nucleardarkness.org discusses the result of a nuclear attack. The title, "Consequences of a Large Nuclear War" states enormous fires created by nuclear explosions in cities and industrial areas would cause 150 million tons of smoke to be lofted high into atmosphere....the smoke will remain in the stratosphere for many years and act to block sunlight from reaching the surface of the earth. This sunlight blocking smoke will cause extreme cooling- possibly leading to a new ice age. Agriculture would be destroyed, rendering food production difficult.

This nuclear scenario sounds ominous, but would this likely happen? There are many seers, prophets, and government officials predicting such an attack. However, even if it was true and an attack occurred, would it threaten the survival of humanity. It seems highly unlikely that any nation would choose to purposely invite retaliation and inevitable destruction of itself by attacking another nuclear power. For instances, China would gain nothing by attacking the U.S. which would not only risk retaliation, but destroy its trillions of dollars of investments in real estate, land, port facilities, and corporations owned in America. Besides, China needs U.S. agricultural production, natural resources, and land to resettle their growing population. It would make more sense to use less destructive means to conquer America.

China (and for that matter Russia) could use neutron bombs which cause little physical damage while killing the population. This scenario leaves all infrastructure, factories, power plants, and homes intact. But wouldn't this expose them to the same fate? Not necessarily! Russia has perfected scalar technology and other systems which can shut down our weapon and satellite systems. Already revealed that this already happened in the Black Sea when the U.S.S. Donald Cooke in April 2014, ultimately lost all its weapons and radar systems when a Russian SU24 military jet made a dozen flyovers of the ship. All electronic systems were non-functioning and only returned to operation after the Russian jet left the area. There is a dispute as to this story, but it is not a stretch of the imagination that it is in the realm of possibility.

Another possibility is an enemy using an EMP (Electromagnetic Pulse) against the U.S. It only requires a low yield nuclear detonation to be set-off 300 miles above the center of the continental landmass. This weapon would disable all electronic devices, computers, automobiles, and power-plants in the country returning the U.S. back to 1850s. Of even more concern, the "Deep State" operatives and oligarchy that currently rules our country could just stop our military and leadership from responding to an attack- forcing a surrender.

Point being, that the U.S. or the world is very unlikely to come to its surmise by nuclear annihilation, but it is more likely that we could destroy our world by geoengineering the planet. Referring to Dan Wigington at www.geoengineeringwatch.org, he has for years been working to expose the criminal harm being perpetrated by our government, and other nations around the world have for decades deployed global climate engineering on a scale that can not be comprehended. He says, "They have decided (without public knowledge or consent) that they had the right to use the atmosphere on our planet to serve their agendas which amount to nothing less than weather and biological warfare."

Since first reading about "chemtrails" four years ago, I began observing the skies. I have observed these chemtrails which are not jet contrails which are caused by exhaust condensation. Like the pictures I have seen online, the crisscrossing trails I have seen were not typical. Unlike contrails from jets which produced by exhaust which are thin and rapidly disappear, these chemtrails are wide and linger, dissipating across the sky. It is highly recommended the reader perform an online search to see what these trails look like. During my own research, many internet trolls were discrediting these trails as just ordinary contrails. According to Wikipedia, a troll is a person who sows discord on the internet by starting quarrels or upsetting people, but the worst is the paid government trolls. These trolls are paid to use psychology-based influence techniques to discredit any controversial subject, especially any site that expresses an opinion or politically incorrect thought not sanctioned by the government - in this case, the Deep State. For example, if chemtrail is googled, many sites are referenced debasing any discussion on this topic as a right-wing, tinfoil hat conspiracy, nut case. So be aware of research knowing that not everything is a conspiracy but may be legit.

Now back to chemtrails which are not ordinary jet exhaust condensation trails. The official narrative to debunking chemtrails is perhaps the most significant lie the power structure can use to calm the masses into ignoring the immense threat posed by climate engineering over our heads almost every day. The facts are that our skies are being sprayed. Proof of real chemtrails:

1. Trails that turn off and on is one sign. (only way to have interrupted contrails is to turn off the jet engines which is not very smart if your flying.)
2. Grid patterns one day and nothing the next day. (Often in spite of identical atmospheric conditions.)
3. Jet leaving a horizon to horizon trail and another adjacent jet at a similar altitude that leaves no trail.
4. Trails with completely different compositions and colors.
5. Misaligned plumes behind some jets that do not match the alignment of the engines.
6. The fact that all commercial jet aircraft and all military tankers are fitted with a type of jet engine that is by design nearly incapable of producing any condensation trail, except under extreme circumstances, like the high bypass turbofan. What is the purpose of spraying chemicals and what do they contain? The intended purpose is supposed to:
 1. Artificially modifying of Earths climate system through Solar Radiation Management and CO2 removal.
 - A. Solar radiation management is to control sunlight before it hits earth.
 - B. CO2 removal which is a greenhouse gas.
 2. Stratospheric sulfate aerosols spraying to create a global dimming effect limiting the impact of climate change due to rising levels of greenhouse gases.
 3. Chemtrailing is the public term for the classified ongoing artificial modification of Earths climate system using reflective nano-materials reflect to sunlight. The aerosols are dispersed by jet aircraft trails that expand into reflective clouds.

One reason for spraying toxic chemicals into our skies is for solar radiation management. Its purpose is to reduce some of the impacts, supposedly of climate change, by reflecting a small amount of inbound sunlight back into space. Wigington stated that he originally became involved in geoengineering after he moved to the Pacific Northwest. His off the grid home's solar panels lost 20 -50% of electric production after chemtrailing began appearing overhead. He researched in the Mt. Shasta area in Oregon, and at meeting with Shasta County Air Pollution Control Board, residents asked the board to investigate high levels of toxic metals (aluminum, barium, strontium) found in testing of 41 samples of water and dust throughout the county. Results showed 2190 ug/l aluminum (7x state recognized maximum control level (MCL). Barium was found to be 43 ug/l which was at MCL.

Those debunking chemical spraying of our skies will say there is no proof in the reality that government would spray us illegally. Yet, there are hundreds of patents issued for weather control- many by the government. Case in point, a government document in the public domain titled "Weather as a Force Multiplier" is available that states military will own the weather in 2025. In an opening statement this document says, "In 2025, U.S. aerospace forces can "own the weather" by capitalizing on emerging technologies and focusing development of those technologies to war-fighting applications." Furthermore, under Operational Capabilities Matrix, document list following areas:

1. Precipitation Enhancement
2. Precipitation Avoidance
3. Storm Enhancement and Modification
4. Precipitation denial
5. Space Weather

Many internet articles recently have been posted proposing that the devastating hurricane Harvey, which dropped 50+ inches of rain on Houston; hurricanes Irma and Maria which destroyed many Caribbean islands like Puerto Rico, U.S. Virgin Islands, and others were weather controlled. One article reported world-famous scientist Michio Kaku (well know physicist) said hurricanes could be manipulated by using laser power (trillion watt) and shooting them into the atmosphere which can cause rain or dissipate it. China used this laser technology to stop rain during their recent Olympics. Even floods and hurricanes can be modified. Kaku further stated HAARP is responsible and admitted that hurricanes were modified. Lasers and ELF HAARP antennae arrays can trigger earthquakes and manipulate weather. HAARP rips apart ions in the ionosphere and acts as seeds to cause rain. For years the military has modified weather like during Vietnam War causing it to rain on the Ho Chi Ming trail supply lines to North Vietnam.

But just what is HAARP? It is a large radio broadcast antennae complex in Alaska. It can aim millions of watts of radio waves and concentrate it in a small area 12 miles wide, 2.5 miles deep, and 90 miles high. In a video by The History Channel titled "Haarp Weapon Exposed by History Channel," it was exposed that the U.S. has HAARP antennae arrays near Fairbanks Alaska and in Puerto Rico. Using these HAARP antennae, weather can be modified anywhere in the world to cause droughts, floods, and steer hurricanes. The arrays operate by heating ionosphere to as much as 15,000 degrees. It creates a high-pressure area as moisture is pushed up into the stratosphere. This modified high can be used to manipulate even the jet stream. Another scary option is earthquake causation. In a study of 100 earthquakes over the past few years, it was found this could have caused the devastating earthquake and tsunami in Japan near Fukushima.

Previously discussed chemtrailing evidence in Shasta County Oregon, has been debunked by trolls without any data or facts given to prove otherwise except to deny the lab results were valid- even though performed by the state lab. Another debunking technique is to propose that it is just one localized area. Not true! The evidence is abundant that this is just not a local or N. American problem, but aerial spraying is taking place in many countries around the world. In Australia, testing revealed rainwater contained:

Aluminum 780 x normal levels

Arsenic 593 x normal

Manganese 4,000 x normal

Barium 300 x normal

Iron 2,000 x normal

Boron 4,000 x normal

According to the article titled, "Chemtrails: The Consequences of Toxic Metal and Chemical and Aerosols on Human Health" by Dr. Llya Sandra Perlingieri www.goldenageofgaia.com /weather-warfare the U.S. and Canadian citizens have been subject to 24/7/365 a day aerosol assault over our heads by a toxic brew of poisonous heavy metals. This spraying is done by a closely guarded U.S. Department of Defense military operation. The spray contains barium, radioactive thorium, cadmium, chromium, nickel, desiccated blood, mold spores, yellow fungal mycotoxins, ethyl dibromide, and polyps or fibers. So why should this be important to every person in the world? Because the end result is and will be health issues, collapsing ecosystems, famine, and ultimately the death of our planet's animals and then humans.

Dr. Perlingieri says, "chemtrails are already collectively deteriorating "collective health". Although aluminum is abundant on earth, it is not found in nature. In fact, it is not necessary for any biological function in nature. This spraying is detrimental in the nano size pure form. Pesticide Action Network of North America (PANNA) lists it as toxic to humans including carcinogenicity, reproductive and developmental toxicity, neurologically toxic. Over the years aluminum accumulates in the brain tissue, and to a lesser amount the bones. It causes brain degeneration and shrinkage and dysfunction and damage to the brain. It is involved in dementia, often diagnosed as Alzheimer's, when in fact it is not.

Dr. Hildegrade Staninger is an industrial toxicologist/ IH, and Doctor of Integrative Medicine says, "Exposure to aerial nano-aluminum composite materials results in chronic inhibition of cholinesterase needed for normal brain, plasma, and red blood cell health." Besides chemspraying, aluminum exposure results from many everyday products we use, e.g. baking powder and deodorants. Vaccines have aluminum which exposes our children to a toxin during the time most critical for brain development.

In recent years, there has been an alarming increase in adult dementia affecting about 5.5 million Americans. Remember we have only discussed one element found in spraying and environment- aluminum, but many more toxins are involved. Mercury also is found in vaccines by research, if not suppressed, to be one of the causes of autism. Autism affects 1 in 68 children at birth. Autism has increased 119.4% from 2000 to 1 in 150 cases, to 2010 rate of 1:68 according to the American Autism Society. While mercury exposure to aerosol mercury is dangerous, but vaccines with mercury are of most concern. The harmful effect of mercury has been well documented but unfortunately is suppressed. In an article referenced on InfoWars dated Sept. 2017, by Robert F. Kennedy Jr. Titled "Government Cover-up of A Mercury/Autism Scandal," Kennedy, in 2005 article titled "Deadly Immunity," stated the history of repression of crucial vaccine safety data reveals a scientific link between thimerosal (mercury-containing preservative in vaccines) and childhood neurological disorders.

Referencing secret transcripts of Simpson Wood Conference in June 2000, top scientists and health officials and pharmaceutical companies gathered to discuss results of analysis of 100,000 children who had received thimerosal in injections. Analysis shows since 1991, cases of autism have increased 15 fold. Not surprisingly, many at the conference were more concerned about how damaging revelations would affect the vaccine industry's bottom-line.

The cover-up of vaccine harm to our children has and is suppressed, and only relates to one suspect additive. According to beforeitsnews.com concerning vaccines, titled, "Pfizer Vice President blows the whistle: Reveals Dark Truth about Pharmaceutical Industry". Dr. Peter Rost, M.D. author of book "The Whistle Blower, Confessions of a Healthcare Hitman", quotes Dr. Marcia Angell, physician and an editor of the England Journal of Medicine, as saying, "It is no longer possible to believe much of the clinical research that is published, or to rely on the judgement of trusted physician or authoritative medical guideline. I take no pleasure in the conclusion, which I reached slowly and reluctantly over my two decades as an editor of the New England Medical Journal".

Dr. Rost also quoting Dr. Richard Horton says, "The case against science is straightforward: much of the scientific literature, perhaps half, may simply be untrue. Afflicted studies with small samples sizes, tiny effects, invalid exploratory analysis, and fragrant conflicts of interest, together with an obsession for pursuing fashionable trends of dubious importance science has taken a turn towards darkness". (quote taken from www.richardhorton@lancet.com, editor-in-chief of the Lancet- one of the most respected peer-reviewed journals in the world.)

It has reached the stage that no one can trust anything, and we must be vigilant to question everything. If our government CDC, FDA, and drug companies only care about their profits and regulations, then we are all at risks in every aspect of our lives- weather warfare being no exception. The psychopaths in political office, the corporation CEOs, and regulatory agencies having no concern for health and lives will also not care about the world's ecosystems and biosphere. In the interest of brevity, I will only list some of the most pressing environmental issues. In 73 countries so far in 2017, there have been 367 mass animal die-offs.

Listing only a few cases:

22 Sept. 2017 - 1000 deer die in Pennsylvania

18 Sept. - Mass die-off fish in Turkey

15 Sept. -201 whales and dolphins have washed up so far in Ireland

12 Sept. -800 birds die on an island in the Bering Sea.

29 Aug. - Hundreds of thousands dead fish found on the beach in Cornwall, Eng.

13 Aug. - 2 million cattle died due to drought in Ethiopia

18 July - Hundreds of tons of fish in fish farms died in Indonesia

15-17 July - Tons of fish died in Vietnam and Pakistan

10 July - Hundreds of camels die in Qatar

6 July - Thousands of cattle died in California from a heatwave

26 April -41 humpback whales died along East Coast of U.S.

13 April -Thousands of bats die in Missouri

Oct. - German scientists have reported 80% of flying insects have disappeared in 25 years of surveying.

Die-offs reports from around the world included: hippos, longhorn sheep, dolphins, sea turtles, monkeys, birds, shellfish, ducks, owls, saiga antelope, jellyfish, pheasants, pelicans, and many more species.

2016 - 556 known mass die-offs reported

2015 - 828 known mass die-offs reported

. 10 million honey bee hives have died in last six years. Bee pollination is responsible for $30 billion worth of crops.

An estimated 200-300 species of plant and animal life are going extinct EVERY DAY in the world which threatens loss of biodiversity. Biodiversity is what maintains our ecosystems. As animal and plant life goes extinct, there are cascading effects on the whole biosphere and prophesied in the Bible.

Hosea 4:1-3 "Hear the word of the Lord, ye children of Israel: for the Lord hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land because there is no truth, no mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land. By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery, they break out and blood toucheth blood. Therefore shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish, with the beast of the field and with the fowls of heaven. Yea, the fishes of the sea, shall be taken away."

(Note: God used Israel as an example of his dealings with man- how goes Israel is how goes the world that rejects God.)

Other events directly linked to man's treatment of the earth:

1. Glacial melt is accelerating
2. Record storms, floods, and droughts
3. Record heat waves
4. Gulf Stream, the saline conveyor belt that brings warm winters to British Isle is declining.
5. UV radiation is increasing
6. Forest fires are more massive and more frequent
7. Methane release into environment is rising greenhouses levels
8. The Pacific Ocean is dying. It is heating up, and radiation from Fukushima nuclear disaster is largely responsible. In Book of Revelations, it says in Rev. 8:9 that one-third of life in the sea will die. (Currently the Pacific Ocean is dying.)

To explain why some of these events are going to be so catastrophic, look at Fukushima Japan. Since the earthquake five years ago that struck Japan causing the massive meltdown of the nuclear reactors, 300 tons of radiation is still released every day. The Pacific Ocean is 5-10 times more radioactive than when the U.S. government was exploding numerous bombs on islands in the South Pacific. At Natural News, it is reported that the Pacific Ocean ecosystem could crash. Michael Synder of the www.theeconomiccollapseblog.com, in 2017, sent an urgent warning to the site saying that the food chain is going through a massive collapse. Ninety-one percent of sardine population is wiped out. NOAA Fisheries Service has canceled the sardine season. It also is reported 90% of sea lion pups are starving in California.

Having lived for three years in Alaska in the early 2000s, I experienced three salmon fishing seasons. I know the importance of the fisheries industry has on the economy and tourist industry of Alaska. The salmon fisheries is significant to Alaskans for smoking and canning fish to provide much of their protein source. During 2017, the King salmon fishing season was closed for all of Southeast Alaska. The other four species of salmon are also struggling. Biologists have recognized that the decline in Pacific salmon is being caused by lack of food and starvation during the fish's time at sea. In October 2017, biologist reported monitoring the fisheries off Oregon found some of their nets had recovered no fish which was highly unusual.

Besides radiation from Fukushima, the UV-B ultraviolet radiation levels are rapidly increasing, shown to be 1000x reported levels. The ozone layer protects the earth from the ultraviolet radiation and is being depleted. The Pacific Ocean is heating up beyond normal levels with resulting massive algal blooms reported around the world. There are now 400 dead zones and expanding around the world where sea life cannot survive when 95% of pelagic fish species are gone. Importantly this evidence just confirms that our planet is being destroyed. The big question is how to support 7 billion humans when declining agriculture and fisheries are declining! It appears it's time to pray and seeks God's grace and mercy.

Note: Nov. 11, 2017, it was reported by Dane Wigington from a guest at geoengineeringwatch.com, that the government is hiding the fact that geoengineering process has destroyed 80% of earth's protective ozone layer. Ultraviolet radiation at UV-C wavelength has increased to critical levels. Usually, UV-C doesn't reach earth's surface due to the blocking effect of ozone. At only 0.1/sq. Meter, UV-C can be used to sterilize objects like medical devices. We are now exposed to 1.0/sq. Meter. The significance is that UV-C affects our DNA and is 9,000 times more sensitive to this abnormal ultraviolet wavelength than the frequent exposure of mostly UV-A wavelength (causing sunburns). This UV-C exposure is the cause of the reported heating of oceans and death of 75% or more of insect life. Also, ocean plankton life has decreased 60%, which provides most of our atmospheric oxygen and oceanic food chain. By 2025 the ozone layer protecting our earth from harmful radiation will be gone, destroying the ability even to grow crops. This is an extinction level process if Americans don't wake up and stop the criminal cabal!

CHAPTER VIII

APOSTASY IN AMERICAN CHURCHES AND ISLAM INVASION

I once heard someone say, "If you do not believe in something, then you believe in nothing." How true! America established on Judea-Christian values which acted as a cohesiveness that bound this nation to reach heights that never existed before in history. Principles the Bible taught were responsible for making America the most significant and wealthiest country the world has ever known.

In an article at www.pjmedia.com Edward K. Watson dated Aug. 19, 2017, summarizes the debt owed to Jesus Christ saying, "The fact is everyone on earth owes a great debt to Jesus Christ because those influenced by his teachings were directly responsible for virtually everything that makes our lives the most enjoyable and productive in human history." Watson lists what Christian Europe and America gave the world.... They forced the abolition of human sacrifice, slavery, infanticide, and cannibalism. They invented and founded universities (like Harvard, Yale, and Princeton) and started hospitals, modern banks, universal literacy, education degrees, property rights, intellectual property rights, freedom of speech, and many more rights.

Watson also said, "Without Christianity, the foundations of modern science and technology could've never been made, since of the four largest world religions, it was only Christianity; theology, cosmology, and cultural practices that allowed for their establishment and eventual spread across the world. Where Muslim, Hindi, and Buddhist figures have never had an impact on the whole world outside of the scientific and mathematical built by Christians. Western Civilization achievements are superior to other past historical nations and civilization. Past civilizations achievements were confined to the ruling classes, whereas Christian civilizations achievements have benefited the common citizens and expanded benefits and wealth to the masses- but not anymore."

The last 50 years have seen a frightening move back to elite control and stealth wealth concentration in the one percent. It's estimated the Rothschilds family is worth $2 trillion and their banking and corporation empires control or own $500 trillion. Christianity in Europe has declined to be of little influence and is being rapidly replaced by Islam. The U.S is not far behind Europe. America is no longer a Christian nation- just ask former Presidents Clinton and Obama who publicly stated as such.

Even the Catholic church is declining in faith and past moral foundations. Pope Francis, who some say is the last Pope, as foretold by Saint Malachy almost 900 years ago, believes all religions lead to the same God. He even recently admonished Catholics to return to teachings of the church rather than seeking a personal relationship with Jesus. In a video recently released by the Pope, it features clip declaring belief in various deities. It quoted from several different religions:

I have confidence in Buddha says a female lama.

I believe in God a rabbi affirms.

I believe in Jesus Christ a priest states.

I believe in Allah as an Islamic leader declares.

Francis for the first time, authorized Islamic prayers and reading of the Koran at the Vatican, stating that he believes Christians and Muslims are different paths to same God; however, Francis does not feel the same about some Christian faiths. He recently referred to fundamentalism as a "sickness." (a fundamentalist believes in the strict interpretation of scripture.)

As a former Catholic, parochial school student, an altar boy, I think I am in a position to speak about the Catholic Church. The church believes that only the priest and bishops can accurately interpret scripture. All Catholics must listen to their priest. As a youth, I was never encouraged to read the Bible but instead to follow my Missal which relayed what the church would have me to believe. At the time, I had never seen a Catholic Bible. This practice goes back to Middle Ages when anyone but priests and religious leaders were killed for owning a Bible. Times have changed now, but in practice, the church still believes that the priest is the ultimate authority on scriptural truth. Pope Francis is, in fact, promoting a one world religion. (I assume that the Pope and Catholic Church believe they will be the head of this new religion.)

A schism is developing in the Catholic hierarchy under suspicion that influential cardinals are plotting against Francis because of the fear that the integrity and authority of the papacy are at stake. Some cardinals are calling for the Pope to step down. This schism is essential because it is an omen showing the turmoil affecting the Catholic and Protestant faiths. I believe God's judgment in this country and the world will begin in the churches first before coming to the secular world. The sins of the church will be exposed such as seeker friendly, wealth/name it and claim it theology, and all apostate ideologies. Jesus in His revelations given to Apostle John makes it clear his disgust with the end time churches, especially the Laodicea Church. Jesus admonishes the church for being neither hot or cold but lukewarm and threatens to spit it from his mouth. (Rev.3:15-17) The church was apathetic and claimed it was prosperous, blessed and self-sufficient. The truth, however, was that the church was spiritually wretched and in pitiful condition, and worse they could not see their need. God seeks to fellowship with His lukewarm church, but Christ is locked out. Thus He stands at the church door knocking to be let in if they repent.

The Laodicea church feels it was spiritually rich and does not understand that it needs to be spiritually "refined as gold" by Jesus and His Holy Spirit. This end-time church is spiritually blind and thus referred to as requiring eye salve. The church is content to develop its own theology. One belief is that a Christian does not have to work and do their part of preparing for the coming Kingdom of Christ. If only the church would ask for what they need and God would provide for their real needs. The Laodicea Church instead will be known for its seeker friendly atmosphere where only positive affirmations are heard and everything is great. This church teaches that God accepts them no matter what they do. Hell and Satan are wrong words and not mentioned, and talk about sin is taboo, less anyone feels uncomfortable.

However, the most damning sin of this church will be the politically correct acceptance of the ecumenical movement. The theological concept that there are many ways to God, disputing Biblical warning that there is no name under heaven where a man might be saved by accepting Jesus' sacrifice on the cross. The foundation of Christianity is the death and resurrection of Jesus as the only atonement of sin. The new movement toward Chrislam (merging of Islam and Christianity) is an abomination. Pastor Rick Warren of Saddleback Church in Orange County Ca. has joined forces between denominations to foster the goal of seeking an agreement that both faiths worship the same God. Muslims, to their credit but falsehood, will never accept Chrislam since it goes against the teachings of their prophet Muhammad.

In an article viewed at www.beliefnet.com titled "What is Chrislam and who Preaches it?" quoting Bill Muehlenberg who says, "Some Christians believe they can somehow combine the two religions and still have something recognizable as the Christian faith. Sorry, but it can't happen." However, Muslims are happy to use such versions of religious synergistic to gain entry into Christian creeds, but it just results in Christians becoming second-class citizens.... Islam always wins while Christianity loses." Muehlenberg quotes author Mark Durie, an Australian authority on Islam saying:

"A prominent element in Islamic daily prayer is the recitation of Al-Fatihah (the opening), the first chapter of Koran....the final sentence of Al-Fatihah is a request for guidance in the straight path of Allah's blessed ones, not the path of those against whom you are wrathful, nor of those who are astray....[speaking of those who do not profess Islam]....Jews and those who are led astray are the Christians." Well known pastor John MacArthur says, "When evangelicals capitulate and attempt to soften the offense of the gospel [by joining with Muslims] in this way they blur the lines between the god of Islam and the God of the Bible.....Islam rejects the salvation of forgiveness through Christ, teaching only Muslims can be saved."

The significant error in trying to reconcile Islam as just another religion- which it is not. Islam is in actuality a theocratic governmental ideology wrapped in religious jargon. Islam arose in the cradle of the birthplace of three great monotheistic religions- Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. In the 7th century, on Mount Hira, the angel Gabriel supposedly appeared to Muhammad where he received the words of God given to him. The words were written down in Arabic script, and final text became the Koran (Quran) under the third caliph in 650 A.D. At first Muhammad used peace to try and spread his newfound religious belief. At Mecca, he used peace with Meccans but failing to evangelize many converts, he breaks the truce and conquers Mecca. Two years later Muhammad dies without an heir. His uncle Abu Bakr is elected leader of Muslims. He also dies within two years, but even so, in these years Muslim armies have begun their expansion, subduing all of Arabia. Omar succeeds Bakr, then Othman succeeds Omar after he is stabbed to death. By the end of Othman's death in 656 A.D., Arabs had conquered North Africa, Turkey, and Afghanistan. After Othman's assassination, for the first time, a new caliph is chosen who is choice of only one faction- Ali (son-in-law of Muhammad). Ali's election provokes the only major sectarian split in Islamic history between Sunni and Shiite. Ali was assassinated in 661.

Thus the beginning of Islam is a series of political intrigue and spread by military means. Disputing Islam's claim of unity, it fragmented into many branches, some hostile to each other. The two primary groups are Sunni and Shia, but there are other- Khawarij, Ibadi, Kalam, Wahabi, Sufis, and others. Wahabism is the most ultra-conservative fundamentalist branch that is a reform movement to restore pure monotheistic worship. An alliance developed with Wahabism and house of Saud and is now practiced in Saudi Arabia.

The main point is that Islam is more a militaristic movement practiced by the more hard-line sects. Its goal is always to spread its belief system by force. The Koran is a poorly plagiarized copy of the Bible. As in the Bible, Muslims have a messiah called the Mahdi. They claim their heritage from Abraham through the lineage of Ishmael and Jesus is recognized as a prophet. However, when their Mahdi returns, he will be accompanied by Jesus who will deny Christianity as wrong and will lead the Muslim crusade to kill the followers of Christianity. The importance is to know the truth behind Islam. It is currently fashionable to present Islam as a peaceful religion and just misunderstood in the West. The fact is much scarier!

In an article by Thomas F. Madden in Christianity Today (May 6, 2005) titled "The Real History of the Crusades" says, "Islamic world has a grievance against the West [9/11 was supposedly one result]. Does not the present violence they persisted, have its roots in the crusades brutal and unprovoked attacks against a sophisticated and tolerant Muslim world? In other words, aren't the Crusaders really to blame."

Let it be made clear that Crusades were not the real aggressors of history, but Muslims. The period from 632- 750 A.D. saw the most significant expansion of the Muslims which continued for centuries after that.

In an article on www.redstate.com (May 22,2013) titled "A Time-line of Islamic Expansion in the Dark Ages", Don McLaughlin wrote, "In debates over the history of tension between Muslims and Christians, the Crusades are often cited, out of their historical text, as the original cause of such clashes, as if both sides were peacefully minding their own business before imperialist Westerners decided to launch a religious war in Muslim lands.....when Islam first arose, much of what we think of today as Islamic territory in Anatolia, the Levant (the land promised by God to the Jews) and North Africa were all Christian until conquered by the heirs of Muhammad.....The entire region had been part of the Roman Empire and later Byzantine Empire, and was culturally part of the West...."

The facts are that the Crusades did not start until late in the 11th century and then only after four centuries of Islamic efforts to conquer Europe. A timeline of Islamic expansion is:

- 633 A.D. Muslim conquest begins
- 633-642 Muslim armies take Egypt, Syria, Palestine, Mesopotamia, North Africa, African coast, and parts of Persia and Byzantine
- 710 Arab armies entered Spain and stopped at Battle of Tours France.
- 1071 Seljuk Turks defeat Byzantines at Battle of Manzikert.
- 1099 Christian Crusades take Jerusalem
- 1171 Fatimid power ends in Egypt with the conquest by Saladin
- 1193 Saladin dies- most of Crusader states returned to Islam
- 1281 Reign of Uthman who founds Ottoman empire
- Mid 1300s Ottomans capture Bursa and Iznik and move into Europe.
- Late 1300s Ottomans take control of the Balkans
- 1400s Islam reaches the Philippines
- 1453 Mehmet Fatih conquers Constantinople, and Muslim armies stopped at the gates of Vienna
- 1561 Ottomans conquer Syria and Egypt
- 1520- 66 Ottoman Empire reaches its zenith
- 1917 Fall of Ottoman Empire during WWII

Importance of this timeline shows the spread of Islam was primarily by military force and not missionary outreach. Muslim armies invaded Europe going as far as southern France and gates of Vienna before being stopped. Spain became a Muslim nation and remained so until 1491 when ultimate Muslim control was removed from southern Spain. In the Mideast, Islam expanded north from Arabia and Mideast attacking the Byzantine Empire and in 1071 and then defeated the Byzantines at Manzikert.

It was shortly later that the Emperor of the remaining Eastern leg of the Roman Empire asked Pope Urban II for military help in holding back the Muslim armies. The pope was glad to help- the goal being to free the Christians and lands conquered by the Muslims, especially the Holy Land. In fact, 1099 was the year Crusaders sent from Europe captured Jerusalem. The Crusades lasted 200 years as both sides fought for control over Jerusalem.

Islamic military and expansion lasted 1400 years while only 200 of these years involved Crusades. In fact, until 1453, when the Muslim armies were defeated at gates of Vienna, Europe was under constant threat of Islam. Yet, Islam expansion has not been quelled. The modern means used by Muslims has just morphed as evidenced by the Islamic calendar which uses Hijrah or jihad to expand its goal of world Islamic empire. One method used is immigration where Muslims are encouraged to migrate into lands. As the Muslim population begins to dominate a new land, it uses intense social and familial pressure to impose its control. Islam has built-in mechanisms to prevent its followers from leaving the faith and enforcing compliance with Islam using honor killings, acts of barbarity, and in some cases death. One reason Muslims hate democratic societies is that it gives people the freedom to choose. The current mass invasion of Europe is to supplant local culture with Islamic culture, using the excuse of escaping war-torn Mideast, but most of the immigration is made up of younger males and not families. Other Muslim countries, like Saudi Arabia, refuse to accept these so-called refugees but are willing to finance the building of mosques in the West. The new immigrants mostly refuse to assimilate into their adopted country but concentrate in 'no-go zones' where outsiders are not welcome- even police and firefighters are reluctant to enter these enclaves.

Sweden's third largest city is now admitted by police, that they are no longer in control of the the city. Denmark city NordgAF Yrdsskolen in Arhus is first city Dane-free school. Koran is required reading for all upper-secondary school students. Europe 30 years ago, says Bat Ye, the pioneering historian of dhimmitude (the institutionalized oppression of non-Muslims in Muslim societies) in her book of Eurabia, chronicles the European appeasement, accommodation, and culture abdication to Islam.

In an article at www.wnd.com titled "Europe's Muslim immigration Plague," stated among other facts, that Sweden is known as the rape capital of Europe. One European newspaper revealed that nine out of ten of the most criminal ethnic groups were Muslim. Many Muslims refuse to work but instead live off the generous welfare benefits far beyond the prorated representation of the population. Denmark's 5% Muslim population receives 40% of welfare benefits. Sweden's citizens are told that immigrants need not adapt to Swedish life, but Swedes need to contemplate adapting to Muslim life. A member of the Belgian Parliament, Aldo Carcaci, calls Muslim immigration a "Trojan Horse" style invasion of Europe that for the West, will prove to be "the end of civilization." More facts:

1. Germany, Italy, Netherlands, and France all report a direct correlation between Muslim immigrates and rising crime rates.
2. Israel's top imam, Sheikh Muhammad Ayed says, "...Muslim immigrants will help secure an Islamic caliphate and advises them to breed with European and Americans to achieve this goal.
3. Before his death, Libyan leader Muammar Gaddafi observed in 2006, The immigration into Europe that "Allah will grant Islam victory in Europe- without swords, without guns, without conquests- (turning it) into a Muslim continent within a few decades.

Western countries leaders are complicit in hiding these facts, and this is by design. One of the goals of the globalists is to destroy a countries culture and create chaos. It has already been revealed that one of the Illuminati leaders, Albert Pike, exposed the plan for WWIII, pitting West against Islam. The cultural genocide of Europe has begun, and America is next. In parts of England and Wales, someone speaking out about Islam can be charged with a hate crime and receive a fine and even jail time. Canada recently passed Motion M- 103 which critics say singles out Islam for special protection. Its work is to "condemn Islamophobia," which in fact does away with the free speech that Muslims consider uncomfortable, misguided, or against Islamic teachings. The big question is who determines what hate speech from freedom of speech is?

Concerning the Muslim threat in America, an article by Frosty Woolbridge (Aug.29, 2017) at www.beforeitsnews.com titled "Islam's Onslaught of America: Our Apathy Will Bite U.S." said, "Most Americans understand precisely what I expose to the end result of the Islamic conquest of Western countries." Case in point:

Quran 3:28 says, "Let not the believers take the unbelievers for friends rather than believers; and whoever does this, he shall have nothing of Allah, but you should guard yourselves against them....."

Woolbridge further states that "guarding carefully " requires Muslims to deceive the infidel acting as a friend is fine as long as it is to benefit Muslims and protect Islam."

Sir Winston Churchill in 1899 said it best:

"Individual Muslims may show splendid qualities, but the influence of the religion paralyzes the social development of those who follow it. No stronger retrograde force exists in the world."

Islam returns countries back to Middle Ages, women rights, social justice, democracy, freedom of conscience, and many more Western achievements lost.

Muslims are being embedded into our government. Doing an internet search on Muslim appointees by Obama, it will be found many federal appointees by him. Obama in book "Audacity of Hope," Obama stated, "I will stand with the Muslims should the political winds shift in an ugly direction."

The Council on American Islamic Relations (CAIR) fronts terror groups and pushes Sharia Law in America. They have started an Islamic party in Washington D.C. in 2016 and expected to take chunks out of our Constitution to institute Sharia Law. Omar Ahmed, Chairman of CAIR, said, "Islam isn't in America to be equal to any other faith but to become dominant. The Quran should be the highest authority in America, and Islam the ' ONLY ACCEPTED RELIGION ' on earth." (San Ramon Valley Herald, July 1998). As an example of Islam's political successes, while Muslims population is about 5% in England, there are 16 PMs. The mayor of London, Sadiq Khan- a Muslim, was elected in 2016.

In summary, establishing that Islam is not just another religion, but it is in fact, a political movement to impose world domination of Islam. Even the Muslim Brotherhood, who Obama infiltrated into federal positions, made the statement that it was their goal to have the Islamic flag flying over the White House.

Fadi, an ex-Muslim, on CNB.com said,

"When I lived in Saudi Arabia, not only did I look at non-Muslims as second class, you would look at non-devout Muslims as second class citizens.....If Islam is to prosper.....steps must be taken.... including spreading Islam at any cost, including the sword and killing opposition....life under Islam is much different than the brainwashed version often presented by the Western media and Muslim pressure groups..... best way to conquer is not by the sword anymore.... it's by infiltrating the societies, the political system, and... .to become a majority.... they can topple things basically to their advantage."

It is often heard in the media and on television that it is only radical Muslims we have to confront- as most Muslims are peace loving. However, remember Quran says it is OK to lie to non-believers to promote Islam. Erdagon, President of Turkey, stated that there is no such thing as a moderate Muslim- only Muslims. It only takes 5- 10% of a population committed to their beliefs to capture and impose their will on a culture or nation. It has already been reported that there are 22 Muslim training camps in America (do an internet search and prove it to yourself).

In conclusion, the Muslim threat to this country is far more severe than most Americans are aware. President Trump's attempt to restrict visas from Muslim nations was defeated. Even his effort to safeguard our borders from unlimited access to anyone even those seeking our destruction has been stopped by the Deep State oligarchy ruling this country. When asking the average American their thoughts on the matter, they relate that America is a nation of immigrants and freedom of religion. Indeed, America was founded and built by immigrants and their ancestors. However, this took place when America only offered the opportunity to succeed, not to arrive expecting to receive all the welfare, health care, schooling, and food stamps paid for by working Americans. The average U.S. citizen does not use any critical thinking skills to understand this issue. Most of the immigrants coming to this country are illegal. Even the legal immigrants coming here to escape the economic and political failures in their home countries and are working, do not pay enough in taxes to cover most of the benefits they receive. Health care alone (especially those taking advantage of Obamacare) pay little if anything for their coverage. If these immigrants have an average family with 3-4 children of school age, the cost of schooling these children are being paid for by the U.S. citizens who pay the high property taxes in school districts.

It is undoubtedly a Christian attitude to wish to help the disadvantaged, but those who push the most for open borders probably do not pay much of the burden for unlimited immigration. If each taxpayer were to receive a bill each year showing their share of the responsibility for providing health care, schooling, welfare benefits, etc. to immigrants, they would be much more inclined to resist this invasion. Concerning the Muslim immigration, their intent, whether Americans know it or not, is to change our culture with the accompanying increase in crime, rape, no-go zones, and undermining our Constitution, which is happening already in Europe. Most Americans, if they knew the real truth, would be opposed, but our globalist cabal running this country stealthily impose this cultural, economic, and political genocide upon us all.

When the American standard of living continues to decline and whole cities become no-go zones, or worst civil war erupts, it will be too late to become concerned. If all the senior citizens and those nearing retirement fully understand the implications of the reduction in their social security. The budget pie, to cover the ever-increasing social security, Medicaid, education etc. for immigrants, is providing smaller and smaller slices of the pie to each of us. The trillions of dollars paid as excess taxes to support the social agreements have been already spent- not saved for the future retirees.

It will soon not be possible to enter many parts of cities without a police escort. Christians will be especially discriminated against and will eventually need to go underground. Mosques will replace most churches. Don't believe it can't happen here, just look at Europe. When your children in public schools, will be required to study the Koran and Islam but not Christian Bible, and the mere hint of protest will result in you being fined or arrested. Don't believe it can happen here, just look at Europe.

Make no mistake, the Muslims are playing chess, while American Judea-Christians are playing checkers. The Muslims are playing for keeps and intend to impose their faith and government onto America. Meanwhile, the most critical first line of defense should be the American churches through their pastors, priests, and elders, but they are nowhere to be heard. It might affect their bottom-line or attendance. The American Laodicea Church is asleep-at-the-wheel. It is no wonder Jesus said he would spit them out of his mouth!

CHAPTER IX

OTHER THINGS TO BE AWARE OF

ALIEN INVASION

Alien disclosure and UFO sightings are prolific in all the news and movies today. There has been an increasing demand for governments to release their UFO files, but there has been a truth embargo to withhold information supposedly for fear of impact on religious beliefs and the rule of law.

At www.express.co.uk/news/weird/785923 an article quoting The Disclosure Activists lobby group said, "Recently there is a systematic effort from within the US and other world governments to release this information to the public.....the planet Earth has been and is being engaged by off-world civilizations." The Disclosure Activists contend that disclosure is already underway. "Earlier this month, the Spanish Ministry of Defense released a cache of previously classified UFO documents, similar to documents released by the Central Intelligence Agency in January 2017, and similar to other document releases from governments in the UK, Chile, and Mexico."

Even Pope Francis said that he would be more than happy to baptize Aliens. So even religious figures are starting to recognize the possibility of extraterrestrials. Even an average 50% of Americans are open to the idea of aliens. In article "Religious and Extraterrestrial Life: How Will We Deal With It?" by (Springer), Weintraub said, "Judaism seems to be about living your life on Earth, about building a relationship between one's self and God on Earth, and if God wants to make other creatures on other planets in the universe, that's up to God to do. Judaism would have no problem whatsoever. Unitarian Universalism- anything goes. What Mormons believe in extraterrestrials is built into Mormonism. Islam: there are many pieces of text in the Quran that assert in no uncertain terms that rational, intelligent beings exist on other worlds, so I think Islam would have no problem with it. The more mystical religions- Hinduism and Buddhism- would have no problem with it. However, I would put most of the forms of Christianity on the other side of ones that would have some form of problem."

In the article on www.ufointernationalproject.com under the title "Wikileaks has already disclosed NASA's secret that aliens are real." It goes on to say, ".....document released a couple of years ago by Wikileaks, offered hints about aliens and extraterrestrials.....no coincidence that, NASA..... have accepted that we are not alone in the universe and if all goes as planned, we will definitely meet aliens in a decade, or two!.....many important people have declared the existence of aliens; astronauts, politicians, leading scientists, etc., but still no official disclosure? Surely all of the statements are disclosure in themselves unless we are calling all these people "liars," which I am pretty sure they aren't."

Although the evidence exists, our governments are still reluctant to disclose alien presence until they are ready. The question that needs asking, "is this another false flag when aliens appear in the skies"? Will these aliens be the traditionally held belief in visitors from distance solar systems? I believe not! Our government has been spending trillions of dollars in "black op" agencies like DARPA to develop exotic spacecraft using anti-gravity, magnetic gravity reduction, zero energy point spacecraft, amongst other technology. (Note: During WWII, the Nazis were already developing flying saucer technology.) Under operation "Paper Clip," many of the Nazi scientists were brought to the U.S. after the war and used in developing our rocket programs. However, it was just not rockets but flying saucers they helped develop.

One example that the U.S. has had flying saucers since the 50s, can be seen in the TR-3B Black Manta. Wikileaks says it is the name of a surveillance aircraft of the USAF speculated to have developed under a black project. It is the often reported black triangular shaped, slow-moving UFO seen by many witnesses. At www.express.co.uk in the article titled, "Top Secret U.S. Air Force TR-3B exists", references article from CNN iReport titled, "TR3B or the USA's Most Secret Plan". The plane is code-named Astra. The reconnaissance TR3B was first operational in the 90s and developed under the top-secret Aurora Program. (It was not the only craft created under the black-op funding.) It operates using super-conductive plasma with resulting gravity disruption which disrupts or neutralizes effects of gravity by 89%, as well as G-forces. It requires little propulsion due to its lightweight. The multi-mode propulsion system can operate in the atmosphere- using the nuclear reactor; in the upper atmosphere using both atomic and hydrogen engines, and in orbit using the combined hydrogen/oxygen propulsion.

There is other secret craft that has been reported. One is X-22A anti-gravity fighter disc fleet, equipped with Neutral Particle Beam Directed Energy Weapons..... Deployable for worldwide military operation from a new U.S. Space Warfare Headquarters located in Utah. [Note: this particle beam weapon takes apart the target at a molecular level.]

XH-75D is an anti-gravity helicopter implicated in cattle mutilations used as a psychological warfare program. Civilians have been drugged and hypnotized and taken onto these crafts and made to think they are on a UFO/flying saucer.

Northrop Quantum Teleportation Discs can depart from flight pad and suddenly appear at flight altitude without visible accent using quantum entanglement. All this technology is in control of cabal/Deep State and has been in their control for over 50 years. Besides the TR3B, which is well documented, the other crafts listed existence is less verifiable, but most likely exist.

The importance to note about the existence of any of these "space planes" is they could be used to foster an alien invasion or false visitation flag. For years the public has been psychologically programmed to believe in an alien presence on earth and cattle mutilations, abductions, UFO reports, and programming is to foster the belief that aliens exist. Even now there is more talk that aliens seeded the earth which gave rise to humans. This alien story-line could be used to undermine religious belief systems. Because the theory of evolution has been discredited, the new phase is now to say aliens are our creators. Scripture warns that God would send a great delusion to those who reject Him and refuse to hear the truth. Could this delusion be that aliens created us- not God? (This would still not answer the question- who created the aliens.)

[Note: for a more detailed description of U.S. super secret technologies concerning the discussed spacecraft, refer to www.beforeitsnew.com in the article posted by Jeffery Pritchett titled, "Black Budget Anti-gravity Craft Your Not Suppose to Know About."]

In the times we live, the Deep State has been trying to destroy our historical past, our institutions, our forefather's credibility, and much more. Care must be taken to seek the real truth. Bible tells us that fallen angels came down unto earth bringing their knowledge and taught man many forbidden secrets. Why is it so far-fetched to believe that angel taught technology was given to certain evil men like the Nazis. Any supposedly aliens will not be visitors from other planets, but fallen angels, angel/human hybrids, and demons.

MIND CONTROLLED AMERICA

Humans have been experimented on with drugs and mind control techniques by the Deep State. One project was MK-ultra, also called the CIA mind control program. The program was developed in the 1950s to identify and develop drugs and procedures used in interrogations and torture to weaken the individual into a forced confession. In 1975, there was a Senate Church Committee of Congress and a Gerald Ford Commission to investigate the CIA activities, including mind control. The then CIA director, Richard Helms, said that all the MK-ultra records had been destroyed in 1973, hampering the investigation, but in 1977, 20,000 documents relating to MK-ultra were revealed. Even back then, everything was a lie and hidden, even to Congress.

At www.thinkaboutit.com blog, an article written by Ron Patton revealed Project Monarch, another mind control project.... Patton said, "Amid the subtle cerebral circumvention of the gullible populace, through a multitude of manipulated mediums, lies one of the most diabolical atrocities perpetrated upon a segment of the human race; a form of systemic mind control which has permeated every area of society for almost 50 years; exposing that individuals were unwittingly subjected to a highly complex form of trauma-based mind control programming. "

Already discussed in the previous chapter about the history of Rothschild Empire that a Bavarian Jew named Adam Weishaupt was asked by Rothschild to centralize the power base of the Mystery Religions into what is commonly called the Illuminati. The Illuminati is a joining of powerful occult bloodlines, elite secret societies, and Masonic paternity with the desire to construct the framework for a "New World Order." The ultimate goal is to gradually increase control over the masses, thus becoming masters of the planet. More recently, under operation

"Paperclip," many of the German Nazi and Italian Fascist scientists were brought to the U.S. after WWII. One outcome was work done with Gen. Reinhard Gehlen who was Hitler's chief intelligence officer against Russia. Once in Washington D.C., Gehlen was instrumental in reorganizing the nominal American intelligence operation into a highly efficient covert organization. The culmination of this work resulted in the forming of the CIA and the creation of the National Security Act (NSA) of 1947.

Patton went on to say, "Using just a few of the mind control methods discussed, the Illuminate bloodline was created to promote the ultimate "New World Order". These bloodlines are from multiple generational, Lucifer worshiping families and are ostensibly used to fill their destiny as chosen ones. There are different levels of programming:

Alpha - basic programming

Beta -sexual programming to eliminate all moral convictions and stimulate a primitive sexual instinct devoid of inhibitions.

Delta - killing programming

Theta- programming to enhance telepathic and psychic abilities using electronic mind control devices and bio-mind telemetry, directed-energy lasers using Microwave or electromagnetic (EM). This programming can be used with advanced computers and satellite tracking systems. (Could the mysterious towers appearing around the country be for mind control?)

Omega- is a self-destruct form of programming.

Gamma- is another form of system protection which illicit misinformation and misdirection intertwined with demonology.

Patton further stated that much of this programming could be used to create Monarch slaves. One notable slave he mentioned was Candy Jones (real name Jessica Wilcox). In the book by Donald Bain, "The Control of Candy Jones" by Playboy Press portrayed her 12 years of intrigue and suspense as a spy for the CIA. Another publicized case of a Monarch slave was "Trance Formation of America: The True Life Story of a CIA Slave" by Cathy O'Brien. This book relates accounts of O'Brien's years of unrelenting incest and eventual introduction to Project Monarch by her perverted father. O'Brien used forced prostitution; covert assignments like drug running in the country western music industry in a relationship with the CIA activities. Other people believed to be Monarch Slaves, according to Patton, were Lee Harvey Oswald, Sirhan-Sirhan (killer of Robert F. Kennedy), Charles Manson, John Hinckley, David Koresh, Tim McVeigh (Oklahoma City bomber), and John Slavic.

The current significance of mind control could be related to all the recent mass shootings. The perpetrator is usually a single male (typically white), a loner, on psychotropic drugs, leaves a diary, and everyone that knew him was surprised. These circumstances leave many to wonder if this action was related to mind control.

Mind control technology use has advanced light years ahead of the first techniques just discussed. In the article at www.wakingtimes.com titled "Total Individual Control Technology: Insider Exposes How You and Your DNA are Being Targeted". Total individual Central Technology (TICT) is a type of EM and V2K (Voice to Skull) weaponized technology. Bryan Kofron (former security specialist who worked for SIS (Security Industry Specialists), said he quit after realizing that his former firm, and others, were actively using these TICT to target people, then ultimately control and destroy their lives. It's reported that TICT can read your mind, program your mind with thoughts and induce emotional states like pain, hate, and fear. It can tap into audio and visual nerves to know what an individual is seeing and hearing. Also, it can change the way a person thinks and behaves, control muscle movement, and beam images and even motion pictures into your brain that is so real; one thinks it is a reality. TICT can even create a field effect where everyone in the field (even thousands) can be made to feel agitated or passive- the ultimate crowd control.

Since every individual has a specific DNA frequency- a unique resonance signature- it can be used as a weapon. A database is currently being compiled that can be used to target any specific person. Russian President Putin apparently is worried about the weaponizing of this technology. The BBC news said, "the Kremlin says foreign agents are collecting DNA samples from Russians of different ethnicity and sending the data abroad for scientific analysis." Russian geneticist Valery Ilyinsky said it concerned him that specialists in biological warfare could exploit genetic differences between ethnic groups.

We are now living in an age of technological mind control using television with subliminal messages, microwave transmissions, DNA warfare, and advanced psychological methods, just to name a few. It is more important than ever for Christians to remain steadfast to the Bible and the Word of God and its truths, less one finds themselves open to mind control. Worst, this power could lead to accepting falsehoods and the ultimate loss of their eternal soul.

DOWN-FALL AND FOREIGN OCCUPATION OF AMERICA

The Illuminati and Deep State are fast reaching the ultimate goal of the take-down of America using the far-left organizations like Antifa, MS-13, communist front groups, and Islamic terrorists. The goal is to remove American influence militarily, economically, and culturally. America has been the one significant obstacle preventing the "One World Government" from forming.

Dave Hodges at www.thecommonsenseshow.com in the article titled "The United Nations is Behind Antifa' Planned Attacks Upon America", has been warning for years about the threat. In a recent post (Oct. 2017), Hodges laid out the plan of the globalist. He related how the Vegas Massacre, killing 58 and wounding over 500, exemplifies the composition of the take-over of the U.S. using three points:

1. The Vegas massacre shows the forces that are being brought to bear against the people of the U.S., and they are Antifa, MS-13, CIA trafficking arms, the FBI "cleaners, the "Deep State" leftovers of the Obama administration, the Clinton Foundation, HSBC Bank, George Soros, and CIA/UN Black ops.

2. The Plan to start "holy hell" campaign similar to Las Vegas and Northern California fires to force a crisis in which the United Nations troops- already in the U.S., will be brought out into the open and used as a gun confiscation force.

3. U.N. involvement is exposed where the UN, in cooperation with the "Deep State," will be used for destruction of the United States.

Hodges quotes Steve Quayle who says, ".....follow up with who comprises the majority of the U.N. Security Council- Russia and China.....all their materials and troops are stationed under U.N. authority at U.S. bases that George Bush Sr. closed and gave away to the UN. This explains all the U.N. vehicles, foreign military vehicles, and encounters with foreign soldiers as well as the FBI's admitted 25,000 Chinese spies are in the country."

The Washington Post and many other media outlets, on July 11, 2017, previously reported on the FBI's 25,000 spies.....and FBI does not want to track them....why, because the FBI was hopelessly comprised by Obama "Deep State" holdovers who are working to fulfill their mission which will culminate in the fall of the US. On July 4, 2016, then FBI Director Comey said ISIS terrorist cells were operating in all 50 states. Even the other two nations, besides the U.S., on the U.N. Security Council- France and Britain are compromised- the French by admitting millions of Muslims who refuse to assimilate. The British are compromised by Muslim immigration and their status with the Rothschild Banking Cartel.

Under George Bush Sr., over 100 military bases were closed; and closures continued with Clinton and Obama, with many reports of civilian sightings of U.N. planes landing at these bases. Dave Hodges further mentioned the FEMA camps and the intention of the TPTB (the powers to be) to put millions of us in these camps.

In a July 27, 2017, commentary by Fox News titled "United Nations," The U.S. is announcing its support for a set of principles that give a green light for U.N. peacekeeping troops and police to use force to protect civilians in armed conflicts. U.N. peacekeepers from 29 countries are now required to act in cases where civilians are in danger. [note: U.S. has signed on for the U.N. use in the U.S.] If the radical left like Antifa in concert with ISIS and MS-13 are successful in carrying out Vegas-style attacks across America, this will give the U.N. forces already in the U.S. the excuse to occupy this country.

For anyone that thinks this to be a conspiracy, just be aware that the take-down and imposition of martial law have already been rehearsed under the Obama Administration with Jade Helm 15 and 16. While still president, Obama opened the U.S. borders to anyone to cross into the country. Among the thousands that took advantage of unprotected borders were the MS-13 Mexican gangs. All of these groups were gathered up by the border patrol and moved into the interior of the country and released. These same gangs have now connected with Antifa, and other leftists are planning the "Day of Rage" on November 4, 2017, with the goal to overturn the U.S. government and remove Trump as president. [Note: at time of this writing on Nov. 1, 2017, the results of the planned protests and violence have not occurred yet.]

More evidence of plans to take-down America is the FEMA Camp in Grayling MI, which is a site for martial law training. The facility houses hundreds of U.N. military vehicles. Dave Hodges has reported 3,000 Polish troops, 36,000 Turks, and thousands of Danish troops are also here. Once martial law is declared, gun confiscation will be their priority and then the incarceration of those resisting or suspected patriots.

Further evidence comes from an article posted on www.beforeitsnews.com Sept. 17, 2017, by Capt. Dave Bertrand, Ret. who interviewed Dr. Sebastian Gorka (Trump's former Deputy Secretary) concerning the Deep State, saying, "..... it goes deeper than anyone can imagine and should be termed "The Permanent State." that has been around for decades and will never go away.....this Deep State is like the engine in a car, and the president is the driver.....if the engine quits..... the car [U.S.] will become immediately worthless and will shut down the driver and maybe kill the driver....."We The People" are only passengers in the car.....if President Trump continues to go beyond the scope of the Military Industrial Complex agencies and forces Attorney General Sessions and Congress to do their job.... his days as president will be short lived..... Trump is being forced to appease DACA, the border wall, and soon health care reform..... there is no balance of power, we have a dictatorship essentially by fiat, controlling America and every citizen by surveillance and data mining..... we are basically the United States of Amerika..... the only element keeping the "Deep State" from absolute tyranny against the American people are the millions of guns in the hands of citizens..... all of you and me are under attack by the "Deep State" by using the extremists, socialists, communists as a weaponized political movement to destroy any and all attempts to "Make America Great Again"..... the far left goons dumbed-down with MSNBC and CNN propaganda..... real truther news will be systematically censored and eventually shutdown. We are AT WAR IN AMERICA!" [Emphasis added by me].

CHAPTER X

Word of Warning to American Churches and its Pastors

The ultimate question is, "Can America be saved?". As this book has revealed, our nation was founded on Christian values. However, evil forces have been at work since its founding, to control and destroy this great nation. Where in the past, our country had fearless leaders and clergy to enlighten its citizens to desire freedom and fear God, this no longer exists. Instead, America is being betrayed by wolves in sheep's clothing. America is controlled and manipulated by the followers of the Antichrist spirit. The only real hope for the nation, our spiritual church leaders, have failed us all. More concerned about their "business of religion," our churches have agreed to "go along, to get along" with the Antichrist "New World Order" system. Although many of our church and political leaders wear suits and ties pretending to be meek shepherds, they are in fact wolves, Quoting Greek Philosopher Cicero:

“For the traitor appears not a traitor, he speaks in accents familiar to his victims, and he wears their face and their arguments, he appeals to the baseness that lies deep in the hearts of all men. He rots the soul of a nation, he works secretly and unknown in the night to undermine the pillars of the city, he injects the body politic so that it can no longer resist. A murderer is less to fear.”

At www.newswithaview.com (Nov. 2, 2017, an article by Dave Daubenmire titled, "America a Captured Nation: Diversity, Multi-Culturalism and Political Correctness," said, "We are a sin laden nation because we have codified evil into the law..... Content to focus on the "saving of souls" we neglect Jesus' admonition to occupy until He comes. As evil flourished, the church retreated..... only way communism could advance would be if Christianity could be rendered powerless..... They [communists] seized our schools and infiltrated the universities. They captured the media, Hollywood, music, art, literature, science, history, civil organizations, and seminaries..... Slowly voice of Jesus was muted..... the God judgment and wrath was dead and a resurrected "non-judgmental" Jesus became the new god that the new America embraced..... Communism can only thrive in the absence of the Gospels.... Marxists are in control of America....it is their beachhead. Will she be overthrown? I think not. "For the Earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof." We are His ambassadors on the earth. It is time to do our duty.”

For the past two generations, Christianity is slowly vanquished from the public square. Some years ago, Christopher Dawson warned of this apostasy. At www.intellectualltakeout.org, Devin Foley in the article titled, "Will Christianity be Driven Back Into the Catacombs?" spoke of this neutralizing of the American churches. Foley quoted Christopher Dawson, a noted historian, who wrote 70- 80 years ago about the changes he foresaw in Christianity and European culture. His expectations foresaw that Christians would find themselves retreating further and further away from today's secular culture. Dawson recognized the desire to retreat as a pattern of potential thought when he was writing. Unfortunately, his foresight did not envision the power, reach, and expectations of the modern secular state."

Foley also said, "..... The totalitarian state..... and perhaps the modern state in general.... is not satisfied with passive obedience, it demands full co-operation from cradle to grave...No such a thing as values "neutral" government, even a secular government is upholding and enforcing a set of values, beliefs, and an ethos.... seen in arts, entertainment, education, leisure, celebrations, customs, and, especially, in government and laws...secular culture is gaining ground..... our culture is moving from one heavily influenced by Christianity to one hostile to Christianity and organized religion."

Churches, having failed to warn and prepare Christians, today are risking that many Christians will be deceived by the "Great Delusion" spoken of in Revelations. This delusion will cause many to fall away from the faith and even accept the Antichrist, for "men's heart will fail them for what is coming upon the earth." The reluctance of pastors to talk about the political and economic tribulations coming as foretold in prophecy will destroy many. Whereas the American Revolution was greatly influenced and brought about as a result of preaching from the pulpits, American Christians have become lukewarm and willing to tolerate any abuse from the Antichrist forces destroying this country. A prime example is silence from most pulpits of the mass killing and persecution of Christians overseas. Every day in America, Christians are being ridiculed and mocked and even equaled to terrorists.

The godless elements in our society are pushing for civil war and an overthrow of the government. If the leftists are successful in impeaching or even killing President Trump, civil and martial law will undoubtedly occur. Past presidents, going back to Carter and Bush Sr., especially Obama, have been preparing to turn this country over to the New World Order. Russian, Chinese, U.N. and many other foreign troops are being trained in this country to facilitate this takeover. In fact, there is already a reported 800 FEMA camps ready to jail and even kill any resisters to the new Amerika. Even many clergies have signed onto the Clergy Response Teams, whose purpose is to have pastors placate their members into submitting to the government in an emergency, even gun confiscation.

The cabal controlling America has a psychological spy network that has a dossier on every American. Using this information, every American is profiled into a category. Steve Quayle, who has spent years warning of the globalists endgame, has stated, "We are all on a Red or Blue List somewhere. These lists, to round up and terminate, is none other than "FEMA Black Ops." The FEMA camps reported purpose is not to help save lives but to terminate human lives deemed unworthy of entering into the dawning of Lucifer's New World Order. Says David Spangler, Director of Planetary Initiative, United Nations, "No one will enter the New World Order unless he or she pledges to worship Lucifer. No one will enter the New Age unless he takes a Luciferian initiation."

In article at www.allnewspipeline.com, titled "Hawk: Coming To Kill The Red List- Jade Helm 15 Drills preparing For War on Americans", (March 29, 2015), says, ".....not just the drills, but the insidious agenda behind the drills [Jade Helm 15] where the US military is using American cities and citizens as their "targets", declaring some states "hostile", using unconventional warfare, extractions techniques, and much more."..... Hawk further states, "..... what they are actually preparing for,coming to kill the red list, which are constitutionalists, veterans, oath keepers, Christians, 2nd Amendment supporters, those of religion.... anyone that would oppose the complete lockdown of America and martial law in the 50 states."

"The 'red list' was exposed by Steve Quayle over a decade ago, where to paraphrase, he was told by a high level official that there are three lists the US government compiles on US citizens, those who will comply like sheep (green), those that would need reconditioning for lack of a better term, taken to containment camps or FEMA camps (blue list), and those that would never comply and would fight for our liberties and freedoms.... the last group being put on the red list, targeted for death."

Many Christians, when made aware of this threat, say God would protect them and never let such a thing happen, but this is ludicrous! If this were a reality, then the Bible would never have stated, "My people perish for lack of knowledge." Church pastors should be teaching prophecy and warning their flock, preparing them for the coming tribulations foretold in scripture. If prophecy, which makes up about 30% of the Bible, is NOT WASTED SPACE, then God has a purpose for warning His people.

My fear is that without warning, Christians will not prepare physically, mentally, and spiritually, and they may even fall away and from God. Without warning, there will be a great falling away from God and many accepting the Great Delusion and take the "Mark of the Beast." The American Revolution was greatly influenced and brought about as the result of preaching from the pulpits. American Christians have become "lukewarm" and willing to tolerate any abuse from the Antichrist forces destroying this country. A prime example is the mass killing and persecution of Christians around the world. Even now, some of our government agencies have compared Christians to terrorists and extremists. The New World Order (NWO) cannot tolerate a religion that says that the only way to salvation is through Jesus Christ. This statement destroys their narrative that there are many ways to God. If the NWO allowed this concept to be widely accepted, how could a one world religion be imposed, as one of the goals of the globalists?

It is imperative that Christians be made aware of the coming great apostasy and coming tribulations . Most American Christians believe in the salvation of Jesus, and many think they will be "raptured" from the forthcoming tribulations foretold in the scriptures. However this assumes they are truly saved, which begs the question is it true "Once saved, always saved"? Is it possible for a believer to turn their back on Christ and lose their salvation? I believe the Bible says yes!

Evidence to support this supposition can be seen in a very appropriate commentary by Pastor Michael Chriswell in the article titled "Once Saved, Always Saved" at www.relentlessheart.com/blog/once-saved-always-saved (Dec. 14, 2015), and a must-read. I will only summarize it here. Chriswell discusses the argument for and against "Once saved, always saved." He says, "..... I could no longer take man's word for it, and I decided to do an exhaustive study in Scripture for myself.... we must determine if this position is in accordance to the Bible.... most of us cherry-pick a scripture or two and then say "ahaa.... this is what the Bible says..... Let us be like the Bereans and research the Bible for ourselves."

Many Christians believe you can never fall away and lose your salvation, but consider Revelation 22:19, "And if anyone [assumes even Christians] takes away from this Book of prophecy, God will take away from his share in the tree of life and in the Holy City, as described in this book." What did Jesus teach about falling away? In Matt. 5:13, it says, "You are the salt of the earth. But if salt loses its saltiness, how can it be made salty again? It is no longer good for anything, except to be thrown out and trampled by men."

Matt 24:12-13 says, "Because of the increase of wickedness, the love [for God] of MOST will grow cold, but he who stands firm to the end will be saved." Note: this verse says MOST. Jesus alluded to those who do not stand firm in their love of God when He spoke the parable of the sower who went out to sow his seed. The parable relates how some of the seed was trodden down and some eaten by birds. Some fell on rock, some fell among thorns and were choked, but some fell on good ground and grew. Jesus explained to his disciples the seed that falls on rock, saying, "Those on the rock are the ones who receive the word with joy when they hear it, but they have no root. They believe for a while, but in the time of testing fall away." Luke 8:13.

Chriswell says salvation is reserved for us when we accept Christ as our savior, but this is a future inheritance, not actual possession of salvation yet. Some of the verses he gives to uphold his belief are:

Eze 33:12 "Therefore, son of man, say to your countrymen, 'The righteousness of the righteous man will not save him when he disobeys, and the wickedness of the wicked man will not cause him to fall when he turns from it. The righteous man, if he sins, will not be allowed to live because of his former righteousness.'"

Luke 12:45 -46 "But suppose the servant (believer) says to himself, My master (Jesus) is taking a long time in coming, and then begins to beat the menservants and maidservants and to eat and drink and get drunk. The master of that servant will come..... He will cut him to pieces and assign him a place with the unbelievers."

Act 14:22 Strengthening the disciples and encouraging them to remain true to the faith. "We must go through many hardships to enter the kingdom of God," they said. (Which raises the question, "Why the need to encourage someone to remain "true" to the faith if they can never fall away from it, to begin with?")

I Cor. 15:2 By this gospel you are saved, if you hold firmly to the word I preached to you. Otherwise, you have believed in vain.

Those who continue to live in sin are not really saved. A true believer must avoid sin, but this does not mean one does not sin, but does mean one should not live in a lifestyle of sin. 1 Cor. 6:9. The Scriptures teach that salvation is available to believers as an inheritance, but only to those who are faithful until the end. The Bible says,

"In his great mercy he has given us a new birth into a living hope.... and into an inheritance.... kept in heaven for you.... until the coming of the salvation that is ready to be revealed in the last time." 1 Peter 1:13

All Christians need to be overcomers, not just hearers of the word but also doers. Chriswell says, "You can not lose something you do not yet possess, so you can't technically lose salvation because you don't have it yet..... our future inheritance of this future salvation is His free gift.... but we must hold to our faith, or we will lose our future inheritance." As an example, Chriswell gives the story from Foxe's Book of Martyrs of a weak Christian in 250 A.D. called Nichomachus. He was brought before the governor of Asia, Optimus, and ordered to sacrifice to their pagan idols. Nichomachus replied, "I cannot pay the respect to devils that is due only to the Almighty." He was immediately placed on the stretching rack, and after enduring his torments for only a short time, recanted his faith in Christ. As soon as he was freed from the rack, he was seized with great agony and fell to the ground and died." [Jesus makes it clear that if you deny Him before man, He will deny you before His Father in heaven.]

The most important preparation for the return of Jesus and prophesied tribulations is to be following God's law, living a righteous life, and resisting sin. All true believers must be ready for the Bridegroom (Jesus) when he returns. Even those expecting to be taken in the Rapture. [All Christians should believe in the Rapture which I think will be Pre or Mid tribulation.] Many of the early church fathers believed in the Rapture, refuting what has been written in the last 200 years that the belief in a rapture is something new. Christ's return for His church is spoken of in the parable of the virgins in Matt. 25:1-13. Ten virgins went forth to meet the bridegroom, but five were foolish and did not prepare and took no oil for their lamps. The other prepared virgins were taken into the bridegroom to be married and the door shut. However, the five foolish virgins went to look for oil, but upon their return asking to be let in, the Lord said I know you not.

To those pastors, not teaching about Hell and rebuking sin, they are part of the "Lukewarm" end time church. Pastors who are not preaching prophecy are denying the souls under their charge the knowledge they will need to resist the false Messiah- the Antichrist. If anyone believes that, only hearing the word but not doing it will save them- they are deceived. When the Antichrist forces demand that they take the "Mark of the Beast," they will take it to save their lives. When the New World Order demands worship of the False Messiah to get food and medicine, those unprepared will bow down and be like Nichomachus, denying Christ. Beware, beware, beware, pastors, that their lost souls will be on your head!

Most churches today no longer recognize the importance of baptism in the Holy Spirit. Scripture notes that the written word is foolishness to man.

1 Corinthians 2:14, "But the natural man receiveth, not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned."

Baptism in the Holy Spirit is often confused with other ministries of the Holy Spirit. Like Jesus, the disciples had undoubtedly received water baptism, but they had to wait until Pentecost to receive the baptism in the Holy Spirit. Jesus admonished the disciples to wait until they had received this baptism before beginning their ministries. Indeed, they would not have been effective without the Holy Spirit indwelling, for this is how He empowers and controls us. (Acts 4:31) The indwelling of the Holy Spirit is God taking up permanent residence in our lives, marking us as His permanent possession. (John 14:17, Romans 8:9-11, 1 Corinthians 3:16, 1 John 4:4)

Most churches believe that at water baptism, a new professing Christian also receives the Holy Spirit. However, this goes against the facts that Jesus received a separate spiritual baptism in the form of a dove. The disciples likewise received their spiritual baptism in the form of tongues of fire. In both cases, Jesus and the disciples were empowered to begin their ministries. Even John the Baptist admonished those he water baptized, that this was not the final baptism saying,

"I baptize you with water; but he who is mightier than I is coming, the thong of whose sandals I am not worthy to untie; he will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire."

It is imperative to understand the difference in the two baptisms. John Piper delineates the difference. In the article titled, "You Will Be Baptized with the Holy Spirit" states, "..... there is another utterly crucial thing that the apostles needed in order to be the most effective instrument in the hands of the living Jesus. They needed to be baptized with the Holy Spirit.... I used to just assume that Paul and Luke were talking about the same thing when they used the word "baptism by the Spirit" in 1 Cor: 12:13 and the baptism with the Holy Spirit in Acts 2 were the same. Many very able scholars and teachers still make that connection. The view I am about to give you is not the only orthodox one, nor is it one you have to agree with in order to be a part of this fellowship. But it is one that I am increasingly persuaded is correct and desperately needed in the church.... being baptized with the Holy Spirit is when a believer in Jesus Christ receives extraordinary power for Christ-exalting ministry."

In summary, having once accepted Jesus as a person's savior does not guarantee salvation. A true Christian must be a doer of the word and never deny Jesus before men. Also, one needs to live as closely as possible to a godly life, forsaking sin. The Scriptures are clear that in the end, God will be seeking a remnant who have remained faithful to Him. Jesus asked if He would find any faith in his Second Coming.

Also, America's churches lack any power to affect our culture and nation because they do not understand, emphasize, or even believe in a separate baptism of the Holy Spirit. This baptism gives the extraordinary power to defeat the control of Satan in this world. Without the power of speaking convicting words, performing miracles, healing the sick, casting out demons, there is no witness to the gospel of Jesus Christ. It is no wonder that the millennial generation is forsaking Christianity! The Church of Jesus in America needs to be on its knees begging God for forgiveness and the lukewarm atmosphere pervading our churches. They should be pleading for the double portion of the outpouring of the Holy Spirit promised to occur in the end times. Without this outpouring, this nation will be captured by a financial and spiritual system of Illuminati/Antichrist servitude. Our religious leaders need to awaken to the existential threat we are facing.

CHAPTER XI

WHO WILL BE THE OVERCOMERS DURING THE GREAT TRIBULATION?

From the Alpha to the Omega, from the beginning to the end, God has used His word written in the Holy Bible to explain the creation. God has declared the eternal plan of the first man and women, showing the fall and ultimate redemption of man. When Adam and Eve sinned, their control and dominion of the earth were forfeited to Lucifer- the serpent, but God will have the last word through his son Jesus Christ. Mankind, since the Garden of Eden, has struggled against, not flesh and blood, but fought a spiritual battle against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. (Eph. 6:12)

Lucifer's goal has always been to take the rightful worship of God and direct it to himself. The battle that man is fighting began with the fallen angels who left heaven and chose to enter mankind's domain, and coming unto women who bear them children, the Nephilim. Lucifer planned to eliminate the seed that would give rise to Jesus. The devil would have succeeded except God sent a great flood to destroy the wickedness of the Nephilim- the fallen angel and human/angelic hybrids- the Rephaim . Noah and his family were saved in the Ark, assuring the fulfillment of eternal salvation of man as spoken in Genesis 3:14-15.

“...the Lord God said unto the serpent.... I will put enmity between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel.”

After Noah's flood, humanity again increased upon the earth but was still deceived by the devil's henchman, King Nimrod, who organized a one world kingdom with one language, economy, and religious system. Nimrod started building a tower, the Tower of Babel [a stargate?], to reach into heaven in a bid to dethrone God. However, God destroyed this tower and confused the language of the people, scattering them around the world. [Note: Babel means confusion, and is also called Babylon.]

Throughout history, there have been repeated efforts to dethrone God from the rightful worship due only to Him. Lucifer, working from behind the scene, has raised evil men to do his bidding. Lucifer has not changed his game plan over the past millennium to bring about a one world government under his control. Whatever system arose, whether ancient Babylon, Egypt, or any other false god worshipping civilizations, they all were heavily into occult practices and mysticism. It was no different in the most recent attempt by the Nazis and Hitler to rule a "One World Empire." The Nazis were very involved in the occult with mysticism as its foundation, but Hitler was defeated, as all past Babylonian type systems.

Now at this present time, another attempt is being made to create this dream of a One World Order (NWO). Although the game plan has not changed, Lucifer has, over the last 250 years, has a new line up of evil men and organizations to work toward his goals. Lucifer is using these new entities we know as the Illuminati, Masonic Order of the 33rd level, the House of Rothschild, and many more groups. Just like in the past, this new proposed NWO is heavily into occult practices and worship of Lucifer, as their god.

What makes this current NWO plan different this time is that God has foretold and warned those who read and follow His word. The Book of Revelation lays out explicitly this as the last attempt of the false gods of this world, led by Lucifer. The Apostle John, writing down the words given to him by Jesus, foretells that this time the NWO dream will almost succeed. Lucifer will embody a man and control the world, even sitting in the Third Jewish Temple to be built in Jerusalem [God's eternal city], and Lucifer will setup his throne in the Temple and declare himself God and require the world's worship.

As history has already shown through the Bible and historical facts, this world ruled by carnal flesh and Lucifer always leads to destruction. The Bible was given to man to provide the choice to either follow God's laws or the world's systems- Mystery Babylon. The devil's ultimate success will bring humanity to the brink of utter destruction, so much so, that the Bible said if God did not shorten the reign of Satan, that no flesh would be left on the earth. We are already seeing this happening with the worldwide mass animal die offs, the collapse of oceans ecosystems, and the threat of nuclear annihilation.

To save the earth and mankind, God has promised to send His son Jesus in his second coming, but this time, he will not come as a lamb to the slaughter, but as the roaring Lion of Judea! One of Jesus' first tasks will be to defeat the armies of Satan at the Battle of Armageddon, and the angels will be sent to separate the wheat from the tares- the righteous believers in Jesus from the unbelievers who have denied Him.

Whether you have a view of the world from a Christian, a secular, or another religious perspective, the events happening now will have a profound effect on you, your family and the nation. While Christians, who believe and follow biblical prophecy, will have the advantage of being prepared for the coming tribulations, the average person will be unprepared. The most significant threat currently facing humanity is the unprecedented debt bubble collapse which is soon coming. Our world has reached the point of no return unless God intervenes. The massive debt bubble created by the world's central banks (the Rothschild banking cabal) manipulated by design to cause a crisis, which will bring chaos begging for someone to solve the problem. The Illuminate and their willing accomplices will step in as the savior, and allow the establishment of the NWO, ultimately leading to the Antichrist reign. [Note: remember the Illuminati motto is, "Out of Chaos, Order."]

As shown in this book, the Satan worshipping Luciferian worldwide network has captured the financial, political, educational, religious, and news media. Where once the U.S. and other Western nations were lead by godly laws, now their moral support systems have been destroyed. Looking at the U.S., as an example, this once great nation that our Founding Fathers established, has abandoned the principals that made this country so great. At its founding, America was dedicated to God and under a Constitution and Bill of Rights, that emphasized life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness with the best interest of 'We The People' in mind. Now, the rule-of-law no longer exist. Our judicial courts, politicians, corporations, and financial institutions are nothing but criminal enterprises. Our capitalist system, which our nation's wealth was produced, no longer exist. True capitalism is based on a free market system where market forces determine the true price of goods, services, assets, production, and currency. Instead, that is no longer true as our markets, like stocks and bonds, are now controlled. As an example, the government 'Plunge Protection Team' buys and sells stocks and bonds to move the markets in a predetermined direction, ignoring the free market principals.

Gold and silver markets are manipulated to depress prices and force money into stocks and bonds artificially. Gold and silver have historically, for 5,000 years, been a tested means of wealth preservation. Now, precious metals are discouraged by governments to keep its citizens from investing in this true money, but rather the government forces the cash into fiat paper money where its real value always leads to zero. All the while the central banks and many countries like China, Russia, and India are buying gold and silver at rock bottom prices. Several large banks, like Deutsche Bank, were recently fined by regulatory agencies for suppressing the precious metal prices.

The destruction of our capitalist system is designed to force money into the markets of government choosing like stocks and bonds which in a downturn will wipe out the savings of the uninformed novice savers who can not compete against inside traders. In fact, forcing the world from capitalism into a communistic system where all assets will be under control of the 'State.' Venezuela is a prime example of socialist control. Where Venezuela was once one of the richest South American countries, with massive oil reserves, it is now bankrupt with a collapsed currency. Venezuelans are forced to rummage through garbage for food, and eat their pets, even zoo animals.

Religion is also under attack, especially Christianity. No longer are churches allowed the guarantee of freedom of religion. The government, using the power to tax and the IRS code 501c3 and media propaganda to silence the voice of the church. This while Islam is being protected and promoted at the expense of Christianity. Christians are equated to terrorists and bigots. In a story from Canada, a couple in Alberta was denied adoption because they believed in the sanctity of marriage as stated in the Bible as between a man and a woman. How long before Christians will be marginalized and regulated to practice their beliefs only at home or the church.

It was just reported a man was fired from his job at a major corporation for sharing this faith in Jesus, but not at work, but on his own time away from the job. The NWO cannot allow the Gospel of Jesus Christ to be spread, as it undermines their plan for a one world religion. The media never attacks Muslims, Hindus, or Buddhist beliefs, but only denigrates and ridicules Christians. Pope Francis is part of this one world religion movement. He has made it clear that he believes all paths lead to the same God. But why do the U.S. government and mainstream media never say anything derogatory about Islam? Islam thinks that only Muslims are going to heaven and all others (infidels) are to be converted, suppressed, or killed. Could it be, as stated in a previous chapter, that the Illuminati is using Islam to promote their goal of this one world government? The main reason the globalists so persecute Christianity, is they fear the power and truth of Jesus Christ.

As the world economies implode, the NWO minions and controllers will quickly move to use the chaos of an economic collapse to bring in the Antichrist system. The Muslims are already looking for the soon return of their Messiah, the Madhi. The Jews are also watching for the soon return of their Messiah, but both religions will be deceived into accepting the Antichrist as their Messiah. The Bible says the Man of Perdition will come with power and performing great wonders (miracles), just like the Egyptian priest in Moses' time performed miracles using magic. However, this Antichrist will be a false Messiah, and not the real Messiah, Jesus.

Scripture warned of this coming Antichrist system almost two thousand years ago in the Book of Revelation. Prophecy also warned of a 'great delusion' where most of the world would fall for this Luciferian system. But what could this delusion be? With more and more talk about alien sightings and abductions, UFOs, and release of information collected by governments around the world, could the world be deceived into believing the aliens created us. You see movies portraying that an alien race seeded humans on earth, being humanity's creator. As exposed, the U.S., and probably other nations, have 'flying saucer' type spacecraft. With 50% of Americans believing that we are "not alone," it would not take much evidence to convince the world that humans are not special. Could this delusion be fostered by the "great power and lying wonders" foretold in the Bible?

Begging the question, "If suddenly confronted with an "alien invasion," what effect will this have on religion? More evidence every day is exposed that past ancient highly advanced civilizations have existed, predating Adam and Eve. Skeletal remains and evidence are being unearthed daily of past existing giant races. Steve Quayle and Timothy Alberino have researched, documented and written books and produced DVDs proving the fact that giants have, and or currently living on earth. Jesus even warned that the end times would be like the time of Noah- implying the return of the giants that polluted the earth with wickedness, so much so that they (but not all), were destroyed by the flood. Perhaps in the past, God has created other sentient beings and also on other worlds. Scripture has already established that God created the different angelic hosts of heaven. The Bible speaks of angels mating with human women creating inter-dimensional/human hybrids like Goliath and King Og mentioned in the Bible. God saw this as an abomination and sent the flood in Noah's time to destroy this "alien" race.

Regardless of possible alien races, man is still unique in all creation. God made man in His image, and He breathed life- possibly His very soul into Adam. So it is immaterial whether other creatures exist. The Bible is clear that only earthly humankind was created to live with God in heaven. I believe any other beings (excluding fallen angels and their seed) will be without souls, much like animals, and not made for eternal life with God, at least in this universe. Perhaps there are thousands or millions of other worlds created by God with alternate plans and goals. It is more likely these "aliens" will be demons. [Note: This assumption is author's opinion; however, there is no mention in scripture that any other sentient being was made to be the children of God and to dwell for eternity in heaven.]

It does not matter if one is a Christian, a secularist, or any other religious belief, a great deception is being perpetrated on the world. The deception will be that the coming fake ruler of the NWO is the savior, Messiah, or God. The intent of writing this book is to awaken the uninformed and to open their eyes to see, and ears to hear the approaching apocalypse. If this book is written with God and the Holy Spirit's urging and not just by a carnal man, only time will tell. But if it is of God, then nothing will prevent the truths exposed here from spreading and accomplishing its goal of releasing this captured nation from the all the lies, deception, and corruption.

Those accepting the principals exposed in this book will be prepared to work against this NWO and take back our nation. Knowing fully that God's word is always accomplished, but can be forestalled, just like in Nineveh, when its people heeded Jonah's warning, and the city spared. But will America humble itself, repent, and turn from its wicked ways? Repentance means to turn from sin and begin to work according to God's laws. One of the most significant sins of this nation is that its people have allowed ungodly leaders to infiltrate our society and government. "We The People" need to be responsible for our God-given rights established in our Bill of Rights and Constitution. The solution is to wrestle the world from the Illuminati control of the world. The task will be long and arduous, but there is no alternative, if we are to save this nation and future generations from the hellish nightmare fast approaching.

I believe one of the critical first steps, needs to begin within America's churches. Just as America's churches were fearlessly involved in the Revolutionary War, our church pastors and elders need to stand up and speak against this godless secular tyranny infecting our nation. Most of America's lukewarm churches have abandoned God, and left Jesus knocking on their doors to be let in. Using Israel as an example, God sent His prophets and judgment, again and again, warning Israel to turn from its wicked ways and idol worship. [Note: Idol worship is not just bowing before a human-made statue. Our nation worships comfort, mammon, sports figures, celebrities, the government, and many more idols.]

God is going to judge the churches who have abandoned the meat of the gospel for a lukewarm, watered down, milk toast gospel. Sin and reality of Hell is a taboo subject; less the congregation become uncomfortable. These churches will be brought down for the gross failure to be the "salt of the earth." Where America was given more power and wealth than any empire in history, it now is under judgment and collapse. One of the signs of a sinful nation is revealed in scripture; when a country turns its back on God, He promises to send corrupt leaders that will lead the nation into bondage. Can anyone honestly say that corruption does not rule our nation! At the time of this writing in Nov. 2017, the news is full of reports of indictments against high government officials, industry leaders, media personalities, and celebrities for treason, organized pedophilia rings, bribery, and many other crimes. It is reported that Hillary Clinton is one of the indicted, for the [Uranium One] treasonous act of selling 20% of our nations uranium reserves to Russia, all for a $100 million-plus bribe. News has just been released in Saudi Arabia of the arrest of dozens of ministers and princes who colluded with domestic U.S. Deep State operatives involved in the 9/11 attack.

Where once America lead in evangelizing and spreading the Gospel, this nation is now in need itself of evangelizing. Islam and Wiccan are now the fastest growing religions in America. Instead of using our wealth to help develop the third world and reduce poverty, our nation spends vast wealth on the military-industrial complex to carry out numerous wars around the world, causing the death of millions. Through military means, an overthrow of governments, and bribery, the U.S. has plundered the resources of numerous countries. America has become a bully and pariah to the world. The few alliances left for our country is with nations bribed, threatened, and coerced.

As Steve Quayle has opined, he is unable to get people even to understand the Illuminati and fundamental truths of the Bible, how can he tell them other horrifying realities of the return of giants and Nazi bases in Antarctica. Quayle laments the grief he receives for trying to awaken the masses to the truths about the existence of alien races living on earth or about the military's ability to visit Mars using teleportation and existing spacecraft. [Note: the U.S. Air Force has a Space Command Department.]

The main point is this country has been captured by Deep State and Illuminati forces who control and use the wealth of this nation for their nefarious goals. The most important goal being the establishment of their NWO and enthronement of their god Lucifer. Christians, especially, need to be awakened to the fact that our battle is not just against earthly powers but with powers, and rulers, and principalities in high places- interdimensional beings and fallen angels.

The bottom line is, do not accept any man as Messiah, but only Jesus who will come to earth in power, majesty, and glory followed by all the saints and host of angels of heaven. Revelations saying of this moment,

"And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse, and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he doth judge and makes war.....And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean. And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the wine-press of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.... And he on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, King of Kings, and Lord of Lords." Rev. 19:11-16

CHAPTER XII

A Plan to Take Back Our Captured Nation

The most significant threat to our nation is the disparate economic dilemma facing every American. King Solomon of the Bible, who is regarded as very wise, said:

"What has been will be again, what has been done will be done again, there is nothing new under the sun." - Eccl. 1:9

Through time immemorial, the wealth of the world has been controlled by an elite few. Going back to Babylon and its Hanging Gardens, the great temples and pyramids of Egypt, the Great Wall of China and massive Forbidden City, the magnificent cathedrals of Europe, were all built by the elite rulers. The elite ruling class accumulated the wealth of their nations using the labor and money of the impoverished masses to build these edifices glorifying themselves.

It is no different today. The elite globalists (aka Deep State), Illuminati, ruling banking families, like the Rothschilds, Rockefellers, Morgans, Warburgs, and Chinese Li family, use their immense wealth stolen from the masses to control and manipulate the world. Their power derived from the control of nations currencies. An Emperor of China was reported to be the first one to establish a fiat (paper) currency to exhort wealth from its people, to replace scarce gold and silver, as a means of trade and commerce. Acceptance of this paper currency demanded under penalty of death.

This fiat money system has been used, time and again, to enslave humanity. Gold and silver coinage is a historical store of wealth since it can not be manufactured like paper. Before the creation of the paper money system, the only way to spend more money than was available was to debase the coinage with base metals, as done by Rome. However, the consequences were the same, the unlimited amounts of new, but devalued currency. The United States under the Federal Reserve central banking system requires its citizens and the world, to accept a piece of paper with no intrinsic value except the good faith and credit of our nation. However, fiat money removes any restraint on our leaders to spend money. Paper is printed in unlimited supply [the modern version of printing is digital keystrokes] which creates inflation; then in the end stage, hyperinflation leading to a worthless currency. Like in the Weimar Republic, the currency became so debased, that it took a wheelbarrow of money to buy a loaf of bread. Thus the money was only suitable to be used in the fireplace to keep warm.

WHAT STEPS ARE NEEDED TO RE-CAPTURE AMERICA

First, the U.S. dollar is now reaching its terminal stage. Unless Americans demand our leaders eliminate the Federal Reserve, returning the only constitutionally legal authority to issue money to the control of Congress and the citizens, our economy will collapse. The U.S., like China, Russia, India, and many other nations that are already accumulating precious metals, preparing to back their currency with real wealth, we must do the same. China has already started backing their Yuan with gold in the oil trade. Furthermore, the $10s of Trillions of dollars stolen from Americans needs to be confiscated and returned. Saudi Arabia has just announced the arrest and confiscation of a reported $800 billion, corruptly taken from its country and citizens. The Glass-Steagall Act needs to be reinstated. This Act was passed in 1933 to separate the commercial and investment banking, which had helped cause the Great Depression. The Glass-Steagall repeal in 1999, under President Clinton, has been reported to be an essential cause of the financial crisis in 2008. Furthermore, the Anti-trust laws need to be used to break up the concentration of news media under the control of just a few liberal globalists corporations. This action will help restore truth in reporting and dismantle the "fake news" sites.

2. All citizens of this country need to abandon the mainstream media news outlets including newspapers and seek the truth on alternative news sites. Must push congress for an internet freedom act.

3. Americans need to become educated and involved in the political process. Political actions groups need to be formed in every city, county, and state, like the Tea Party movement, to monitor our politicians, corporations, and financial institutions. Action committees can call for boycotts and recall elections of those derelict in their duties. Our nation can no longer afford to wait until scheduled elections every two or four years. Politicians that fail their responsibilities to represent the American people's best interest, but who only cater to the established Deep State oligarchy, need to be immediately removed from office.

4. Local and state systems need to be established to keep the public informed on the critical issues affecting our states and nation. Whereas the Federal government has become hopelessly corrupted and compromised, the local and state levels of government are more easily prone to respond to its citizens. This oversight network is accomplished by word of mouth, petitions, media advertisement in newspapers and radio. Committees need to solicit donations to pay for this media outreach. Each committee can have a board of directors chosen from respected members of the community. This board can be responsible for directing the appropriate funding and actions agreed on by the members. A legal apparatus needs to be formed to challenge any media outlets trying to prohibit legal public awareness campaigns. An even better action would be to find legitimate media outlets and help fund them.

5. Americans need to be encouraged and given the information on preparedness for national and local emergencies, e.g., recent Hurricane Harvey and California wine country fires. Food, energy, water, medicine, home and personal defense, and other resource stockpiling needs to be encouraged and started. All citizens need to be informed of the threat to their savings and retirement assets and encouraged to seek financial protection in gold and silver coinage with personal ownership. It is highly critical that all Americans be made aware that a recently passed banking reform act denotes any deposits in banks as checking or savings accounts are classified as unsecured loans to the bank. If a financial institution fails, all chances to recoup individuals money, even in FDIC insured banks, will be nil. Depositors are at the bottom of the creditors owed money by the failed bank. [Note: Any depositor of funds at a bank is considered a creditor to the bank as they have loaned their money to the bank.] To understand this corrupt banking act called the Dodd-Frank Banking Reform Bill passed in 2010 in response to the 2008 banking crisis, refer to article on www.sandiegofreepress.org, by John Lawrence titled, "The Bail-in: How You and Your Money Will Be Parted During the Next Banking Crisis". Lawrence said,

"No more taxpayer bailouts for the big Wall Street Banks..... [according to the Dodd-Frank banking reform bill.... the principal has been established that the next source of money for profligate banks will be YOUR DEPOSIT ACCOUNTS [Emphasis added by author].....the next crisis will come out of your savings and checking accounts.... the banks have the right to confiscate your funds if they crash the economy again as they did in 2008.... in a checking or savings account, that money no longer belongs to you.... derivatives (bets banks have made in the Wall Street casino) have priority over checking and savings accounts when it comes to paying off their [the bank's] debts..... FDIC [assets] or minuscule compared to the value of outstanding derivatives....[estimated to be close to $2 quadrillion worldwide]." In another word, your money at banks is no longer yours, and it will go to the "fat cat" banksters when the next money Ponzi scheme collapses.

Whatever you think of Trump, God has put him a position to save this country from destruction. In his word, God says he even uses ungodly rulers to serve his purposes. God foretold over a hundred years before Cyrus was born, that he would be used to over throw the Babylonian empire. The Jewish scribes showed Cyrus his name written in their ancient writings, and Cyrus was led to release the Jews to rebuild their temple. Isaiah 45:1 says:

"Cyrus is my anointed king. I take hold of his right hand . I give him the power to bring nations under his control. I help him strip kings of the power to go to war against him. I break city gates open so he can go through them..." As foretold, Cyrus broke through the Babylonian city walls and defeated Belshazzar, made famous in scripture depicting the hand writing on the wall which telling him of his defeat that very night.

God has appointed, against all odds, Trump for this time and place to prevent the New World Order and Antichrist system from over-coming the world. Trump is standing between globalist world tyranny. He can only succeed if We The People support him.

6. President Trump should be supported in his effort to stop the Muslim invasion of our country. All immigration from Muslim countries should be halted. The Islamic training camps (a reported 22 known camps) need to be eliminated and those individuals arrested and deported. [Note: One of these Muslim camps, named Islamberg in New York State, was just raided and found to harbor vast stores of weapons.] The FBI should be required to monitor all Mosques for subversive activities, and any Imams inciting violence against America should be imprisoned. Furthermore, the border wall needs to be built to prevent the cultural suicide of America. Most immigration, legal and illegal, needs to be halted to give our country time to resolve our economic holocaust.

7. Importantly, every soul needs to be spiritually prepared. As no one knows when they will die or the time of the proposed Rapture, the salvation of each of our eternal souls must be assured- assured by accepting and recognizing that the only name under heaven where a man might be saved, is in Jesus the Christ.

Note: America is not going to fall from outside forces but from Trojan forces with inside our nation. Abraham Lincoln said it best, saying:

“America will never be destroyed from the outside. If we falter and lose our freedoms, it will be because we destroyed ourselves.”

POSTSCRIPT

The purpose of writing this book was to awaken this nation, pastors, and especially Christians to the signs of the times. A great darkness is enveloping America and indeed the world. Prophecy has a dual purpose to prove God's existence and love. As God is patient and long-suffering, not wishing that any should perish—through prophecy He warns before sending judgment.

God so loved the world that He gave his only son Jesus as an atonement for each of our sins. It gives God no pleasure to send affliction unto a nation or its people; however, He must act to bring a repentance and return to his laws before sending judgment.

The goal expressed here is to show why this nation has reached this point in history. I have revealed who controls America; how it has happened; what are the problems we are facing; and lastly when this nation abandoned our Christian heritage. Americans have failed in their duty to protect our Constitution, Bill of Rights, and religious freedom. Our nation's churches have failed to be the salt that gives flavor to our culture.

I have tried to outline a plan to fight against the corruption, amorality, and insanity darkening our country. However, in my heart I believe it is too late. The Deep State forces embedded in our government, media, military, schools, and almost all our institutions has captured the nation.

Many Americans elected President Trump, believing he would save our country. Trump is only one man fighting against a Luciferian/socialist/Illuminati agenda initiated over 100 years ago. Yes, if Americans would rise up in mass and rebel against the tyranny swiftly casting its evil pall over the nation, perhaps there might be hope. However, I believe it will not happen.

If this last stated conclusion of failure to turn the tide is correct, then where is there any hope! As there is no secular solution to a spiritual problem, our only hope is in God. As stated earlier in the book, the nation's church leaders have failed us all. It is certainly not my intent to condemn our religious leaders, but instead is to awaken them.

Many Christians have lost hope. If they attend church at all, it's often because of tradition, social fellowship, or misplaced guilt. I was just listening to a sermon Online given by a well known (now deceased) pastor. He spoke of the many letters from people who could not find a church to attend in their area. Relating one family's story, the pastor told of their visiting 25 churches and yet found none with the feeling of the presence of God or the Holy Spirit. As I already mentioned, I too went 15 years not attending church for the same reason.

Our churches, for the most part, are spiritually dead as a result of ignoring the Holy Spirit's leading. Jesus, before his ascension into heaven, admonished the Apostles not to begin their ministry before receiving the Holy Spirit baptism. The Apostles, like Jesus had received water baptism but not yet the spiritual baptism. Each baptism is a separate event as seen by Jesus receiving his spiritual baptism in the form of a dove and the Apostles in the form of tongues of fire.

Today, most churches and denominations ignore the importance of the infilling of the Holy Spirit. The evidence of this baptism is demonstrated by certain gifts-speaking in tongues, prophecy, words of knowledge, discernment, and healing.

Many denominations believe these gifts were only for the Apostles and early church. So what is the truth concerning the baptism in the Holy Spirit? Let's go to Scriptures for an answer.

Acts 2:38 . Peter said to them, "Repent and each of you be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit."

Act 2:4. "And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other tongues as the spirit was given them utterance."

Acts 19:2. "He said to them, "Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed?" And they said to him, "No, we have not even heard whether there is a Holy Spirit."

Jude 1:20. "But you beloved, building yourselves up on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Spirit."

Ephesian 6:18. "With all prayer and petition pray at all times in the Spirit...."

Romans 8:26. "In the same way the Spirit helps our weakness for we do not know how to pray as we should, but the Spirit Himself intercedes for us with groaning too deep for words."

Luke 11:13. "If you then being evil, know how to give gifts to your children, how much more will your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask Him."

Micah 3:8. "..... I am filled with power with the Spirit of the Lord....."

Exodus 31:3. Moses said, "I [God] have filled him [Bezaleel] with the Spirit of God in wisdom in understanding, in knowledge, and in all kinds of craftsmanship."

Ephesians 6:18. The Apostle Paul says, "Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the spirit."

I Corinthians 14:18. "I [Paul] thank my God, I speak with tongues more than ye all. And in verse 14:39, Paul further says, "Wherefore, brethren, covet to prophecy and forbid not to speak with tongues."

Joel 2:28. "And it shall come to pass afterwards, [in latter days] I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and daughters shall prophecy; your old men shall dream dreams; your young men shall see visions."

Not long before his death in 2013, David Wilkerson of Time Square Church in NYC, in a sermon titled, "A Fresh Baptism of the Holy Spirit" quoted this passage from Joel concerning the last days. Wilkerson related that we are seeing this prophecy and the prophecies of all the prophets being fulfilled. This Latter Day rain will be given to renew the power of God's people to not be overwhelmed by the darkness of Satan overtaking the world. Doom and gloom will prevail and laughter removed from the earth, except for God's people.

I highly recommend that everyone reading this will listen to Wilkerson's anointed sermon by doing a web browser search for [youtube "a fresh baptism of the holy spirit" by Wilkerson.]

Isaiah 24:19-20. "The earth is utterly broken down, the earth is clean dissolved, the earth is moved exceedingly. The earth shall reel to and fro like a drunkard, and shall be removed like a cottage; and the transgression thereof shall be heavy upon it; and it shall fall, and not rise again."

In the coming days, the only hope will be in those who know their God and are filled with the Holy Spirit unto doing mighty wonders. The greatest outpouring of the power of God will be demonstrated in signs, wonders, miracles, healing, and manifestations of Jesus' true church. In all the turmoil, Spirit filled Christians, through their witness and testimony and acting in a peace that defies all understanding, will draw many unto Christ.

A "Great Shaking" is coming to the earth but hope will be in those with knowledge and faith in God for truly it is impossible to please God without faith. Christians without the baptism of the Holy Spirit will need to pray to receive the spiritual gifts promised by Jesus. Those already baptized in the Holy Spirit, will need to pray for a fresh anointing. All true believers must reject their carnal flesh and desires and selfish plans. One must be willing to follow the leading of the Spirit in unwavering faith, and then they will be able to perform the great miracles promised by Jesus when he said:

"I assure you; the one who believes in Me will also do the works that I do. And he will do even greater works than these, because I am going to the Father." John 14:12.

[Jesus meant He would send the Holy Spirit which occurred on Pentecost.]

In article at PatrickMorley.com titled "A Brief History of Spiritual Revival and Awakening in America", he says, "The first great revival in America occurred in 1734 led by Jonathan Edwards. His observers said, "It pleased God.... to display His sovereign mercy in the conversion of a great multitude of souls in a short space of time, turning them from a formal, cold, and careless profession of Christianity, to the lively exercise of every Christian grace, and the powerful practice of our holy religion."

Morley further listed more revivals in America's history. The last great revival beginning in 1947-1948 and led by men like Bill Wright of Campus Crusade for Christ and the worldwide evangelical movement led by Billy Graham.

Morley also stated in a question, "Is America Ripe for a Revival Today?" and said: "A majority of Americans believe our country is going downhill. Although a number of born again Christians have grown steadily, even when given that the state of moral and spiritual decay, [he wondered] how is this possible. The answer is simple. Christianity today is prevalent but not powerful. The solution is spiritual revival and awakening. Revival is an act of mercy and grace by God who responds to the prayers of His people."

Morley furthermore quoted Zach Kincaid from an article in Share Faith magazine, saying, "What is a revival? It is when the word of God is preached and invites attendees to receive the good news of Jesus for the first time or to come forward and recommit your life to the ways of faith..... What sparks a revival the Holy Spirit."

A call is going out to the nation for the last revival before Christ's soon return to establish His kingdom on earth. The true church will be restored to its true position meant by God before the fall of Adam and Eve. We will once again walk in the intimate relationship with God. The fleshly sin nature will finally be destroyed. The earth will pass away and be renewed to be as it was in the Garden of Eden

I pray for a revival following the lead of Lyn Leahz who is calling for a national revival and return to God. Please go to www.youtube.com/lynleahz and listen to her videos on Pentecostal 2018 Revival. I end this postscript with a prayer:

Almighty Father, awaken this nation to the great shaking that is coming. The last prophecies are swiftly being fulfilled. I pray that Americans and especially its pastors will repent and humble themselves before You. Send a revival to this nation. The end time is rapidly approaching. Time is short. Oh God, please wake up America!
